The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with the terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been afflicted with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Female Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Children with Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its components and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have been for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints), or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA."

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis of Agents) concerning the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

AN AMERICAN COLONY.

An Interesting correspondent of the Boston Times, in writing from the Bay of Fundy, thus describes a colony of American refugees:

Lac-Lowson is a point of great attraction for strangers as well as denizens. The village and hotel are situated upon a gentle slope in front of the beautiful lake which gives the village its name. On either side are extensive lawns of rich and luxuriant verdure, and on the east a park of natural growth, of several miles in circumference, thronged with the deer, the elk, and game of various kinds.

This place is made particularly interesting to New England politicians of the present day who visit New Brunswick, from the fact that the inhabitants of this beautiful parish furnish a perfect exemplification of the great principle of the American constitution—that all men are born free and equal—and their present condition is a practical illustration of the foresighted philanthropy of British statesmen.

The earliest history of this parish dates back to our last conflict with our mother country, and was settled principally by citizens of Virginia, who emigrated to New Brunswick by a little assistance from a celebrated British man-of-war. It has been said that the flourishing condition of these early colonists first suggested to the British Government the idea of liberty to the West Indian subjects. However there may be, they are an interesting people, and their acquaintance is worth cultivating, particularly for the information they are enabled to impart in the arts of husbandry, and for their intellectual improvement, as well as their elevated ideas of the blessing of liberty. There is but one thing to fear in relation to this people, and that is their loss of identification. Their proximity to the pure limpid fresh waters of the lake, and their frequent ablutions, are constantly lessening the sable hue of their physiognomy, and every year brings them nearer the complexion of their primitive neighbors.

If we understand the writer, in a few years years the negro traits will disappear, the white part of the country having absorbed the black. These negroes were slaves carried off from our coast in the war of 1812, and we believe paid for long ago, by the British government. Some of their descendants may possibly emigrate to the United States, become free, white citizens, and hold office. Who knows?

REVERENCE FOR RANK.—We have already given some particulars of a Mr. Carden, an Irish nobleman, who attempted to carry off a young woman by force; but failed in his object, and was arrested. The London Catholic Standard says:

The abduction case in Tipperary has ended in the conviction of Mr. Carden on the minor offence, and his being sentenced to two years imprisonment with hard labor. The sympathy, especially among the ladies, was decidedly in his favor; and his acquittal of the felony was received with loud cheering and waving of scented handkerchiefs. He has been already clothed in the prison attire and set to work. His address to the court before his sentence was pronounced was very creditable to his taste and judgment. He disclaimed all animosity to the prosecutrix and her relatives. The country people with their hereditary respect for 'blood,' say it is a pity so fine a gintleman of the ould stock should be locked up for one of her sort (alluding to the circumstance of Miss Arbuthnot's father having been an army clothier.) It appears that relays of horses were posted along the road to Galway, where a steamer was anchored in the bay, with steam up, to convey the parties from Ireland. The court declined to order the money and articles found in Mr. Carden's carriage to be given up for the present. His accomplices were liberated on their own bail.

If anything were wanting to show up the folly of "respect for blood," without merit, and in spite of worthlessness, this case is one in point. For here are the plebeians grumbling because a gentleman is punished in the least, for attempting the ruin of a woman, who, in their silly estimation, ranks just one grade below him.

POOR PROPERTY.—Steamboats to be used for the conveyance of passengers on the Hudson river, are becoming the poorest kind of property. These elegant boats, the Oregon and New World, are lying in the river, just below the Esopus Light House, the Francis Skiddy is opposite this place, in a similar condition, and the Empire lies in the creek below Fort Montgomery. Each of these vessels cost a large sum of money, and are still capable of several years good service, but lie idle and useless to rot, because it seems there is nothing they can do that will pay.—Among night boats running through, we believe the Isaac Newton and Hendrick Hudson are the only first class boats remaining, and they are as much devoted to freight as passengers, if not more so. No new passenger boats have been built in four years, and we suppose no more need be looked for.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1854.

For the Morning Chronicle.

THE CROPS.

Messrs. Editors:—I have taken some pains to examine the corn fields in this neighborhood, and think we shall get from one half to two thirds as much as we did last year. I have tried the potatoes also, and think we shall get as many sound potatoes as we did last year, if none should rot. It must be recollected that more than one half of the potatoes that grew last year in New Hampshire and Massachusetts rotted. It has been stated that there is no corn or potatoes of any consequence; and I have seen some pieces that will not yield five bushels to the acre, but I have seen others where there will be forty. I am pleased to say that our oats are one fourth part better this year than last, and hay one eighth better.

Some farmers don't acknowledge that they have got any more hay this year than last; but I cut one fifth more on the same land, and others have told me they did. Why should we not have more hay this year than last? We had more rain in June and July, or at any rate the showers were more frequent, especially in July. It takes very wet weather indeed, and very warm weather, to make grass grow in the fields, when farmers are getting twenty dollars per ton for their hay, and want forty for it. Now if there is a half crop of corn and potatoes, and a better crop of hay and oats than we had last year, we farmers had better acknowledge it, for the most of us are obliged to buy corn every year, and what farmers here say has nothing to do with the price. The fact is, farmers don't mean to speak falsely when they say their corn is all dried up, and their potatoes not worth digging; they mean they expect to get about half of a crop.

I was in Massachusetts a few days since, and saw as nice looking potatoes as I ever saw; but I find the old farmers there who wear blue frocks and have potatoes to sell, tell about the same story that our farmers do here. You ask them if they expect to have many potatoes this year, and they will look old enough to put one in mind of Old Mortality, and say, "not but a very few; hardly worth digin."

Some of our farmers plant potatoes on land that is so poor that there is danger the wind will blow the soil away if they don't plow it and turn the larger stones on the top of it; and they hope to get large potatoes. This is rather a dry season for that kind of land;—however, they have been out trying them, turning the stones over and looking for potatoes under them, and because they cannot find any, they go about exclaiming the ground is all burning up. Well, perhaps it is, but I guess there is a little moisture left in the Atlantic Ocean yet; and we shall have rain in abundance by and by.

I will just say to those who haven't much money, the coming year will be like the extraction of a tooth, worse to think of than to bear.

Let us be honest, prudent, industrious and hopeful; we shall yet have enough and to spare, as a whole. And if any lack, let the able be also liberal, as good stewards of the bounties of our Heavenly Father. W.

THE DROUGHT has been greatly relieved in the West, and the papers now say that the damage to the crops has been over estimated. We shall have corn enough for bread, though perhaps not enough for whiskey. A despatch says:—

Advices from Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia, speak favorably of the corn crops, and throughout most of the Western States there have been rains, which have greatly improved their condition. The indications now are, that, taking the country through, the yield will not be much below a fair average.

The Cheraw (S. C.) Gazette of Wednesday week says:

It is almost suffocatingly hot. Rain continues abundant, though not enough so to increase alarm for the river crops.

The Georgetown (S. C.) Times of Wednesday says:—

The heaviest fall of rain since 1839, was on Friday night last, when there was a fall of 2 1-2 inches of rain in three hours, completely deluging the neighborhood. It did not extend more than fifteen miles up the country, hence no fear of a freshet. It was a seashore rain, and not general.

CAUTION TO DRIVERS AND TO ENGINEERS.—When approaching a railroad crossing, every driver should come to a halt in order to ascertain if a train is near, as it often happens that the bell or whistle is not heard while the carriage is in motion. Engineers should not cross a public road without reducing the speed to at most ten miles an hour, and should give an alarm at least a minute before crossing.—The Watertown Branch train came very near crushing a carriage and passengers, yesterday afternoon, while going at the rate of about thirty miles an hour,—the driver in the carriage not hearing the bell, although it was heard by others while the train was crossing the road.—Boston Courier.

GOING HOME.—One hundred and eighty persons, mostly Irish, sailed in the Chariot of Fame, which left this port on the 25th ult.—We cannot wonder that they leave a country, where they expected a happy home, and return again to the old land. The persecution of old England is nothing compared to the treatment a large number of the Irish receive in the New England States. Better to starve in Ireland than to come to New England to be persecuted and abused.—Boston Pilot.

Almost all emigrants are more or less disappointed; and it is no wonder that a few hundred return, out of the hundreds of thousands who come hither from Ireland. If the Pilot's statement be true, then the "persecution of old England" has been dreadfully belied.

We consider the influence of their priests as the worst feature in the lot of the Irish immigrant into New England. Their instructions nourish the spiritual pride of the devout but ignorant Irish catholic, and teach him to look with contempt on those religious and educational peculiarities which have made New England a refuge to which the Irishman can flee, and in which he might be a happy man, if he would be an American in feeling and action. But so long as he lets his priest do his thinking, keep his children out of the free schools, and make him deaf to every word of improvement,—so long he must expect the descendants of the Puritans to oppose his prejudices, laugh at his folly, and perhaps persecute or despise him, when he really deserves their pity. We hate persecution—but we often see it invited—almost provoked.

The New York Mirror says:—"The Protestant Irish are forming a Know-Nothing Lodge in this city."

The Protestant Irish have Orange or Know-Nothing lodges in all our large cities. The rules, regulations and oaths of the Know-Nothings are principally made up from those of the Orange lodges.—Pilot.

Where did you get that, Mr. Pilot? You seem to have a fund of information concerning matters with which you cannot be personally acquainted. The initiation ceremony of the "Know Nothings" as published in the same number of the Pilot, has been posted as fabulous by the Richmond Examiner, the paper in which it was first published.

THE FALLEN CHURCH.—The Louisville Journal says, of the church there destroyed by the tornado—

With scarcely the least warning to the congregation the side walls of the house were pressed inwards, causing the loss of many lives, and the injury of many persons. The church was to have been dedicated next Sabbath.

Of course it was new;—but we do not see it stated whether it was of wood, brick or stone.

DRUNKEN SCENES IN THE POLICE COURT, BOSTON.—During the past few weeks, the approaches to the Police Court have been daily blocked up by a most heathenish looking crew—ugly men and uglier women—who form interested and unsightly groups around the pillars of the long hall, talking a wild jargon, and discussing the merits of some cause within, in which a parent, or a brother, or a "boy from the same place" is, perchance, the defendant. The charge against the prisoner is either drunkenness or one of the incidents of that habit. If the accused is convicted—as ten to one he is—up goes a shout of wailing and down falls a shower of tears; but if he should chance to be acquitted, his "friends" surround him, escort their darling, who has just been made a "marther," to the nearest groggery, where the defeat of the officers is celebrated over mean rum. Thus the seeds of a new day's display are sown, and on the morrow there is another crowd at the Court House.

Something should be done to break up this morning show—this exhibition without license—this procession of barbarism—this crew of sotted idlers—whose only ambition seems to be to create a prejudice against their countrymen and to break the peace of the community which is outraged by their presence.—The experiment of imposing fines has been well tried and it has failed. It is hard to prescribe a cure for all this; but since there is a disease, would it not be well to put the probe to the seat of the disorder? Break up the groggeries and prosecute the keepers of them. They are the chief sinners and disturbers of the peace. Their traffic can be carried on only by the debasement of men and the violation of law. Let the officers, then, turn upon the real offenders. Let them arrest and bring to justice the Paddy Whacks and the Widow Malones, whose dingy grog shops are flourishing in almost every part of the city.—Courier.

We are glad to see this: it looks hopeful.—But do tell us, is the groggery the real seat of the disorder? Is not the origin of the difficulty, the fountain of the evil, in a somewhat higher place?

Break up the Paddy Whacks, by all means, but don't stop there. Every man, great or small, who mingles in the consumption or manufacture of the root of this evil, is a partaker of its moral effects as well as the meanest "widow Malone" in the city of Boston.

One may be more or less genteel than the other; but that is all the difference.

The Salem Observer in speaking of the Muster held in that city last week, says:

The Muster is over, and we believe all well disposed citizens are heartily glad of it. Such displays always have a tendency to draw a large and mixed multitude, and though good order has prevailed at the encampment, we were sorry to see so much intemperance and lewdness, as was visible in many parts of our city.

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM CONVENTION.—The Rockingham Convention of Universalists met at Raymond on Wednesday, and the exercises continued through that day and Thursday.—There was a full attendance of ministers and delegates, and good audiences were present at all the public services, which were held in the Methodist Church, kindly loaned for the occasion. The case of Rev. S. S. Fletcher was referred to a committee mutually chosen, who are to investigate the charges or statements against him, and report at a future meeting.

☞ The Concord Reporter informs us that the fire at Suncook was discovered at half past four o'clock on Thursday morning, in the three story building of Mr. John Tennant.

The force pumps of the factory contributed largely towards arresting the flames. Engines Nos. 2 and 4, of Concord, went down, but the fire was extinguished before they arrived. For so small a village, this fire was most disastrous. Some $20,000 worth of property was destroyed, on which there was about $7000 insurance.

UNIVERSALIST STATISTICS.—The Universalist Companion and Almanac for 1855, gives the following correct statistics of that denomination:

In 29 States and Territories of the Union, there are 19 State Conventions, beside 16 State Associations for denominational action, in Tract, Education, Missionary or other operations; 83 Associations (governmental) beside 6 connected with them for other purposes; 15 Periodicals, beside 4 Annuals; 24 volumes of denominational books published since our last issue; 14 schools, wholly or mainly under our patronage, including the new College, near Boston; 1113 Churches or Societies, not including churches organized with a society; 859 houses of worship owned wholly or in part by Universalists; and 646 preachers of the Restitution in connection, formal or implied.

These are united to our General or U. S. Convention, to which is attached a General Reform Association and a National Historical Society.

BRITISH PROVINCES.—One Association, 17 Societies, 8 meeting houses, and 5 preachers.

TOTAL FOR NORTH AMERICA.—One General Convention, one Reform Association and one Historical Society (national;) 19 State or Territorial Conventions, and 16 other State bodies; 84 Associations, and 6 local bodies constituted by delegations; 15 Periodicals, beside 4 Annuals; 14 Schools; 1130 Churches or Societies; 867 meeting houses and 751 preachers.

The Special Election at Washington to fill a vacancy in the Common Council, was very closely contested and was attended with much excitement. The successful candidate was Rev. Chas. A. Davis, a Methodist preacher, who had 300 votes, against 293 for Luther M. Smoot, who was supported by the "Know Nothings." At the Mayor's election the vote was larger, being 869 in all. Mr. Davis was cheered by his friends, and made a speech, in which he said "he viewed the result as a test of principle, and not of friendship, having thrown out his banner with the inscription of civil and religious and constitutional liberty on its folds."

Why don't somebody get frightened at the idea of this minister's shooting out of his sphere?

MILLERISM AND THE BURNING FOREST.—Private accounts from Maine state that in the vicinity of some of the burning forests, quite a number of persons, chiefly females, have become insane, in consequence of excitement, the result of a belief that the general conflagration in the woods there is a sign of the speedy ending of the world in accordance with the prediction of the Millerites. Some of them have been taken to the State Asylum.—Traveller.

FALL IN THE PRICE OF BEEF.—The Albany Express says:—Beef must be cheap ere long. Owners are crowding their cattle to market, being compelled to, in consequence of the scarcity of crops and the inability of wintering stock. The droves constantly passing through the city, as a general thing, betoken scant diet and are in poor flesh and condition. Some cattle have been sold in this city for actually less than the cost, adding feed, of getting them here. Beef, such as it is, will flood the market.

From Barbadoes, &c.—Barbadoes dates are to the 10th of August.—Cholera scarcely exists as an epidemic, though cases had occurred up to the last day or two. The island wears a more cheerful aspect; laborers are busily at work, and the shops in Bridgetown were being thronged with customers.

The total number of deaths from cholera on the Island was set down at 18,000. The "West Indian" says the loss is not discoverable in the business parts of the city. The number of deaths among the military was 355.

The reported existence of cholera at Grenada is fully confirmed. Up to August 4th the deaths amounted to 3000, or very near a tenth of the population, and this within a period of forty-four days. At the latest dates the epidemic was on the decrease.

At St. Lucia, cholera deaths had reached 350.

St. Vincent, Tobago, Trinidad and Demarara were healthy.

St. Mary's College, near Lebanon, Marion co., Ky.—We have received the catalogue giving an account of the distribution of premiums at this institution, which evinces a degree of progress highly creditable to the Faculty and Students. This Literary Institution, founded in 1821, by the Rev. William Byrne, and subsequently conducted for many years by the Jesuits, is now under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop of Louisville, who will always take means to provide a suitable Faculty for carrying it on with a view to promote the greatest good. Under the auspices of its previous conductors, the Institution has been instrumental in widely diffusing the blessings of a religious education throughout Kentucky and the adjoining States.—Pilot.

Important seizure of smuggled goods.—New York, Sept. 1.—Information having been received at the Custom House that certain persons would arrive per steamer Washington and attempt to smuggle a large quantity of diamonds, jewelry, &c. a strict watch was set by the authorities, the officers boarding her at quarantine. Suspicion soon fell upon two German Jews, and upon searching the person of one of them, jewelry to the value of $15,000 was discovered secreted in a belt around his waist, and in various parts of his clothing.—The names of the parties are withheld. More developments and further seizures are being anticipated.

Loss by the Fire in Troy.—The Troy Whig of Monday last, in alluding to the great fire in that city, says: After a careful examination and estimate, and comparing figures with those well qualified to form a correct opinion on the subject, we feel fully warranted in saying that the loss by the fire, exclusive of the lumber district, will fall but a fraction, if anything, below three quarters of a million of dollars; that the loss by the destruction of lumber will prove to be over rather than under two hundred and fifty thousand dollars." The total amount of insurance on the property destroyed, as far as has been made public, is $255,000.

The Church in France.—On the 22d inst., Miss Mary Thompson, a young American lady, received the white veil in the Ursaline Convent of Auch from the hands of the archbishop. Miss Thompson is of a highly respectable Protestant family of New Hampshire, and in her contemplated change of religion she experienced the most decided opposition from her relatives. But having finally decided on embracing Catholicity, she was, in 1847, baptised by the Right Rev. Dr. Purcell, Bishop of Cincinnati, being then in her twentieth year. She was received into the pious community of Ursulines at Auch under the name of Sister Mary of St. Edmond.—Boston Pilot.

Who is she? What young daughter of New Hampshire could fancy becoming a nun or joining the Shakers? Well; there is no disputing about tastes.

Fire in the Woods.—In Ohio, the pine swamps west of Hudson have been burning for several weeks. The meadows, to the extent of several hundred acres, have been burned out to the depth of four feet, and will, when the swamps fill with water, become a lake. The fire would commence eating under whole acres, when, finding vent, it would burst out furiously, consuming every thing within reach. President Pierce, of Hudson College, went to the swamp to view the scene, when he saw several large trees, apparently on solid ground, tumbling as though caused by an earthquake. The fire broke out all around, and he narrowly escaped with his life. The inhabitants of the vicinity were in a state of great consternation.

Buffalo, Aug. 30.—A party of 125 emigrants from New England, for Kanzas, went up the Lake last night. They take with them six engines from Dorchester and some patent grist mills from this city, and left in good health and spirits.

The Fillibusters.—Gen. Quitman publishes a long and severe letter in the New Orleans Delta in reply to Judge Campbell's, charge against fillibusters. He accuses the Judge of prejudice and falsehood, and makes no denial of his connection with fillibusters.

The Gold Dollar.—The Charlestown Mercury, after expressing its regret that the Secretary of the Treasury has sanctioned the emission of a new gold dollar coin from the Philadelphia mint, says very correctly that the gold dollar of the first coinage has now been in circulation long enough to test it, and we have never heard it spoken of by a human creature in terms even of toleration. It circulates, to be sure, with great rapidity, but for the same reason that a doubtful bank note is kept flying; There could not possibly be a more inconvenient coin, unless by some Lilliputian machinery they should contrive to fabricate a still smaller one.

Shame.!—The neighborhood of the Methodist Camp meeting at East Brookfield, was as much infested with gamblers and rumsellers, as the vicinity of a military encampment.

Mr. S. Gilbert,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compounding proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Current and universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several unscrupulous Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-similar of the Manufacturers' name.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and the superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

COALITION.—L. D. Wilkinson, Esq. of Saco, who was nominated by the liberal or liquor party for congress in the first district in Maine, has declined, in a spicy card. He withdraws principally because his running might be the means of the election of John M. Wood, the "whig ramrod abolition candidate," and says he shall do all he can to secure the election of Judge WELLS, the democratic candidate. Mr. Wilkinson says he is opposed to the Maine law because it is a violation of American principles and detrimental to the cause of temperance. He will also do his best to defeat the election of Albion K. Parris for governor, and to promote that of Shepard Cary. As to the Nebraska Kansas bill, he says he is opposed to its repeal, and believes that without the principle of self-government therein inculcated, there would be but little of American institutions left. So the tug in this district will be between only two candidates for congress—democracy on one side, and federal whiggery on the other, with its hideous train, Sectionalism, Fanaticism and Mammon. —Boston Post.

SLANDER SUIT AGAINST A CLERGYMAN.—For a few days past, according to the Boston Mail, a suit for slander has been in progress before the Justices' Court against the Rev. Wm. T. Smithett, Rector of Christ Church, preferred by Wm. P. Parrott, one of the wardens. A misunderstanding arose between the vestry and the wardens relative to certain deeds of pews which the vestry at one of their meetings passed a vote should be signed by the wardens and delivered to persons therein mentioned. Mr. Smithett, being one of the committee appointed for the purpose, presented the deeds at a meeting of the wardens on the 29th of June. Mr. Parrott unceremoniously put she papers in his pocket, whereupon Mr. Smithett vented his feelings in the following language, as charged in the complaint:

He (meaning defendant) has committed theft. I will take my oath before Almighty God, that he (meaning defendant) has committed a theft and has my property.

Upon this ground Mr. Parrott has brought an action of slander against the Rector, laying his damages at $100.

The Newcastle Eng. Chronicle hears of our old friend the sea-serpent. An old man in that district was the other day astonished to see, as he conceived, a hairy serpent, crawling along the road; and gathering up a handful of stones, he commenced an attack upon the dangerous visitor. No notice appeared to be taken of the missiles, and the old man then mustered courage sufficient to approach a little nearer, and put his foot on his tail. Emboldened by its continued quiet, he made a vigorous snatch at it, and succeeded in carrying the ferocious monster home. It proved to be a valuable boa, which had been dropped just before by a lady who had driven by in a gig. He had never seen anything of the kind.

THE KANZAS EMIGRANTS.—The company of sixty-seven emigrants which left Boston on Tuesday afternoon, on the route to Kanzas, were joined at Worcester, as we learn from the Worcester Spy, by twenty-one of the enterprising and industrious mechanics of Worcester county. Five or six hundred persons assembled at the station to bid them farewell, and three hearty cheers were given by the assemblage as the train passed from the depot. At Albany there was a public reception of this party, and it was joined by fifty more from the vicinity of New York.—Boston Courier.

If the Know Nothings perform half the work laid out for them this fall, they will have their hands full. First they are to elect Mr. Banks as Governor—then Mr. Wilson—then Mr. S. C. Phillips. All these gentlemen have been promised that office through the aid of the Know Nothings; and what is stranger still, by persons who know nothing about the doings of the Know Nothings. Besides these three Governors, there are half a score of Lieutenant Governors, and so many members of Congress that we can't count them without cutting notches in a stick.—Salem Journal.

DANGEROUS MODE OF DETECTING WINE THIEVES.—The Boston Mail tells of a French butler, in a Beacon street family, who was poisened by drinking some wine in which the master and mistress of the house had placed tartar of antimony, with the intent of punishing those who stole the wine. The butler did not steal any, but was asked to drink some by the cook. He is now seriously ill, and has commenced a suit for $50,000 damages.

The Bridgeport Standard says Mr. Henry Edwards of that place, has a cat that took possession of a hen's nest, and after having added three to the number or her own species, hatched out a chicken from an egg that had been left in the nest, and now divides her maternal care between her kittens and the chick, mewing and clucking alternately. Of course it is supposed to be something Barnum has had in training towards the production of a full fledged curiosity.

There lives at Grand Lake, New Brunswick, a man 96 years of age, who reads the newspapers printed on the finest type, and is waited upon by a great-great-grand-daughter 18 years of age, who is but three feet and three fourths of an inch tall. He has a granddaughter who is four feet eight inches high, and weighs 286 pounds. She cannot stand upon her feet more than thirty minutes at one time.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1854.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BOSTON, Sept. 1, 1854.

Messrs. Editors:—"The summer is over and gone," and with it the scorching sun and parched earth; the heavens of brass and the earth of iron which we have looked upon so long, have had their day. This first day of autumn, has ushered in the prayed for rain, and as it gently falls, the thirsty ground drinks it in with an eagerness that tells the tale of its sufferings, and people congratulate one another on the enjoyment of a rare pleasure, a rainy day.

Our good city, having lain dormant for some weeks past, owing to the wanderings of many citizens on seashores and mountains, is again putting on its working dress for another season of labor. People hope for, rather than expect a good fall trade; it is a hard year for business; a harder year than many who look only at the apparent progress of things, have any idea of. Our strongest houses are trembling, and some have fallen; among the latter have been those of undoubted credit, whose solvency no one thought of questioning, and yet the pressure of the times, from causes unknown, except to those behind the scenes, have driven them to their last resources, and broken them down. We may not, I hope we shall not, experience such overwhelming results as were seen in '37; but when the coming storm has passed, the "wreck of matter" will make another era in our commercial history.

We are also approaching the season of amusements; for in spite of two per cent. shares or suspension of payments, the pocket somehow or other answers drafts in favor of pleasure. The arrangements the coming season for amusements are on a larger scale than ever before attempted in Boston. For concert rooms there are three, all modern and adapted to almost any purpose; the Music Hall is the finest of its kind in the country, and for the production of Oratorios, which particularly suit the tastes of our people, is unsurpassed. In no city are musical entertainments of the highest and most scientific character so fully appreciated and generously patronized; the young grow up amid the concord of sweet sounds; it has become a part of the educational system, and its gratifying influence diffuses itself through all the phases of society.

Of theatricals, our hopes rest on the Boston Theatre, now being completed. It seems nothing will be wanting to make this place of amusement stand at the head of theatres.—The project was conceived and carried out by the right sort of men, who have a pride in the matter, and a belief in the fact that a first class theatre, freed from the objections that have always been attached to such places, will be a public benefit, bearing alike upon the business and morality of a community. The pursuit of pleasure is one of the strongest elements of our nature, and if not catered for by a judicious public, individuals, especially youth, are inclined to seek for it themselves, and perhaps may not be over scrupulous as to the means employed, so long as they produce the desired result.

A large portion of the pleasure travel this summer has been drawn toward Rye Beach and the Shoals. I have seen a number of persons who for the first time visited these places the past season, and all agree in pronouncing them the most attractive places of resort on the coast. The absence of those rigorous rules of fashion that govern so completely the older watering places, combined with conveniences, attractions and accommodations unsurpassed, have given these places a popularity and a preference that Saratoga and Newport may envy.

The suburbs of Portsmouth are yet to be appreciated by the travelling community seeking for recreation and pleasure. When Rye Beach, the Shoals, Kittery Point and Cape Neddock, become known as they deserve, the summer weather will drive thousands to revel amid scenes of which they had no previous conception. SAGAMORE.

LOVE AND SUICIDE.—The Boston Herald says that Miss Augusta Lord, of Berwick, Me., committed suicide on Friday morning by drowning. It is supposed that this is another of those cases where unrequited love has driven a susceptible young person to despair and self-destruction.

FIRE IN ALLENSTOWN WOODS.—To-day a tremendous fire is raging in Allenstown woods, and John Tenant, the largest loser in the Suncook fire, was obliged to leave that to look after his wood lands in that town. Between 200 and 300 cords of his wood were burnt yesterday, and to-day the fire is raging with much more fury.—Manchester Mirror, August 31.

THE ERICSSON.—The Journal of Commerce says in place of the recent motor of the Ericsson, a pair of approved and very economical boilers are to be put in, and that the work will be done in about eight weeks, when she will take her place amongst our steamers.

JAPAN COOKERY.

An American officer writes from Japan to the New York Observer, an interesting description of the peculiarities of that people.—It may be left to philosophers and speculators to discuss and predict the influence upon commerce and humanity, which the opening of certain ports in that empire may produce. A part of the letter gives a bill of fare at a feast given by the Japanese to the Americans. Both parties were confounded at the varieties offered at their respective feasts. It would be difficult to determine which supassed the other, as it would be to decide which was most conformable to good taste and epicurism.

Read then, ye people of Portsmouth, Rye and Hampton, ye who gather moss for mange and sea weed for manure, to what uses kelp and eel grass may be put; and when the next sailor among your boys ships for Japan, tell him to bring home directions for cooking "seaweed in fine threads," "sea-weed in sugar," "boiled sea-weed." Then let the land dry up, the depths of the ocean will send to your shores, esculents and luxuries that now "waste their sweetness on the desert air." E.

"The Japanese Commissioners to-day were in good spirits at the conclusion of their negotiations by the signing of the treaty; and I suspect are relieved of no little anxiety. It would give us almost an entire insight into the policy of this insular empire, if we only knew all the deliberations which have been held among its princes and statesmen, since the delivery of President Fillmore's letter last July. They gave the American officers on shore a dinner, such as the small towns around could furnish, they said, when apologizing for its inferiority to the one given them on board. The courses were only five, consisting of the following articles, brought on in small lacquered tables, the plates and cups also being mostly lacquered ware, set before each one, with a pair of chop-sticks to help himself withal. Tea in china-ware cups, candy tied in the form of a bow-knot, and sponge cake, formed the first course. Raw oysters, mushroom and fish soup in lacquered bowls, boiled pears in slices, sea-weed cooked in sugar, hard boiled eggs pressed together, and then cut into long slips in a pretty alternation of yolk and white, and raw ginger, made up the second course. Boiled mushrooms, boiled walnuts and sea-weed, bream fish, large crawfish, sliced fish, blancmange with the word (shau) "longevity" written on it in red, bean soup with greens shrimps and sliced fish, formed the third course, the previous dishes being left standing. Fish soup, a kind of long yam grown to hold the same place as our potatoes, sea-weed in fine threads, boiled bamboo, boiled chestnuts, and onions, composed the fourth. Rice boiled plain, taro, greens, and some unknown articles made up the conclusion, hot and cold saki or spirits, being supplied all the while. The people eat but little animal food, yet one hardly knows how they use all the wheat and barley seen growing in the fertile fields near here, for we see very little of it eaten. Everything which comes from the water finds a market, but cattle, sheep, poultry, hogs and goats are seldom used for food. Deer are plenty, and wild fowl, but to what extent they support life of man we do not know."

THE BRANDY VINTAGE.—A letter from Cognac of Aug. 16, states that the weather was very fine, but the harm to the crops had been done. "Our vintage will be, this year, very small, especially when all the wines generally used for home consumption are taken away from the still. We consider a rise quite certain, chiefly as most of our brandies belong to wealthy farmers who are not in a hurry to sell."

No great matter. Our manufacturers of liquors, in New York City, and elsewhere, can make a brandy that will pass very well among ordinary drinkers, and perhaps intoxicate as quickly and last as long as the genuine article.

A PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW IN CANADA.—The Montreal Pilot says that a resolute effort is now being made by the advocates of temperance in the Canadian provinces for the enactment of a law to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks. The probability is that the effort will be successful, for when the proposition was last brought before Parliament it was lost by but a single vote, and since then a large number of candidates have pledged themselves that if a sufficient number of petitions are presented to show the unequivocal approval of the people, a majority of members will vote for the law. Thus the enactment of the law depends chiefly upon the people.

The London Times of the 15th contains a leading article on the Greytown affair. The Times says that:—"Property to the amount of $500,000 was destroyed, a great part of which certainly belonged to American merchants, and some part to British and other European houses. As the destruction of this property could have no connection with the offence imputed to the authorities of the place, the owners of it have a complete and irresistible case for indemnity against the United States government, especially as the property was deposited there under the safeguard of a positive treaty between Great Britain and the United States, and no notice was given to enable the persons interested to provide against this calamity."

Other English Journals have some characteristic remarks upon the Greytown affair, but they amount to nothing as regards importance.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The Washington correspondent of the Courier & Enquirer writes:—

A Mr. Armstrong, defeated as Democratic candidate for Governor of Iowa, has been appointed third auditor, in place of Burt, promoted to be Governor of Nebraska.

The New York Tribune has reduced the size of its sheet, owing to the calamitous depression in all kinds of business.

LOCAL.

A QUESTION ANSWERED.—In answer to our question "Who is she?" we are informed that our Nun from New Hampshire, Miss Mary Thompson, who has lately taken the veil at a convent in France, is a native of our neighboring town of Durham, and obtained the necessary papers for her protection abroad, at the Custom House in this city. Her parents, both deceased, were excellent people, and the whole connexion respectable. It is suggested (not improbable) that disappointment of a cherished affection sent the young lady to that refuge so common in novels, a convent.

☞ We understand that the Middle street Baptist Society and Sabbath School propose holding a Pic-nic at Raymond on Tuesday next, if the weather is favorable. The cars will leave the Portsmouth station at 11 1-2 o'clock A. M., and returning will reach this city at 7 1-2, P. M.

ALARM IN CHURCH.—During the forenoon service in the Stone Church, on Sunday, the audience were startled by a sudden crash in the entry; a portion of the congregation arose, and with anxious faces started for the doors, creating for a few moments considerable confusion. The noise was soon ascertained to be caused by the fall of a piece of the plastering about four feet square from the ceiling, which falling from a great height, caused a loud report. The audience (with the exception of a few frightened ones) having become re-seated, the pastor proceeded with his sermon.

☞ We learn that E. Freeman Whitehouse, the celebrated Tenor of Dodge's Bards, has nearly completed his arrangements for the formation of a new Concert Company, to be called "Whitehouse's Troupe," and will soon commence his winter campaign. They will probably visit us during the season.

☞ Jacob L. Dennett, formerly of this town, who has been in jail in Dover for Swindling, has been sentenced by the Strafford Co. Court of Common Pleas, to one year in the State Prison. He pleaded nol con to the charge.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—A question has been raised whether the reciprocity treaty can go into effect before the Legislatures of all the Provinces have given their assent. The clause in the treaty having a bearing upon this question, is as follows:

"The present treaty to take effect as soon as the laws required to carry it into operation shall have been passed by the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain, and by the Provincial Parliaments of those of the British North American Colonies which are affected by this treaty on the one hand, and by the Congress of the United States on the other," &c.

The Toronto (Canada West) Globe says:

"We think the treaty cannot go into effect until all the high contracting parties have given their consent. Even, for instance, if Canada and Great Britain had passed the bills, American articles could not be admitted into this Province, or Canadian articles into the States, until New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, have likewise agreed. It is a treaty made with all these.—Newfoundland alone has the option of refusing without breaking up the arrangement."

This is a very plausible view of the question, inasmuch as we cannot reap our full share of the benefit of the treaty until it is confirmed by all the Provinces. If Canada and New Brunswick, for instance, concur, and Nova Scotia refuses to come into the arrangement, we should still be shut out from the most important fishery grounds, the opening of which was one of the great objects of the treaty.—Boston Courier.

The Toronto Globe is correct. The paragraph quoted, bears on its construction, fully, and will not properly bear any other.

STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.—Cincinnati, Sep. 1st.—A few days since, just after the steamer "Timour No. 2" had landed her passengers at Edward's Yard, near Jefferson City, Mo. her boilers exploded, scattering death and destruction around, and leaving the boat a total wreck. At the latest accounts, six persons were lying on the shore dead, and it was supposed that 15 or 16 others were thrown overboard and drowned. About 17 persons were scalded and otherwise injured. The injured men are principally deck hands. Two of the boilers were thrown on the railroad track, and the other into the river. The hull was breaking up, and few of the goods will be saved.—The engineers of the boat gave bonds in the sum of $4000 to answer any charge of misconduct or negligence.

DOUGLAS AT HOME.—Chicago, Sept. 1st.—The flags of the shipping in our harbor were displayed at half mast at noon to day, expressive of indignation of Senator Douglas's opposition to the River and Harbor bill, and the bells have been tolling all the afternoon. He speaks at the North Market Hall to-night, and there is much excitement throughout the city.

MEXICAN NEWS.—New Orleans papers of Saturday last contain the details of the Mexican news to the 22d August.

The Mexican papers positively assert that Count Boulbon was shot.

Santa Anna had issued a decree, enabling the religious orders to avail themselves of the civil tribunals to enforce the monks and clergy to an adherence to their vows.

By the last English packet, a dividend was remitted to the English holders of Mexican bonds.

NOVEL SCENE.—The ex-Postmaster of Boston is in Germany. He sends home an account of a dinner to a railway congress, at which a locomotive appeared upon the table, to which was attached a train loaded with dishes of the choicest and most solid food.—The succulent train advanced slowly, in imitation of the passenger trains upon all German roads. After having made the tour of the table without stopping, in order to give a view of the good things with which it was freighted, the train again started, making a station in front of each guest, and permitting him to fill his plate, according to his appetite and fancy. The trains followed each other in constant succession for two or three hours, departing each time well loaded with comestibles, and returning empty to the depot. This is just the thing for an American eating table, where the fashion is, according to English authority, to gulp everything with railroad speed.

HOPS of 1853 growth—for sale by

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—The Salt Lake Mail arrived to-day. Peace had been established between the people of Salt Lake City and all the tribes of the Utahs, Gov. Young having concluded a treaty with all the chiefs. The health of the country was good, rain has been more abundant than ever before, and a much larger quantity of land was under cultivation.

On the 13th of June a heavy storm of rain and hail spread over the greater portion of the valley, and did considerable injury. Grass was scarce, owing to the large amount of cattle driven over the plains to California, estimated at 150,000 head this season.

Four thousand persons had gone to Salt Lake this season. Many complaints are made of outrages by the Pawnee Indians. A teamster named French Wood had been killed in broad daylight, and 700 head of sheep driven off. A great number of horses, sheep and mules, were passed on the road.

The Santa Fe mail of the 1st ult. has arrived, but brings no news of importance. The crops in New Mexico were good. The trains experienced no trouble from the Indians.

A band of Camaches was met at the crossing of the Arkansas. They sent to the camp for provisions, which they obtained, and departed peacefully.

After passing Fort Kearney, the country showed signs of heat and drought. Water was difficult to be had. Buffaloes were numerous all over the plains.

New York, September 1.—The Chemical Bank was defrauded out of $9000 yesterday.

A man, giving the name of James Bishop, opened a small account with the bank, a few days ago, and on Wednesday last deposited a certified check for $16,000, purporting to be drawn by James Thompson on the American Exchange Bank. On the day he made the deposit he drew out the sum of $9000, and the check for $16,000, after having been honored by the American Exchange Bank, was found to be a forgery. The swindler has made his escape.

The Auction Sales for Tickets for Gristi anc Mario's first appearance took place at Castle Garden this afternoon. The attendance was large. The first choice of seats was knocked down to a Mr. Contts for $250 premium. Who the gentleman is, did not transpire. Over three thousand seats sold at a premium ranging from $20 to $25. The whole amount of the seats, including their first cost, was near $15,000.

A Destructive Storm in Virginia.—We learn from the Petersburg (Va.) Express that the upper end of Dinwiddie County, in Virginia, was visited on the afternoon of the 27th inst. by a terrific rain and hail storm accompanied by thunder and lightning. The rain fell in torrents. The growing crop of tobacco was annihilated by the hail, and the corn literally cut to pieces. In front of Rocky Run Church a carriage was standing, occupied by Mr. Edward A. Davis and several female members of his family. During the storm the horses attached to the carriage were killed by a stroke of lightning, and the driver, who was standing at their heads, was severely though not fatally burned. No others were injured. This storm was probably identical with the one which passed over Louisville on the same day, and which was attended with such a mournful loss of life.

Priestly Assaults.—We find the following item in the Irish news of the Boston Pilot, under the head of County Kerry. This shows the priest up as a voluntary police who fights the delinquent.

Priest-Hunting.—Searly v. O'Sullivan.—This was an action for assault and battery, brought by a shoemaker, living in Killorglan, to recover damages from the defendant, who is the Catholic clergyman of that village.

The case sworn by the plaintiff was, that he was "quizzing and flirting" with some other young men and young girls on the evening of Easter Sunday last, the 16th of April, when the defendant committed the assault complained of; while on the part of the Rev. Mr. O'Sullivan, it was sworn that the conduct of the plaintiff was most indecent in the public streets, and that the reverend defendant was, as a clergymen, justified in interfering, as the guardian of morality.

The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff £25 damages, and 6d. costs.

The Lascars, some thirty in number, who were brought to Boston by Capt. Reed, of the ship Queen of the Pacific, were taken before the Police Court upon a "charge" preferred by the Overseers of the Poor that they had no lawful settlement in the Commonwealth, and were likely to become paupers. The Court upon hearing the case decreed that they should be sent home at the expense of the state. A passage has been engaged for the men in the ship Brutus, and they will sail for Calcutta in a few days.—Courier.

The Catholic Priest.—Bernard Carrahan, alias Benedict Sage, who claims to be a Catholic Priest from Cleveland, Ohio, and who was arrested and fined in Boston on Friday for being drunk and noisy in the street, was again found wandering about in a state of intoxication on Friday night. He had on his person two silver watches of no great value, which somebody had sold to him. He was sent to jail. The following document was found in his possession:

"Rev. Mr. Carrahan, the bearer of these lines, belongs to the Diocese of Clergymen.—His conduct has been without reproach since his coming here. Even he has given us his edification with regard to his good character.

I require my brethren of the Clergy to give him permission of celebrating of the Holy mysteries in his travelling.

†AMEDEM, B'p of Clev.

Cleveland, Aug. 21st, 1854."

In the Police Court, on Saturday morning, he was brought up, and a complaint for drunkenness, in which the previous conviction was set forth, was read to him. He plead guilty, and was sentenced to the House of Correction for three months, but was allowed twenty-four hours to leave the city. He left immediately.—Traveller.

We don't believe he is a priest at all. His document above copied, looks like an ignorant forgery.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLER, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure. Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the heart, and removing the spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer er years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cared him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him. and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; scientists say the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will usually effecta cure.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw five times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in the yard, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

EXPENSIVE EDUCATION.

We take the following from the London correspondence of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce:

I have visited Dulwich, a beautiful suberb of London, and taken a look at Dulwich College, which is just now prominently before the public in the columns of the Times. It seems that, many years ago, property was left for the education of twelve poor boys, that is, the institution was always to have twelve boys in a course of education. In the course of time the lands bequeathed have become very valuable. For many years the income of the college has been $45,000 per annum, and said 45,000 dollars are "deemed and taken" to have been expended on the education of twelve boys.—John Bull has of late inquired what sort of an education boys have at the cost of $3,720 each per annum, and has found that they were scarcely taught reading and writing. The Times has opened its battery; and this morning, Thomas Ruston, Jun. Chief Warden at Dulwich, has come out in defence of the College and its management. The main fact brought to rebut the charge of mal-education in regard to the boys, is the following:—"Let any one go to Dulwich College chapel on any Sunday throughout the year," says Thomas Rushton, Jun, Chief Warden at Dulwich, "and they will see a choir of twelve boys, (not very well taught in music, I admit,) and their hairs neatly brushed, their faces clean, and their dresses becoming, performing their duties in a creditable way."

The Times replies, "It is something, no doubt, that the 'hairs' of twelve nice little boys should be well looked after. We could name instances among our capitular foundations, where there is not even so much to show for as considerable an expenditure. It does, however, seem to us, with every deference to the Chief Warden of Dulwich, that by special contract, they might realize the same result at less cost." The Times then enters into a calculation to show at what cost per annum the heads of the twelve boys could be shaved, brushed, and anointed with grease, and concludes that it could be done for about five hundred per annum. "We are told," continues the Editor, "that the sum expended upon this purpose, amounts, in point of fact to 9,000 pounds per annum, which certainly does seem excessive, even when allowance has been made for clothing and feeding the twelve nice little boys who wear these heads of hair."

The conclusion to be drawn from the facts is, that men should do good with their money in their own life time. When I have any thing to say, I will write again.

Yours, &c. JUSTUS.

THE DESTITUTE CLASSES.—It has been the case with all nations, as it is with ourselves, that in proportion as wealth increases and accumulates on the one hand, poverty and vice extend on the other. A double process is at work. With augmenting riches there arises an excess of luxurious living, of selfishness, exclusiveness, often of oppression; while with the increasing poverty thus produced, there is a creation of degraded habits, vice, recklessness of life, ignorance, rowdyism. Cause and effect are natural and systematic. As population advances, the labor of the poor keeps increasing the wealth of the capitalist; and as many of the latter are raised up in the social scale, so many more of the former are lowered in it to the point of degredation.—Wherever this state of things exists—as it does, alas! but too generally in all wealth-accumulating communities—the poor are found to keep receding more and more into unpitied misery, and unheeded ignorance. It was the exclamation of Oliver Goldsmith, long ago:

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates, and men decay."

And England has realized much of this foreboding since it was expressed by the poet. Nor are we free from such a danger. For with us, too, "wealth accumulates and men decay"—decay, that is, in their moral, if not in their physical capacities; and in proportion as they do so are all our social evils argumented and aggravated.—Journal of Commerce.

"SWEET" OIL.—A lady of Cambridge a few days ago sent a domestic to the grocer's for some oil. The next day the grocer received an order to come and take the oil away, as they couldn't make it burn. He was somewhat surprised at this, as the article he had sent was the best in the market. The clerk accordingly went to the lady's house, and was told all the particulars of the efforts to make it burn, and of the darkness that followed. He asked to see the oil. The can was produced by the lady, but Biddy, the "help," cried out, "the other can, mem," when it was found the lamps had been filled with Stewart's New York syrup, which accounted for the obstinacy of the lamps in refusing to burn.—Post.

MISS MITFORD.—A Reading paper prints the following note from Miss Mitford:—"I take for granted that you know my afflictions; but God is very merciful. He has left unwithered my intellect and my affections, and, at this very moment I am sitting at the open window, inhaling the sweet summer air; a jar of beautiful roses on the window sill within-inside; a perfect sheaf of fresh-gathered meadow-sweet, sending in its almondy fragrance from without; and, although too much sunken in the chair to look down on my little flower beds, the blue sky, the green trees, and the distant harvest fields for a prospect.—There is consolation here—the best consolation—next to the goodness of God, is the beauty of nature.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.—The British schooner Elizabeth Bowlby, Roy master, at Danversport, picked up in the Bay of Fundy, August 26, in a small dory, Ezra Roberts, belonging to the sch. Mary A. Young, a halibut catcher of Gloucester. He states that while casting his lines for the purpose of fishing, the rope parted, and the wind blowing a gale, it was impossible for him to return to the vessel. He was obliged repeatedly to throw himself upon the bottom of the boat to keep her steady; twice she was nearly filled with water, and he bailed her out with a dish holding only one pint. After remaining in this situation twenty-four hours, he was picked up much exhausted, the wind blowing so hard that the schooner was running under double reefed foresail.

STABBING CASE AND PERJURY.—A few nights since an Irishman named John Sullivan was arrested in Boston on complaint of his son Jeremiah, for having stabbed the latter in a manner which at the time was considered by Dr. Cornell, who dressed the wounds, as quite serious. "Jerry" having recovered sufficiently to appear in Court on Friday, the father was brought up for examination.

On the witness stand, "Jerry" denied any knowledge of how or by whom he was wounded, and as no other witness of the affray appeared, of course the "ould man" was discharged. The Court, however, astonished Jeremiah Sullivan by ordering his commitment, in default of bail in $1000, to answer to a charge of perjury.—Transcript.

LANGUAGE OF KISSES.—An Albany lady (a lady of experience) contends that a kiss on the forehead denotes reverence for the intellect; a kiss on the cheek that the doner is impressed with the beauty of the kissed one; but that a kiss imprinted on the lips shows love.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1854.

WAKES.

Everybody has heard of Irish Wakes; but many persons have little idea of their origin, benefits, or evils. Such, indeed most readers, may be interested in the following extracts from an article in the Pilot, on Irish Wakes and Funerals.

First, as to wakes. We do not know whence this word came, but we suppose that, for our present purpose, we may take it for granted that it comes from the custom, universal among all civilized people, of staying awake, or watching the body of a departed soul until the moment of burial. We need not stop to argue that the custom is a good one, for every body knows that it is. And we need not stop to prove that the two or three persons who watch the body need something to eat and to drink. Perhaps they could not otherwise stay awake. Neither need we stop to argue that the watchers should be proper, respectable persons. Still less need we try to prove that the eating and drinking should not degenerate into rioting and drunkenness.

Now, let us express our meaning as clearly as we can. We will cite two examples.—Within the last few weeks we have seen two wakes, one according to our taste, the other not so. A Catholic died, and his body was prepared for burial. Catholic Christians watched beside his body until it was taken from the house. Prayers were said by the friends of the deceased as they stood or knelt by his coffin, and from the moment of his death until the moment of his burial, all his Catholic friends were mindful of the fact that while they were watching and praying, his soul was at the Judgment seat of Christ.—And so the suffrages of his friends were offered up for his soul while his body remained above ground, and for this purpose they gathered around his remains.

Take another case. A man is taken sick with the cholera. He dies without the sacraments, because he lives in the society of drunkards, who are thinking about the wake. The clergyman finds in the room a dead body, a quantity of tobacco and bad rum, and a crowd of people drinking and smoking as they would in a common bar room. Any clergyman could describe scenes of this sort which he has witnessed that would chill ones blood. Thanks be to God, these scenes are comparatively rare. But, if there were but one in the course of a year, there would be one too many.

To show that this is no fancy sketch, we copy a paragraph from the New Bedford Standard, describing the outbreak of the cholera at Fall River.

On Thursday morning last, about 5 1-2 o'clock, Mr. Jeremiah Holland, an Irish overseer employed in one of our mills, was attacked with cholera and died about noon.—The Catholic priest advised the immediate burial of the corpse, but the friends persisted in keeping it, for the purpose of having a 'wake' over it. They accordingly shut themselves up in a close room, with the already black and decomposing corpse, and well supplied with liquor, continued their drunken orgies. On Friday afternoon, the body was interred. Next day several of those who had attended the 'wake,' as also the barber who shaved the corpse, were attacked with cholera, and died in a few hours. From Saturday morning up to the time of writing, Sunday evening, there have been 23 or 24 cases of cholera in all, 12 of which have proved fatal. This I learn from the city physician, who also informs me that in no instance has the patient survived 24 hours after the attack. Of the persons thus attacked, all but two or three were either at the 'wake' or funeral of Holland. * * * *

The disease has thus far been confined to that class among which it first made its appearance—the most filthy and intemperate portion of the Irish. They appear to be seized with a sort of panic, whenever a case becomes known, and instead of following the directions of the physician, or using any means for the recovery of the patient, they discontinue the medicine as soon as the doctor's back is turned, abandon all efforts to save the unfortunate victim, and give themselves up to a general bullaballo and outcry. It is difficult, of course, to do much for such a people.

We need not copy the Pilot's description of the disorderly Irish funeral; it is unfortunately too familiar. That paper says, very correctly, that the whole Irish Catholic community are blamed and disgraced for the conduct of a disorderly portion. It also suggests that

There are three ways whereby these wake and funeral scandals may be healed. The first is, an understanding among the clergymen that all matters connected with wakes and funerals shall be subjected to a severe and inflexible rule.

The second remedy lies in the hands of the different societies which are commonly found in the parishes. If the members of these societies would agree to attend no funeral of a member unless conducted in a manner approved by the pastor, much scandal would be avoided. In the district with which we are connected, the societies turn out in procession when a member dies, the number of carriages is prescribed according to the circumstances, and the body receives a thoroughly Catholic burial.

The third remedy is individual influence. The Pilot adds the following remarks.

To us, Catholics, it is some mitigation of our grief to know that these fellows who give the scandal are not practical Catholics,—never go to confession—seldom hear mass—are radicals—curse the priests and believe in the paper with the wrong name, doubtless. But the know nothings insist upon treating them as Catholics, and making us responsible for their sins. So much the more need for us all to look after those things which concern our honor as Catholics.

Any human institution, however good, may be perverted to evil purposes. The wake originated with the pious practice of watching and praying by the unburied corpse. Presently two, three, or a dozen neighbors dropped in, and refreshments would be offered. It is easy to see how the old Pagan customs connected with the burial of the dead, and which were suppressed by the church, would gradually revive. Extremes meet in this, as in other things. The Pagan caroused at the funeral, for, said he, let us eat and drink while we live, for to-morrow we die. The extremists on the other side said,—our departed friend has gone to a better world, and here is a chance to eat and drink to console ourselves for his loss, and to congratulate him upon his getting over the troubles of this world.

Several years ago, in answer to our questions, we were informed by an intelligent and educated Irish woman, that she never knew a priest to attend any wakes; but on the contrary the priests opposed them, and endeavored to dissuade the people from keeping them. The people, she added, would not mind the priests in this matter, but would persist in keeping up the custom of wakes. She considered it to be an old Pagan Irish custom, which the Catholic christianity of the island had never been able to root out; and supposed it had its origin in an old notion, that the devils or demons hovered round the dead body, and would carry off the soul of the deceased, if some living friends did not keep awake and watch it till the burial.

Games, noises or howlings, and motions, or dances, served to keep the people awake; and the usual refreshments, particularly liquors, tended to make the whole scene disorderly and confused.

The Pilot is in error about the customs of all civilized people, in watching the dead till burial. Among the most respectable people in our own country, it is now the custom to place the dead in a coffin as soon as may be, and to keep no watch whatever.

In former days, when coffins had to be made to order, it was a custom in some places, to watch the body till it was coffined. But it was never universal, and among Puritans it had no religious significance whatever. It was a mere watch for the care and safety of the body.

We have just seen the following paragraph.

The Roman Catholic Bishop of Buffalo has commanded that no more than five carriages shall accompany any corpse to the church or cemetery, and the Catholics have, with few exceptions, shown a disposition to obey the order cheerfully.

The course itself is wise; and the order, in the Roman church, may be in order. But in any other church in this land, such an order would be laughed at. Our ministers may advise, and preach, as they please; and then—we act according to our private judgment.—But should they order us to do this or that—we should probably order them to mind their own business.

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, for August, 1854, is just received in Scott & Co.'s faithful American reprint. Contents: 1, Vinet: his Life and Writings; 2, Hugh Miller of Cromarty; 3, Early English History; 4, Books for Children; 5, Greece during the Macedonian Period: Niebuhr and Thirlwall; 6, Dante; 7, Poems by Matthew Arnold; 8, Sir Robert Murchison's Siluria; 9, Past and Present Political Morality of British Statesman.

The second article, on Hugh Miller, being a review of his Schools and Schoolmasters, is to us one of the most attractive papers.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for September, begins with The Dutch on Manhattan; embellished with a number of cuts of very solid Dutchmen, grouped in exceedingly Dutch tableaux. The Dutch Family, and Fort Casimir, are the best.

Then comes, the North West Passage, with a man frozen fast on an iceburg; and then a chapter of Abbott's Saint Napoleon liberally illustrated.

The whole number contains over twenty articles, besides numerous editorial notes; and about forty illustrations.

For sale by Fetridge & Co. Boston; J. F. Shores, jr. Portsmouth. Also, by Federhen & Co. of Boston, and J. P. Morse of this city.

LADY RUSSELL'S LETTERS.—Lady Rachel Russell's Letters, already known to fame, have just been re-issued in Philadelphia. Whether an American edition has appeared before, our memory is in doubt; for though slow to believe the negative of this question, we cannot fix the contrary, either by place or date.—Boston Transcript.

We are pretty sure that Wells & Lilly of Boston, published Lady Russell's Letters, about the year 1820, in their uniform 16 mo. edition of the British Prose Writers. Mr. Dutton, now and for many years at the head of the Boston Transcript office, was then foreman of Wells & Lilly's printing office, and we (Uncle Toby) helped to put Lady Russell's Letters in type.

SMOKE ON THE ST. LAWRENCE.—The range of the fires in the woods on the St. Lawrence river has been much more extensive than usual this year. The smoke has been so dense at times that navigation has been seriously impeded. On the 26th ult. the steamer Bay State lost her way in the smoke, and grounded on the bar off Ogdensburgh, where she lay for about twenty-four hours, until three other steamers arrived and by their united efforts succeeded in pulling her off.

LOCAL.

INCREASE OF SHIPPING.—We learn that the new ship building by Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrow, has been purchased by J. M. Tredick, Esq. and others of this city. This ship together two others now building on Portsmouth account, at Noble's Island, and those already launched, will make an addition of about five thousand tons to our local shipping, the present year. We are glad to see our citizens thus making their investments. Formerly much capital went out of Portsmouth to be invested in Factory, Railroad and other stocks, some of which have yielded but little revenue to the holders. We are now changing in this particular, and our people are becoming much more generally interested in navigation. Men of moderate means have of late looked to this kind of property for investment and profit, and we hope to see them well remunerated, until our ship owning shall be equal to our ship building reputation.

REMOVAL OF CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—The subject of the removal of this Navy Yard is again being agitated. The people of Charlestown and Boston desire the space occupied by the yard, for business purposes.—Senator Sumner has conferred with the Secretary of the Navy upon the subject, who encourages the plan of disposing of the Yard, and establishing one at Newport, R. I. as the "great yard for New England."

It seems to us that if Charlestown Navy Yard is to be given up, the Government had better increase their facilities at the remaining New England Yard. They have at this station an admirably located yard, with deep water, and accessible at all seasons of the year. Newport would, no doubt, be popular with the officers, especially in the summer season; but a small portion of the cost of making a yard at that place, expended at this station, would make our Navy Yard all that the government could desire.

If the members of Congress from Maine and New Hampshire, would lay aside for a season their political prejudices and party feelings, and, in the event of the discontinuance of the Charlestown Yard, unite in pressing the claims of our yard, (a movement which has never been properly carried out) we should have a first class yard here. All official characters speak very highly of our yard, in their reports and elsewhere, but the appropriations for it, for the reason that no one in Congress takes proper interest in the matter, are very meagre and small in comparison with other places of not half the natural advantages which it possesses. We hope that the people of Maine and Mew Hampshire, will call the attention of their members of Congress to this matter. Both States have a common interest in the station, and if properly cared for, Portsmouth Navy Yard, or Kittery Navy Yard, can be made an important Naval Station.

DIETETICS.—It is generally supposed by Physicians to be very unwholesome to eat between meals, but when a nice tit-bit is presented, it is exceeeingly hard for one to refrain from violating the well known hygienic rules. Our friends, Freeman & Newcomb, tempted us yesterday forenoon, at what used to be called grog-time, viz.: 11 o'clock, with a pail full of delicious Cape oysters, stewed in great style,—and we fell—into them. They have received a few bushels of these choice bivalves, which they offer for sale at the store corner of Chestnut and Congress streets. See advertisement.

PLUMS AND PEACHES.—After dinner comes in the desert. We had but just finished the oysters, "abovecited," when up came Capt. Clark's basket, well stored with red apples, yellow pears and rosy peaches, and last but not least some very fine plums of dark complexion: quite an amalgation basket. There seemed to be no great prejudice against color among the eaters; and when the basket went down it was lighter than when it came up.—But there are a dozen baskets full of the same sorts down below, all crying "come and eat me."

PRESENTATION.—On Monday evening at the regular Monthly Meeting of Engine Co. No. 2, Mr. William B. Randall, in behalf of the company, presented to Mr. Charles E. Main, ex-Foreman, a magnificent silver speaking Trumpet in token of their respect for him as an officer and as a man.

Mr. Main has been Foreman of Engine Co. No. 2 for about six years, and at the last election of city officers, was chosen an Engineer, and on his resignation of his office of Foreman, this testimonial was presented.

The trumpet bore the inscription

Presented to

The trumpet was manufactured by Messrs. Bigelow Brothers & Kennard, Boston, and cost about $80.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, September 3.—The Collins steamship Pacific, Captain Nye, from Liverpool August 23, arrived this afternoon.

The capture of Bomarsund had been confirmed, and the Paris Moniteur announces the actual occupation of the Principalities by the Austrian troops.

Sixty thousand Russians were about to be concentrated on the right bank of the Pruth, under Gen. Luders, in order to cover the Russian flotilla on the Danube, which must be sacrificed by the evacuation of Galatz.

The report of the defeat of the Turks near KARS, in Asia, is repeated.

Orders have been given not to interfere with the trade between the inhabitants of Norweigian Finmark and those of the coasts of the White Sea, they being a poor and inoffensive people.

The London Times has a long article on the cholera in the East. It says that by the last accounts from Varna, cooler weather was not expected for several weeks, and as it appeared to be the worst evil of the two to set sail while the cholera prevailed, even if the expedition was otherwise ready, there was every prospect of the mortality continuing at a nearly equal rate. Ten to fifteen thousand is probably not too high an estimate of the dead and disabled up to the moment of embarkation.

The Times dwells on the subject of this melancholy and inglorious loss of life, and the extreme discouragement in the camps.—It inquires :—"What are we gaining by this delay, which is more deadly than battles ?—The result is worse than if we had lost 10,000 men in capturing Sabastopol a month ago, when our arrangements were incomplete ; whilst the unfortunate dead have been deprived of having the glory of the inscription, 'Sebastopol,' upon their tombs ! "

VIENNA, August 22.—Archangel was effectually blockaded on the 13th.

The firm of Henry Wethernstein & Son has suspended payment ; liabilities estimated at 5,000,000 florins.

LONDON, August 22.—The firm of Marpugo & Co., general commission merchants, chiefly in the Italian trade, have suspended payment. Speculating in grain is supposed to have been the cause. Their transactions were connected with Galatz and Alexandria, and they received consignments of cotton. The establishment of the house in London was of recent date, but their liabilities are supposed to be large.

The newspapers per Pacific confirm the announcement of the capture of Bomarsund. There was little loss of life on either side. The French lost 120 men in killed and wounded ; the British only three or four.

The round forts behind Bomarsund named respectfully Tzee and Nottick, had been previously reduced. No difficult task, as they were garrisoned by only 120 men each. The handful of artillery-men in Tzee made a stout defence, fifty being killed and thirty-five only being taken unhurt. Both forts when captured were blown up.

An attack was then made upon Bomarsund itself, the walls of which were badly damaged before the garrison consented to surrender. The honor of the victory, such as it is, belongs wholly to the French. Our private accounts from Dantzic state that the number of prisoners does not exceed 1500, and that they have been sent to Ledsund. An overwhelming display of force was made by the allies. No fewer than fifteen sail of the line lay with their broadsides within range of the fortress. The allies claim to have found one hundred pieces cannon, mounted and dismounted. From the circumstance that Admiral Napier had issued a notice for all neutral vessels to leave the port of Riga before the 10th of August, it was surmised that Riga would be the next point of attack.

The prisoners taken at Bomarsund will be sent to France on board English ships.

Gen. Baraguay d'Hilliers had a narrow escape from a cannon ball, it having passed between him and his aid-de-camp, with whom he was conversing.

SUDDEN DEATH.—In England, lately, while a debtor was attempting to avoid a Sheriff's officer who had a writ against him for debt, he broke a blood vessel and died almost instantaneously.

HARVESTS.—In England, at the last advices, the weather was very favorable, and the grain harvest supposed to be good and sufficient. Grain market slightly depressed in prices, and not active. The potato crop was likely to be abundant, but fears were entertained of the rot.

SALE OF A WHITE WOMAN IN PENNSYLVANIA.—A sale of a free white woman was recently made at Freemansburgh, Lehigh County. The parties have been residents of that place for some time, are natives of Germany, and the transaction consisted in a man disposing of his wife to another man for the sum of one dollar. The parties were represented as being of intemperate habits. Writings are said to have been signed by the trio—the wife, the new husband, and the old husband.—Philadelphia Sun.

ROCKLAND, (Me.) Sept. 1.—The Whig Congressional Convention for the third district met here to-day. Hon. E. Wilder Farley was unanimously renominated by ballot for Congress. Resolutions were passed against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, in favor of the principles of the Homestead bill, in favor of the acquisition of the Canadas, and in favor of continuing the organization of the national Whig party. Mr. Farley addressed the convention at length upon national politics.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date ; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space ; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.
Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each ; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLER, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Keller by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are now so well known and remarkable as to need no comment. Its effects are to remove obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave Boston; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable; it is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinnest papers and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1836," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, simplicity and usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy any kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

GENERAL QUITMAN.

It will be remembered, (says the Boston Traveller) to the honor of Judge Campbell, of Louisiana, of the U. S. Court, that in spite of all the counteracting influences of the fillibuster atmosphere by which he is surrounded, he faithfully exerted his judicial power to arrest the freebooting expedition against Cuba, and held Gen. Quitman of Mississippi, among others, to bail for suspected participation in that unlawful enterprise, and for his good behavior in that respect for the future. Gen. Quitman, as we had occasion to notice at the time, was highly indignant at this interference of the Courts with freedom; and he entered into bonds with a solemn protest against both the law and Judge Campbell's interpretation. Now he has come out in the New Orleans papers with a very long communication, in which he gluts his revenge by attempting to asperse the character of Judge Campbell, and gratifies his vanity by presuming that his own character is—and ought to be so regarded by the courts and the law—beyond impeachment or suspicion. The following concluding paragraphs of his communication will show what a patriotic and what a smart man the General is:

"Public rumor," aided by her fit associate, John A. Campbell, is engaged in trumpeting to the world that suspicion attaches to my name. Suspicion of what? Of being the open advocate of states rights, strict construction, free trade, direct taxation, the remodeling of the federal judicial system, the limitation of the tenure of office of the federal Judges and their election by the people? Suspicion of having aided and abetted the independence and annexation of Texas, and the conquest of Mexico? Suspicion of never having faltered in the defence of Southern rights and of the equality of the states? Of admiring American institutions, and desiring their extension over this continent? Suspicion of cordially hating the despotism of Spain over the people of Cuba?

Of planning, in conjunction with other patriotic citizens, some lawful measure to aid an oppressed people to overthrow a tyrannical and usurping government, and thus averting from ourselves and our children the dire calamity which would befall us if the cherished European policy of establishing a hostile negro or mongrel empire on our borders, at the very mouth of the great outlet of the South-Western States, should be carried into execution? Of doubting the ability or disposition of our common government, distracted already by the slavery question, to remedy the impending evil?

If such suspicions attach to my name before the world, I confess myself liable to the honor or reproach which belongs to them. If, however, Judge Campbell means to insinuate that suspicions dishonorable to me have attach to my name, he but adds falschood to the many misrepresentations of facts contained in his published opinion. Suspicion to my name!—The name is Saxon. It means freeman. It has never been disgraced by falsehood, cowardice, or base truckling to power. May those who inherit it be ever worthy to bear it, by opposition to all political despotism, and by stern, unyielding resistence to tyranny, whether boldly attempted to be enforced by the bayonet, or slily and stealthily by the perversion of judicial powers."

That is, if we understand Gen. Quitman, he is emphatically, as well as by name, a freeman—and his particular or special mission in this world, is to extend and strengthen slavery as much as possible. His highest aim, as here developed, is to perpetuate chattel slavery,—by the aid of the General Government, or as he calls it, "our common government"—if that is strong enough—but if it is as weak and "distracted" as he thinks it,—then he goes for a grand army of fillibusters who will conquer all the countries round us, and put down all those political despots or tyrants who dare to emancipate a bondman, or to make any movement in their own domain without consulting Quitman, Quattlebum & Co.

These valorous gentlemen, by their oracle, Quitman, thus proclaim themselves the owners of all the black men in creation, and nearly all the white men in the Union;—and the great Quitman, taking advantage of our distracted government, hereby proclaims himself supreme Dictator, and General Slavery Propogandist!

Our late "common government" at Washington, will perceive itself to be superseded: Congress need not meet again till he calls them: the President and Cabinet may stay at Sulphur Springs all winter: and the U. S. Courts would do well to hide the diminished heads of their judges, wigs and all, under the benches. Quitman plays Cromwell: all the rest must act the part of the Rump Parliament.

A writ of quo warranto has been sued out against the city of Louisville, under which the city has been required to show her authority for issuing thirty year bonds some time since, amounting to $200,000, for the purchase of a wharf, and $100,000 for a basin. Judge Bullock, of Louisville, before whom the writ was returned, decided that Louisville had transcended its powers in issuing the bonds, and that the ordinance authorising them was void.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green
Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Editorial Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FORTNIGHT IN MAINE.

AUGUSTA, Me. Sept. 4, 1854.

The recollection of beauties seen and attractions presented, and of some beauteous attractions not seen, during a flying trip down east, a few years since, led us to wish for a more leisure opportunity of gratifying our eyes and ears (for the sake of the latter, there goes the breakfast gong!—this particular specimen sounding rather more like Pandemonium let loose, than any other we ever heard) in this direction.

As with children temporarily delivered from school, so with men and women grown,—it is no less difficult to discover how to spend a vacation judiciously, than it is to get that vacation. It is very common for children to wish a vacation ended and themselves made contented by having some definite employment for their time; and it is not a rare occurrence for their parents to at least think, on returning from some laborious tour for pleasure, that they might have enjoyed more real comfort and pleasure at home. If a season of change in either child or parent, is productive only of this feeling of content with their lot for a time, the expense and trouble is by no means lost. To be sure, they may want to repeat the experiment ere long,—for "The eye is never satisfied with seeing, nor the ear with hearing"—but what then? Life is made up of such desires and their gratification.

In this case, we decided to roam for a couple of weeks in Maine; and having a friend whom we know by trial to be really a travelling companion—who, come what might, would always be found contented, and ready to enjoy something—we jumped into a one-horse carriage, just as the sun was taking leave of old Portsmouth on Monday Aug. 28, and drove over Piscataqua bridge. Our first stop was in South Berwick, whence we drove to Dover next morning before breakfast—"working our passage" out of an old white horse we hired in Berwick, which horse we were told was kept chiefly for ladies driving. A very safe "family horse," we should say. Well, the ladies don't deserve better horses till they can learn to drive better.

We arrived here, at the Stanley House, in Augusta, on Saturday evening, having travelled one hundred and fifty miles in the five days. From our start to this point, we have travelled hardly ten miles of fair level road—our path laying over an unbroken succession of young mountains, with an occasional valley between, apparently made only for the sake of having another hill beyond. We remember once hearing Rev. Mr. Withington of Newbury say, during a sermon, instancing things impossible with God, that he "could not make two mountains without a valley between."—Whether the good parson was correct or not, the great architect has not seen fit to form his hills, this way, without valleys between; and the traveller has but to take things as he finds them—and when he arrives at the top of one hill, wish himself on the summit of the next, and proceed with working faith thither. We found by experiment, that we did not have sufficient faith to remove the mountains—so we removed ourselves.

For our own comfort, as well as that of our horse, we walked up all the hills. The natural walk of most horses, except when heavily laden, is much slower than that of men, though we have known a horse that would walk five or six miles an hour. Our horse was a slow walker, and we usually waited for him to come to the top of the hills. Once or twice, however, he didn't come till we returned to the valley after him. When he did stop, no entreaty or command would induce him to advance, save a voice in the rear. An Irish pedestrian, at our request, tried to coax or drive him up one of the hills,—without taking hold of him, however; but he would not budge an inch, till one of us yankees returned for him. Hence we set him down as a Know Nothing, though he didn't say he belonged to the order. And in consideration of this, we concluded to let him go ahead in future, while we waited at the bottom of the hill,—somewhat similar, perhaps, to the manner in which the two old parties are distanced by the new and ignorant organization. Here, however, the analogy ends—for he waited at the top of the hill for us to come up—which the Know Nothings, we believe, say they are bound not to do,—but to distance all competitors.

By the way, speaking of this horse—a very prominent member of our trio, on this and various other occasions—we may as well here as anywhere, give a brief history of some of his adventures. He is a most venerable horse. We say this, knowing what we do say. Every body, generally speaking, who is fortunate enough to possess a first rate wife, a good baby, a fine horse, or an intelligent dog, is in the common course of things, bound to think their specimens a little better than anybody's else. The reason is, that before trial, they could not be aware how much of good and pleasure there is in any and all the things here enumerated.

But respecting our leader in this tour, we have the testimony of a disinterested individual. A gentleman in South Berwick, who is at once hotel and stable-keeper, blacksmith and farrier, came out to see our steed as we passed his forge. Said he, I have owned perhaps hundreds of horses, but this is the best one I ever owned or drove. He stated that he bought him at a horse-mart in Boston, eight years ago, for $37,50; that he sold him before he got home for $62,50 to a gentleman, who by blistering entirely removed and cured a large spavin with which the horse had been afflicted. A year afterwards, in company with the last mentioned owner of the horse under consideration, he came over the road we have just travelled, behind this horse, in search of horses for purchase. After having ridden fifty miles one day, evening found them at dusk, near a suspicious looking tavern in the woods. As they had quite a pile of money with them, they preferred to ride to the next hotel, six miles distant through the woods,—which they travelled in just thirty minutes, without any urging of the horse save an occasional word! He then traced the life of the noble quadruped, till the present time—how he bought him again; and sold him to a grocer, who declared he could not use him in his business, for "he shook his bundles all out at the back of the wagon"; how the grocer sold him to a stable-keeper in Portsmouth, who in selling out his stock at auction, sacrificed him for the first price, $37,50; how the purchaser sold him next day for $60, and that he looked better now than he did when he first knew him, eight years ago. He said he did not know how much he might be worth by-and-by—for the present owner, after driving him three years, had just refused $100 for him.

But we must close,—adjourning any recital of our journey's incidents, for another letter.

* "MERCANTILE LITERATURE."—To the Editor of the Boston Transcript:—You published in a recent number of your valuable journal, a brief article from the "Philadelphia Merchant," with the above caption, which contained as you may recollect an allusion to the "Merchants' Magazine." The editor of the Merchant is not, perhaps, aware that prior to the establishment of my work in 1839, now more that fifteen years since, the term "Mercantile Literature" or "Literature of Commerce," had never been used in the application, which has since become so familiar to the general reader. When I started the Magazine it appeared to me, that Commerce, more or less intimately connected as it is, with all transactions, and all pursuits in life, was deserving not only a name, but the possession of a literature, as much so at least, as any other class of topics—that the term "Merchant" implied more than the mere buyer, seller, and exchanger of "goods, wares, merchandise," and money, and that to become a large and liberal merchant, required a greater variety and amount of information than had generally been considered necessary or was embraced in that cognomen. The time has, in my opinion, gone by when men can blunder into fortunes, or succeed in trade, without a knowledge of the diversified operations and principles of commerce. There is scarcely a science or a branch of knowledge, that may not be turned to a useful and profitable account in mercantile enterprise; and it will, I suppose, be readily admitted that the study of mercantile and maritime law, the languages of commercial nations, geography, history, mineralogy, chemistry, political economy, &c., all go to make up the necessary accomplishments of the large merchant. The fact is, Commerce must now be regarded as a liberal pursuit, and the merchants of the future will then become in reality the "kings of commerce."

Prior to the establishment of the "Merchants' Magazine," there were at home and abroad, periodicals devoted to agriculture, and the mechanic arts, law journals and medical reviews, in fine, almost every class and profession had a literature of its own, while commerce remained unrepresented, (except by the Price Currents, Shipping Lists, and Daily Advertisers,) in this broad and varied field.

It was this condition of things, that suggested to my mind, the idea of a Commercial Literature, and the establishment of a Merchants' Magazine and Review, which must, I think, be regarded as the pioneer periodical devoted to that speciality, and the earliest movement looking to the concentration and embodiment of the "literature of commerce." At all events, no similar work had ever before been published, and no work in existence at this time, contains so large an amount and variety of matter relating to the multiform operations of trade and commerce.

May I not then claim the authorship of the expression I was first to apply to commerce, and which I have, for so many years, sedulously labored to realize and embody, in a permanent and durable form—that is, the Literature of Commerce.

With great regard, your friend and serv't,

FREEMAN HUNT.

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.

The Annual meeting was held in this city on Tuesday, Sept. 5, when the following officers were chosen:—Ichabod Goodwin, Portsmouth; John A. Blanchard, Boston; William P. Jones, Portsmouth; Samuel Batchelder, Boston; John Knowlton, Portsmouth; Calvin W. Clark, Boston; Sidney Homer, Boston, Directors; J. N. Handy, Proprietors' Clerk.

A dividend of four per cent. was declared; and the Treasurers' report read and accepted.

The Manufacture of Lawns for the year past, has amounted to 3,645,754 yards,—and about 15,000 lbs. of yarn have been sold.

The sale of Lawns has amounted to 2,019,537 yards: at lower prices than ever before since the mill went into operation.

The Company has purchased the Sagamore Mill, and 120 looms are to be put into operation there; which will enable the Portsmouth Steam Factory to weave all its yarn, and thus produce about 3,000,000 yards of lawn per annum.

RAILROAD EXCURSION AND PIC NIC.—The Pleasant Street Society and Sabbath School are to have a Pic Nic at Raymond, to-morrow, Thursday, September 7, in Blake's woods, near the depot in that village.

Tickets, for adults 25 cents, and for children 15 cents, can be obtained at the stores of Joseph Harvey, Sam'l W. Moses, and Sylvester Gilbert.

The cars will leave the depot of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad at 10 1-2 o'clock.

☞ The Speaking Trumpet which was presented to Mr. Charles E. Main, on Monday evening, can be seen at the store of Mr. Charles T. Emery for a few days.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Jere. L. Robinson of Exeter, fell from the floor of his barn to the bottom of the cellar beneath, on Sunday afternoon, and striking a beam, was so severely injured as to cause his death. Mr. Robinson was a shoe and leather dealer, a man of enterprise and energy. His age was about 58.

FIRE IN SACO.—The range of brick buildings in Saco, Maine, known as the Cutts Block, were destroyed by fire on Saturday night, Sept. 2. The fire originated by spontaneous combustion in the cellar of one of the stores. The loss of merchandise was $20,000 or more, about half insured. The buildings belonged to the York Manufacturing Company. The end wall of the block fell over on a wooden building adjoining, and crushed it. At this point the fire was arrested.

A VALUABLE BOOK.—Messrs. Tracy & Sanford, of Claremont, propose publishing about the 1st of November, a new History of New Hampshire, which is to contain sketches of its early history; Geology, Mineralogy, &c; Description of its Mountain and Lake Scenery, Statistical Tables, and Biographical Sketches of its principal men, with portraits of Webster, Woodbury, and others of the more distinguished. It will make a valuable addition to public and private Libraries. To be sold by subscription at $1,50 per copy.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT CHICAGO—SENATOR DOUGLAS REFUSED A HEARING.—Chicago, 2d.—The meeting last night, to hear Senator Douglas speak upon the Nebraska Bill, was held in the open air, and largely attended. As soon as Mr. Douglas ascended the stand, a tremendous noise was made, which entirely drowned his voice. His friends made earnest efforts to restore quiet, but in vain. After several ineffectual attempts to obtain a hearing, at about half past ten o'clock Mr. Douglas was compelled to leave the stand. Much excitement existed, but there was no disturbance. A large majority were opposed to his speaking, and he was followed to his hotel by the crowds, which then quietly dispersed.

This noise seems to us to be most contemptible. We have no special partiality for Senator Douglas; and we have distinctly condemned his slavery extension bill, time and again. Nevertheless, we would give him a hearing; or at all events suffer others to hear him who wished to do so. He has, with every other man, the right to be heard in his own defence, and it is despicably mean to deprive him of it. We despise the gag, whether applied by whig or tory, whether the gaggers call themselves democrats or aristocrats. We see herein, however, a just, but severe retribution, measured out to the Hon. Senator.—He would fain have gagged down the 3000 clergymen, who spoke against his notorious folly, by arraying against them, as he tried to do, a senseless popular clamor; and now a popular clamor as noisy and senseless, whistles him down the wind in his own city.

"Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth," saith the scripture—and so say we.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Wheeling, Va., 2d.—An arch of the bridge now in course of construction for the Hempfield road, near this city, fell today, killing the contractor, Mr. James M. Cartney, and one of the workmen.

MURDER AT GREAT FALLS.—A man named William Maxwell was found in a chamber of Hodge's Tavern, at Great Falls, on Sunday morning, badly bruised in the head and in a state of insensibility, under circumstances which led to the suspicion that he had received foul play. We learn that Maxwell, who is a stable keeper and cab driver, had been to Dover on Saturday evening, with a party to attend a dance, and returned at a late hour. On Sunday morning not making his appearance as usual, the door of his room, which was found locked on the inside, was burst open, and he was discovered as above stated. A physician was sent for and remedies applied, but without success—On Sunday evening Dr Thomson of Dover who was sent for, found him in a dying state, and we learn that he died before morning.—No weapon of any kind by which the blow could have been inflicted was found in the room. The probability is, that he was knocken down in some quarrel out of doors, and carried to his room by those who did it, and that to produce an impression that his death arose from some other cause, they then locked the door on the inside and escaped by the window. Maxwell was about 33 years old, and a brother of Lewis Maxwell, who was killed at Salmon Falls in May, 1853.—Dover Enquirer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Twelve cases of rich silks and velvets, valued at $16,000, smuggled from Europe at some time unknown were seized yesterday by Mr. Cyrus Reid, Inspector of the Customs, at the store of M. Pasticoli, a Spaniard, at No. 87 Pearl street. It is believed to be the largest amount of smuggled goods ever recovered at one time.

GOOD LUCK AT TRURO.—On Tuesday last, as we learn from Capt. Wm. Cook, of Duxbury, a school of Black fish made their appearance near Truro, when a party of the inhabitants, about twenty-five in number, and including the pastor of the Methodist Society in North Truro, hastily assembled in boats, and drove the fish on shore, where they became an easy prey. One hundred barrels of oil was the result of the enterprise.—Boston Advertiser.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN ENGLAND.—The London correspondent of the Post, under date of the 22d of August, says:

A shocking accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the railway to the crystal palace, from a collision with an engine taking water on the line. Four second class carriages and one first-class were smashed to peices, and among their ruins were at least 40 or 50 human beings. The escape of a single person alive amounts almost to a miracle, for hardly a more frightful place could be found on the whole line for such an accident. Several persons had arms and limbs fractured, four of whom died within a few minutes, and several are now lying in the hospitals, who will hardly recover. Amonng the former was the Rev. Mr. Welles, a young clergyman of much promise, who had just been married."

There have been fifty deaths from cholera at Fall River, since the disease broke out, about a week ago. There were three new cases Saturday. Some Irish children abandoned by their parents in the panic, are said to have died of starvation. Liquor found in the possession of the Irish contained sulphuric acid.

Some of the British accounts state that Her Majesty's seventy-gun ship Boscawen has been ordered to San Juan, Nicaragua.

NEW YORK CHURCHES.

The New York Herald of Sunday says:

When our churches were moved up town, that despotic ruler, fashion, placed opera singers in the choirs, crimson velvet in the pews, perfumed pastors in the pulpits, and elegant trustees in the vestry chairs—more, it shut up the churches during the months of July and August, and now the pastor takes a tour for his health, the flock (without a shepherd) wander to the spas, sprays and mountains, and the unfortunate wretches who cannot afford the luxuries which their richer brethren enjoy, are left to work out their salvation in some cheaper and less fashionable temple. Such has been the state of things during this season, and since the fifteenth day of July many of the up town churches have been closed.

But the thermometer has fallen ten or fifteen degrees, and as the world of fashion becomes cool, it begins to think about its religious duties.

* * * * * * *

The clergymen of this city generally pay attention to their flocks, and leave political affairs in the hands of those to whom the people have delegated the power to manage them. This is commendable, and we trust that we shall never have occasion to chronicle a departure from the rule.

Keener irony than this could hardly be put on paper: and yet the Herald seems to put it forth in sober earnest. In the first paragraph it describes a veritable "perfumed" Parson Downy of Plush street Church; and in the last it praises him for not soiling his scented gloves with politics, but leaving them in the hands of the great unwashed, and their servants, whom they appoint to do such dirty work. And lastly, it hopes it will always be so.

CHURCH AT EASTHAMPTON AGAIN BURNED.—We regret to learn that the Congregational Church at Easthampton, nearly rebuilt from a destruction by fire last year, was destroyed by a conflagration on Thursday night. This time, the adjoining parsonage dwelling, which before was saved, was swept away with the church edifice. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

The church was almost entirely finished outside, and some progress was made in the interior. The bell was hung on the day previous. The whole expense, or nearly the whole incurred, was made by Mr. Williston. The bell was presented by Mr. Knight. The loss on the church building is about $15,000; no insurance. The loss on the parsonage is probably about $2,500, of which $1,500 was insured at the Hampshire Mutual Office.—Springfield Republican.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WAGGOR.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY, AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. Kelley, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that horrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, Opening the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes; forwears, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and the cures effected are so numerous as such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and easiness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens has induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water as much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

MORAL ASPECTS.—Mr. Clark of Manchester, at the late Fusion meeting at Wolfboro', made the following remarks:

Mr. Clark said others had called attention to the political view of the matter of "popular sovereignty," but he wished to call attention to its moral view. You say slavery is an evil, a wickedness and a wrong. Congress, by the constitution, has power to govern the territortes. Now, if Congress fails to exercise that power, and permits slavery, does not Congress do wrong? And if Congress does wrong, and you permit it, do not you do wrong? You aid in electing the members of Congress; and if you elect those who join in wrong-doing, and whom you know or believe will so join, are you not culpable? Do you not betray your trust? If you can prevent an outrage so atrocious as the Nebraska perfidy, are you not obligated to do it? Does not humanity, justice, right and duty, demand it?

He said he heard a member of the last New Hampshire Legislature, in his place, declare that slavery would not go into Kansas and Nebraska, unless the people willed it—and if the people did will it, it would be right!

There may be some here, who, without much reflection, would assent to such a proposition. To such he wished to address himself. Let them consider, that God has established moral right and wrong on no such basis. He has not made them depend upon the will of his creatures. They rest on no such flimsy foundation.

The Jewish nation willed the crown of thorns—the crucifixion, and the cross! It was the act of a majority as expressed through the constituted councils. Was it therefore right?

RIOTOUS PROCEEDINGS.—Lebanon, N. H.—On Friday evening of last week, a Mr. Brown, hailing from Boston, attempted to deliver a lecture upon "Native Americanism" in the Town Hall of Lebanon, the Selectmen having granted the use of the building to him for that purpose. He commenced by denouncing the Papists and the Roman Catholic Religion, and alluded to the "tremendous strides which Jesuitism is making for supremacy in our own country, and to the necessity of decisive efforts by Native Americans to save their government from subjugation to the Cathelic power." Thus far he proceeded without any interruption, when he proceeded to consider American politics, when, as we learn by the Lebanon Whig—

He took up the old parties and raked their leaders in severe and just terms for their base subserviency to the foreign influence—declared the Whig party dead and buried, and was proceeding to denounce the Democratic party, Pierce, Douglas & Co., in terms of coarse censure, when the storm broke upon him. A citizen at this point rose and peremtorily ordered him to stop, declaring that the utterance of such stuff could not and would not be tolerated then and there. Scores were on their feet in an instant. A protest was at once entered against the propriety of the interruption that had taken place, as an unwarrantable infringement of the great right of free speech and free discussion which was secured to every man under our government, and the audience almost unanimously voted that the speaker had the right and should finish his remarks. That right, however, was strenuously resisted by two or three individuals, and after every effort to secure order by the officers of the law and others had failed, and a half hour spent in the wildest kind of debate and uproar, a vote was taken to uphold the freedom of speech, and to adjourn to Saturday evening following.

There was much excitement in the town on Saturday, with predictions of riot and bloodshed, if the "Know Nothings" should attempt to hold another meeting, but the great mass of the citizens declared in favor of free speech.—The Town Hall was filled in the evening, and Mr. Brown concluded his lecture without any interruption or disorder.—Boston Courier.

LOST THEIR WATCHES.—There was a military muster recently at a place called Winter Island, near Salem, Mass. After it was over nineteen, individuals reported themselves to the City Marshal of Salem as having lost their watches on the ground.

A SITUATION VACANT.—Some years ago a black man called on a clergyman in Western New York, avowed himself a fugitive slave, and asked for food and shelter, which were freely accorded. Two or three persons being cognizant of the fact, called in to see the "runaway niggor," when the following dialogue ensued:

"S'pose you had pretty hard times down South—lickings a plenty?"

"No—I never was whipped."

"Wasn't—well, you had to work awful hard?"

"My work was very light."

"Guess your clothes wan't very nice?"

"I was always well dressed—I was a good servant."

"Reckon your victuals wasn't uncommon fine?"

"As good as I desired."

"Well! I should give it as my opinion that you was a mighty big fool for running away from such a place as that, just for the sake of shirking for yourself."

"Gentlemen! my place down Soath is vacant. Any of you can have it by applying for it."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1854.

MAINE DEMOCRACY.

Some whig papers, and not a few democratic critics, have reproached the regular democracy of Maine, this year, as a dumb democracy, because their State Convention, when they nominated the venerable Albion K. Parris for Governor, erected no platform, put forth no creed, and avowed no principle whatever.

This reproach, so far as Sagadahoc is concerned, is now wiped off; for at a County Meeting of Regular Democrats, held at Bath, August 24, the nomination of Gov. Parris was endorsed, and the following resolutions, (as we learn from the Portland Argus,) were unanimously passed:

Whereas, we believe that a dumb democracy is a dead one; and whereas we repose entire confidence in the correctness and the excellency of democratic principles, as tested in their practical workings by the experience of three quarters of a century; we cannot as live democrats, in justice to ourselves and the true political interests of the State and the nation, withhold a public expression of our appreciation of them on all proper occasions; therefore

1. Resolved, That the principles of democracy are eminently of a practical nature, and designed to promote the prosperity of the country, by securing individual liberty and freedom.

2. Resolved, That there are only two political parties in the country; one the party of progress and action, endeavoring to apply their principles to the measures of government and the conduct of the individual, relying on the integrity and intelligence of the people, asking only what is right, the other—the party of opposition and aims—known in our political history by the name of Toryism, Federalism, Hartford Conventionism, National Republicanism, Abolitionism, Freesoilism, Whigism, Antimasonism, Anti-Nebraskaism, Morrilism, Caryism, Harrisonism, Taylorism, Anti-Catholicism, Native Americans, Know Nothingism and Greytownism.

3. Resolved, That we cordially approve of the passage of the Nebraska bill, so called, as it is a practical recognition of the true doctrine of popular sovereignty, for which all democrats must contend, so long as they are true to the principles they profess.

4. Resolved, That we have entire and unshaken confidence in the honesty, integrity, capability and democracy of the administration of Franklin Pierce, whose acts are deserving of, and do and will receive the united support of all sincere democrats.

5. Resolved, That we fully recognize the great democratic doctrine enunciated by Jefferson, that "A wise and frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another; which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned—is the sum of good government." Any statute violative of these principles is anti-democratic and unjust, and consequently productive of error and injury.

Resolution No. 5, as quoted from Jefferson, and endorsed by this convention, is as strongly anti-slavery or liberal, as words can possibly make it; and this is not only said to be democratic,—but any statute, (as the fugitive slave law, and all laws tolerating slavery,) are declared anti-democratic and unjust! Will any reader of this paper please to read that resolution, and then say if it can bear any other construction than what we give it. Now will the reader please look at No. 1, and read that carefully. Next put the two together; read the fifth and then the first; and we add to them our hearty amen: we are democrats, on this platform, and after this pattern.

The 2d, 3d and 4th resolutions form another platform, of another, and it seems to us, an opposite character. Here it is resolved, first, that there are only two parties in the country; and next, that all true and sincere democrats do and must approve the Nebraska bill, and place entire and unshaken confidence in Franklin Pierce's administration.

Now it is not our business to harmonise these two platforms; but we respectfully request any and all of our readers who take any interest in politics, to read the resolutions and our remarks, as critically as possible, and then show us, if they can, any respect, however small, in which we fail to interpret the resolutions correctly.

The Nebraska bill, as we have shown by a brief and undeniable extract, expressly provides a way to try the "title to slaves," before a certain court, which is of itself a sufficient answer to all the nonsense and falsehood we have seen about popular rights in that territory. The bill was designed to carry slavery there in a legal form, and it has done it in those three words above quoted, so effectually, that any one man there can hold slaves, even if every other man in the territory were against it; for the Court will decide his title to the slaves as valid, in spite of all that is said about the popular sovereignty there.

Non intervention reigns there, on one side, that is nobody shall intervene to prevent slavery; but on the other side, Congress does intervene and has intervened, to establish it, in this bill, by the protection of the court.

We think, therefore, that resolutions 3 and 5 would contradict and destroy each other if they were in the same platform. For this reason we divide them into two; and think the man who tries to stand on both, ought to understand balancing pretty well, otherwise he may find himself performing some feats of ground and lofty tumbling, not set down in the bills.

THE GREAT FALLS HOMICIDE.—The Coroner's jury on the body of Wm. Maxwell, killed at Great Falls, N. H. on Saturday night last, returned a verdict that he came to his death from blows inflicted by Wm. Hodges, who is now in custody.

We are informed that another Maxwell, a brother of this murdered man, and of course a brother of Lewis Maxwell, who was also killed, last year, committed suicide in the Maine State Prison, some time ago. Thus three brothers have died violent deaths, and these three brethren composed the whole family in the male line.

SONS OF NEWBURYPORT.

We have received from the compiler, Joseph H. Bragdon, a neat pamphlet of 116 pages, giving a good account of the doings and sayings of the Sons of Newburyport, on the occasion of their grand re-union in their native city, on the 4th of July, 1854.

It is a pamphlet of interest, and valuable, especially for future reference and perusal, as a true record of by-gone times and men.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE for August, is just received from Leonard Scott & Co. publishers, New York. Contents:—Tricoupi and Alison on the Greek Revolution; Student Life in Scotland; The Insurrection in Spain; The Ethnology of Europe; The Gangetic Provinces of British India; The Secret of Stoke Manor: a Family History.—Part 3; Conservative Reascendency Considered.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE, for September, contains articles on Donald M'Kay and his ships, Luther and the Reformation, Trip from St. Petersburg to Constantinople, Catacombs of Rome, the Crusades, &c. Agent in this city and vicinity, Rev. Mr. Spalding.

Phrenological Journal, and Water Cure Journal.—These able papers for September are just received from the publishers, Fowlers & Wells, of New York, with an ample apology for their tardiness, viz. the great drought which dried the river where their paper mill is situated.

SPECULATIONS.

The Boston Courier, a commercial paper and conservative withal, is down upon speculators in Coal and Flour.—It says.

At this moment the granaries of the wheat growers of this country are filled to overflowing. Providence has smiled upon their labors, while the hopes and expectations of many other producers are doomed to disappointment. The seaboard is barren of the "staff of life," and the farmers of the west can take occasion to grind the faces of the poor, through the bounty which the plentiful season of this year has thrown upon them. They are rich in their harvest,—they can keep back their grain from the eastern market so long as suits their pleasure, for that is the only market which they are obliged to feed, and from the seaboard they can, as they do, draw the most extortionate prices. They have no market elsewhere. A fortnight ago, the price of a barrel of American flour at the wholesale markets of England was about four dollars less than the same article is now sold at retail in the city of Boston. This an unnatural state of things.—If the conscience of the flour dealer is appealed to, he says that the streams are down,—wheat cannot float to market, and mills will not run,—there is no flour here, and we cannot get it so fast as we can sell it. This is all very plausible, but in the face of the enormous yield of wheat which has now no market outlet whatever—except that high qualities of southern flour are in the usual demand for South America,—to any person with a modicum of sense, it is useless to deny that the present outrageous and extravagant prices of flour are occasioned more by the combined operations of speculators than by any other cause beneath the sun.

The next step should be for the coal operators and the grain growers and speculators to join hands and support each other in keeping up "quotations"—so that flour shall not fall below the famine price, nor coal sink below the freezing point. Two such powerful interests joined could carry all their endeavors.—So long as their purses hold out, they can starve and freeze men into submission. If Adam Smith should return to the earth at the present time, he would look with gastly incredulousness upon his favorite idea in life, that the wages of labor was the standard of prices.

VERMONT ELECTION, took place on Tuesday, and partial returns make it probable that:

Judge Royce, the Whig and anti-Nebraska candidate, is elected Governor by the people, over Clark, the Democratic candidate, and a large scattering vote has been thrown in consequence of Judge Royce's position on the temperance question. Ryland Fletcher, whig, is elected Lieutenant Governor, by a much larger majority, and Henry M. Bates as Treasurer—the two last being on both the whig and temperance tickets.

In the 1st Congressional district Meacham, Whig, is running far ahead of Royce for Governor, and is undoubtedly elected. We have but few returns from the other districts, but the indications are that the Whigs have elected all three.

The Union or anti-Nebraska ticket for Senators is probably elected in Chittenden and Washington counties. It is doubtful whether the Democrats have elected a single Senator.

LOCAL.

PICNIC.

The Middle Street Baptist Society held their picnic on Tuesday, in Mr. Scribner's woods, near Jones' Pond, Raymond. The picnicers started from the Concord Railroad depot in the 10 1-2 o'clock train, filling five long passenger cars, and numbering between two and three hundred. Immediately on arriving at the spot selected, dinner—a very important part of the exercises—was discussed; this ceremony being over, three or four tunes were sung, after which His Honor the Mayor, and Rev. Mr. Lamson addressed the assembled multitude; the remarks of both speakers were brief and to the point. The company were then dismissed for the day, with the injunction to enjoy themselves as they best could, an admonition which was much more generally heeded than good advice usually is. The heat was excessive, and those who weighed over two hundred pounds had to spend most of the time in trying to keep cool, while those less favored with flesh were singing, walking, swinging, and playing those sentimental and affecting games called "Copenhagen," and "Down in the Garden."

An Irish family who occupy a shanty beside the railroad, were very accommodating to the ladies and gentlemen who called on them for water or any thing else they could furnish. It being the only residence near, the ladies had to step in to get a peep at the mirror, for what can the ladies do without mirrors. Among the usual and almost invariable things to be found in such places was a small baby, and never did we set eyes on a more contented and docile creature of its species. It was handled by Tom, Dick and Harry, not to mention scores of ladies, and appeared to like the attention much. Just before the train started for home, a collection was taken up for the baby, amounting to between four and five dollars, and a formal presentation made; the baby was decidedly the lion of the day.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Alfred Hoyt of Durham, was coming from Durham with a gondola loaded with ship timber and hay, on Wednesday morning, about 3 o'clock.

The gondola had just got fairly into the river, and being too early for the tide, the captain concluded to let her drift a while. Finding themselves nearer Boiling Rock than was deemed advisable, they attempted to pull out into the river, but did not succeed in getting far enough before they struck broadside on. She bilged, and threw overboard a young man named Daniel Sherburne, a student of Durham Academy, who was drowned. Had the boat taken her own course, she would probably have gone clear on the inside of the rock.

Mr. Sherburne was a son of Elder Sherburne of Barrington, and was about 20 years of age.

☞ The weather in July was hot, that of August hotter, and now it is four degrees of comparison beyond that, though the thermometer has not been able to register much higher than it did on the fourth of July. Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday were about right to take down dickeys, with the thermometer at 95 to 97. The workmen in Vaughan street gave out, and were enabled to continue their work only by spreading an awning to screen them from the sun. The masons on the New North Church were obliged to suspend work entirely.

☞ Those who wish to keep cool this hot weather, will do well to purchase a ticket and join our Pleasant street friends in their excursion to Raymond to-day. See notice, "Railroad Excursion and Pic Nic."

RAILROAD EXCURSION AND PIC NIC.—The Pleasant Street Society and Sabbath School are to have a Pic Nic at Raymond, this day, Thursday, September 7, in Blake's woods, near the depot in that village.

Tickets, for adults 25 cents, and for children 15 cents, can be obtained at the stores of Joseph Harvey, Sam'l W. Moses, and Sylvester Gilbert.

The cars will leave the depot of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad at 10 1-2 o'clock.

SHIP CHATSWORTH.—This splendid ship of 1200 tons burthen, intended for a place in Train & Co.'s line of Boston and Liverpool packets, left here on Wednesday, in tow of a steamer for Boston.

She was built by Capt. Samuel Badger, at Kittery Fore Side, under the direction of Capt. Daniel Marcy, of this city, which is equivalent to saying that she is a superior ship in every particular. This is the first ship Train & Co. have had built on this river, and they have now another in frame at the yard where this was built.

Her cabins are beautifully and tastefully finished and furnished, her between-decks spacious, of good height and well ventilated, and her equipment throughout is complete. She is probably not excelled by any ship that ever sailed in that line.

☞ Services will be held in the Catholic Church in this city next Sunday, at 10 1-2 o'clock. Subject of the discourse—The necessity of an infallible tribunal to settle doubts in matters of religion.

DROWNED.—Joseph W. Odlon, son of Mr. Mr. Samuel Odlon, of Jenkins's Island below Portsmouth, was drowned at Pembroke, on Tuesday, being taken with the cramp while bathing. He was a student at Pembroke Military Institute, and was 16 years of age. His body was brought to this city for interment.

PARIS BOSOMS.—A new supply of Paris BOSOMS just received at s5 W. J. LAIGHTON'S.

FROM THE PROVINCES.—We have papers from St. John of Saturday last by the Governor. The papers are calculating the prospects of taking fresh fish to the United States markets after the reciprocity treaty goes into operation. The Halifax Morning Chronicle says:

Looking into the future it requires nothing beyond a little common sense to see that the query of—Who is to supply the cities of the United States with fresh fish?—is one of the greatest questions ever presented to the Nova Scotia public. Here we have nearly thirty millions of customers with the ready cash in their hands in exchange for a commodity which costs us nothing except the outfit necessary to catch it.

The Chronicle was waked up in its ideas by the appearance of a halibut schooner in its waters, which had put in to salt the fish which had been caught for the New York market. The St. John News says also:

We happen to be aware that last winter an American fishing schooner, with a crew of fourteen men, quietly dropped anchor one fine day in Long Island Bay, near the Northern Head of Grand Manan, and in three days secured six thousand codfish, at that season in prime condition. These fish froze almost as soon as they were caught, and they were carried to Boston, where the cargo realized between two and three thousand dollars.

FROM ST. JOHN, N. B.—The St. John News, Sept. 1st, has an article of a column and a half under the head of a "Yankee Trick." It appears that the merchants of St. John have been in the habit of sending to Boston and other American ports cargoes of scantling, refuse deals, pine boards, &c., the duty on which is twenty per cent.

The duty on the articles is twenty per cent., and the merchants of St. John have been in the habit of sending and invoice of the value certified by the American Consul at St. John.

The News charges that an appraiser was sent to St. John to spy out facts in regard to the matter, and as the News alleges, drawing false inferences from the facts, has in some cases raised the duty to 80 per cent., on the ground that the penalty for selling goods below the value, was double the duty.

The News adds:

The effect is, our trade with the United States is entirely suspended. We are informed that there are several cargoes of salt now in St. John for the American market, but our merchants are afraid to send them forward, as they do not know what may be the next move in the American custom houses, and they think it best to keep out of danger.

THE WEATHER AND CROPS.—The rain makes the farmers turn their hats up in front. Visions of fall feed, so abundant that their cattle will not need to be barn-fed till December, float before their minds. Everybody rejoices—wells, springs and brooks have been dry, and even thousands in this State have been obliged to go miles, literally, for water; vegetation has been nearly killed at the roots, trees put on the "sere and yellow leaf"—fires raged in the woods and fields, and threatened destruction to every village. Hence, what pleasure came with the first rain-drops of yesterday morning, and how happy all have been at the continuance of the storm! Yesterday the rain came at intervals, putting the earth into good temper for more, and last night it was a continued patter.—Manchester Mirror, Saturday.

The rain will be a great relief to the parched fields, and will improve the fall feed. It is probably too late to be of much use to corn and potatoes. Of corn, we understand that the crop in central Massachusetts will be nearly or quite an average one. Potatoes will be quite light. As yet they remain sound.—Worcester Spy.

I. O. of O. F.—BALTIMORE, Sept. 4th.—The following are the Chairmen of the Committees of the Grand Lodge of I. O. of O. F.:—On Credentials, Mr. Race of Louisiana; State of Order, Mr. Fitzburg, of Virginia; Correspondence, Mr. Askew, of Delaware; Finance, Mr. Kellogg, of Michigan; Petitions, Mr. Williams, of Ohio; Appeals, Mr. Ellison, of Massachusetts; Returns, Mr. Senter, of New Hampshire; Renting, Mr. Hodgson, of District of Columbia; Mileage, Mr. Hale, of Southern New York; Constitutions, Mr. Hockelman, of Indiana; Grand Bodies not represented, Mr. Foote, of Mississippi. Past Grand Master Ellison, of Mass. was elected Grand Sire.

EXTORTION.—The Troy Whig gives an instance of extortion during the late fire in that city, where a cartman charged five dollars to remove a piano the distance of six blocks, and says that "the details of extortion that have come to our knowledge, have done more to convince us of the total depravity of man than anything in our previous experience. If men were duly punished for all they did within the four hours the fire was raging on the 25th, our State Prisons would for all future time, or at least until this race of villains died out, be filled to overflowing."

FATAL BRUTALITY.—In the Southron of the 10th ult. published at Holmesville, Mississippi, we find the particulars of a shocking affair, in which a slave was beaten to death by an overseer named J. L. Parker, near that place. The negro had been a fugitive from his master for several weeks, and on being captured, was delivered into the hands of the overseer with directions not to punish him too severely. This order was disregarded. The negro was tied up and whipped with switches cut from the woods, four or five being used at a time in the hands of two negroes, who were relieved by others until the whipping had lasted about an hour, and the slave expired.—A coroner's inquest was held, and a verdict of manslaughter rendered against Parker, who made his escape.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A bill to prohibit the sale of liquors in Washington, was discussed in the City Council last evening. It was considered by sections. The right of search was stricken out. A final vote will be taken next Monday. The passage of the bill is extremely doubtful.

So we should think. Washington is one of the most dissipated places in the Union; and the customs of a Republic make its laws. How essential then, is popular virtue to public peace.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. Kelley, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with the Liver Complaint, in California. Erysipelas and Liver Complaint in a patient was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 8 to 3 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice,

its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the liver, opening the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR FOSTIVENESS

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now finished his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and cleanness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need mending, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so extensive business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in recommending inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Late Commissioner of Patents."

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with same power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

DARK CRIMES.—We are not of that fantastic school of philosophers who feign to believe that the dark spots in the human character can be brightened by severe penal legislation—that rum can be destroyed by an ingenious legal enactment—that man can be reformed by persecution and exposure. Nor do we sympathise as much with the criminal as with those whom he has outraged. Rigor in a prison, according to our ethics, is better for the public morals than that maudlin philanthropy which extols villainy and sanctifies and excuses great crimes.

But there are offences committed—committed to the knowledge of many persons of high standing in the community—which to punish and expose is a duty and a virtue. The details of one has recently reached us, which is so enormous in its circumstances, so awful in its results, that the blood chills and burns alternately at its recital. Three years ago, in a neighboring town—on a day when a thousand tongues were uttering eloquent praises of the virtue of our people—a fair maiden, a native of Scotland, was seduced by the scoundrel promises of the son of wealthy parents, in whose house she was a domestic.

In due time, nature developed itself. The girl confided in her betrayer to the last, and consented at his bidding to place herself in the charge of the local physician. That individual, after consulting with a Boston doctor, conveyed the girl to this city, under pretence that she was to be taken to the house of a discreet family, where her shame could be disguised and her situation kept secret. Instead of this, the two physicians carried the girl to a brothel, locked her up in a room, and there, without attendance, she was delivered.

The seducer's friends called soon after the child was born, and found the young mother prostrate and bewildered. While in this state, instead of ministering to her pressing physical wants, they extorted a bond of safety for the seducer, and stole away the child! To be sure, they promised the sick mother that if she would sign a release contract they would give her fifty dollars; but if they received money for such a purpose, they kept it.

After many weeks of suffering, the girl recovered her bodily health; but her mind was still diseased. The loss of her virtue and the absence of her infant—the spirit of hope broken forever—oppressed her, and eventually overthrew her reason. A few weeks ago she was removed to a mad-house, a frantic maniac, uttering wild words of kindness of him who had prostrated her.

This sounds like a French tale; but it is not fiction. It is a transaction with a real heroine; and mean lackeys are connected in fact.

And by the side of this unwhipped crime, we will record another. Not many weeks ago a woman abandoned her child in South street. She was subsequently arrested, confessed her guilt, and the officers, without one form of judicial proceeding, let her go! With these sad details before us, the question is irresistible, Which is the worst, the rich seducer, the child-stealer, the mother who throws her living infant in the street—or they who pitch coppers in a side alley on a Sunday.—Boston Cour.

COTTON.—The intelligence from Europe shows a declining market for cotton, while the accounts from the cotton-growing States show the weather to be of the most favorable character, and picking is going on extensively. New cotton comes in quite freely to the shipping ports, and is said to be generally of a high grade, with good staple and color.

The prospect now is, that unless some adventitious circumstances occur, which cannot now be foreseen, we are to have a very large crop of cotton, and that it will be sold at a price so low as to fail entirely of remunerating the planters, at the present high price of land and negroes, and the expected high price of subsistence.—Newburyport Herald.

A HARD HIT.—About the hardest hit we have seen is the following, which is contained in John Mitchell's recent letter to Archbishop Hughes:—

"Now does your Grace see any thing so horrible in a plantation of negroes? Are you not aware that priests, bishops, monasteries, yea, Popes, have held slaves? Yet it is not wonderful that you should not covet a plantation in the South, so long as you possess that enviable piece of property, the Calvary Cemetery, where I see by the newspapers 448 of your flock were buried last week at a fee of FIVE DOLLARS per corpse to you. I wish your Grace joy. I shall be almost tempted, instead of a well-stocked plantation in Alabama, to wish for a well-peopled grave yard on Long Island."

CHURCH SPECULATION IN LAND.—A society has been formed by members of the Episcopal Church, for the purpose of raising a fund to purchase Western lands, which may serve in future for building sites for churches, or grow in town lots at $50 per foot. Bishop Kemple is the president of the association, Robert B. Minturn, of New York, treasurer, and Rev. A. N. Littejohn, of New Haven, one of the secretaries. The idea of the society was suggested during the recent Rock Island excursion, probably by the fortunate pecuniary result attending the early purchased land of the Episcopal Church at St Paul's, Minnesota, when $300 wisely invested a few years ago has now produced $20,000, or more.

The society desires to raise $10,000, and particularly solicits twenty contributions of $500 each, which will make up that amount. —New Haven Journal.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBLAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1854.

SENATOR DOUGLAS.

It has been already stated that the citizens of Chicago, very unwisely as we think, refused to give a hearing to the author of the Nebraska bill at the meeting which was called to hear his explanation and defence on Friday evening. The following account of what he did manage to say in spite of the "noise and confusion," is not without interest:—

The Nebraska Meeting.—Pursuant to the notice of Senator Douglas, that he would address the citizens of Chicago upon the principles of the Nebraska bill, a large crowd assembled at an early hour at the North Market Hall. At half past seven it is estimated that there were 5000 persons present, and from that time until the speaker rose, large accessions were constantly made. The street in front of the Hall was blocked up for a long distance, and the adjoining house tops were literally swarming with people.

Mr. Douglas arose and observed that he had come to explain the objects and provisions of the Nebraska bill. This announcement was followed by a storm of hisses, groans, cheers, &c. He then said he would answer all questions put to him in a respectful manner. He had come to lay before the people the grand principles of the Nebraska bill. They did not understand the bill, and but few of them had ever read it. This remark drew forth such a tornado of discordant noises that it was some time before he could proceed. He proceeded: The whole of the city press have united in condemning me, but none of them have published my bill in order that it might vindicate itself. You see they have done me gross injustice. You have been told that the bill was a measure to extend slavery into territory then free. (Yells, groans, hisses, &c. for some minutes.) The bill does not legislate slavery anywhere, the statement that the bill legislates slavery either way is untrue. I will expose the slanders heaped upon me. The principle of the bill is to allow the people the privilege of regulating their own institutions, in their own manner. This is the great principle that our revolutionary fathers struggled for.—(Laughter.) This is the great principle upon which the glorious Declaration of Independence is founded. (A voice—"All men created free and equal.") Gentlemen, if you will be quiet, I will go on, but it is impossible for me to proceed with so much interruption.—(Renewed interruption.) Personal violence has been threatened me if I dared to come here and vindicate myself, but I intend to speak, and intend to be heard. I repeat, you don't understand the measure. The state of New York has the same right to have slavery as Kansas or Nebraska.

The state of Illinois wants slavery herself. (Tremendous uproar.) You listen gentlemen, to all who come to address you, but you drown my voice, so that I shall not be heard. I ask all to keep silence and not disturb the meeting. (The Mayor here arose, and told the policemen in the crowd to arrest any one who should be seen throwing any missiles.) (Renewed uproar.) I must again request you to be silent. You deny that it is correct to allow the people the right of self-government. You say, too, that it was wrong to repeal the Missouri Compromise. (Cries of yes for some minutes.) Will any man rise and tell me that he was ever in favor of that compromise?—(Cries of yes and renewed disturbance.) I will proceed to show that none of you were ever in favor of the Missouri Compromise.—(No, no.) First, the Free Soilers, who voted for Van Buren in 1848—their platform repudiated all compromises with slavery. Having thus disposed of the Free Soilers and Abolitionists—(No! no!! no!!!) Gentlemen I will relieve the Free Soilers and Abolitionists if they desire it. None of them were ever in favor of the law until Douglas talked of repealing it. Was any one in this crowd in favor of it? (Continued cries of yes, "Dug was in favor of it himself.") I will show you why I did not stick to it, if you will keep silent.—(Go on.) The compromise measures of 1850 affirmed the great principles of the non-intervention of Congress with the question of slavery. This made it right to remove the Missouri restriction, and I did it. (Groans and hisses.) Would any one here like to see the Missouri Compromise re-enacted? (Cries of yes and continued noise and disturbance.) The Illinois Legislature passed resolutions instructing me to support the principles of non-intervention. In the House sixty-one voted for the resolution and four against it. (Nine cheers for the four.) I was instructed by the Legislature of my own state, and I acted accordingly.

Gentlemen, by the Nebraska bill the people are allowed the right of self-government. (A voice, "Who appoints the Governor and Judges?") The President of the United States. (Three groans for Pierce.) He appoints Judges in every State in the Union, why should he not in Nebraska and Kansas?—("Read the section of the bill." "Read the bill.") The bill was published in one of your city papers to-day, and you can read it at your leisure. (Don't take that paper. A voice. "What a head.") The best interests of the United States required that my bill should become a law, and that the right of the people to self-regulation should be recognized.—(A voice, "Let the niggers govern themselves.") Gentlemen, we are not talking about niggers, we are talking about the Nebraska-Kansas bill.

Gentlemen, you have had a convention lately, in the First Congressional district.—(Three cheers for Washburn!) (Cries for the Harbor bill.) You can't hear anything about the harbor bill to-night, I am talking about the Nebraska bill, and I intend to talk about it. If you think to put a stop to the free discussion of this measure, you are dealing with the wrong person. I shall stay here and talk as long as it suits my convenience.—(Chorus: "We won't go home till morning, till morning. We won't go home till morning, till daylight doth appear.")

T. Hoyne, Esq., U. S. District Attorney, here appeared and being unable to make himself heard was assisted by Mr. Douglas to a seat. The Mayor also attempted to address the audience, but failed in securing any attention.

Mr. Douglas again essayed to speak, but was greeted by a storm of groans, shouts, &c. Turning to Mr. Bross, the editor of the Democratic Press, he remarked that he here saw the effects of instigating a mob, or words to that effect. Renewed disturbance followed, and it was seen to be impossible to continue. Mr. Douglas then read a letter purporting to have been sent to him through the post office since his return from Washington, threatening disturbance if he attempted to speak in public in Chicago, and even hinted his removal to another sphere of existence. He then leaned against the railing of the stage and made indistinct remarks about a "mob" and about Chicago as the "great mob city" of the Union. This did not seem to allay the surging tumult very materially, and groans, shouts, hisses, &c., continued in fierce confusion.—The speaker then defied the crowd to put him down, and said that he should speak again and again and again if necessary, until he secured a respectful attention. (Cries of "Good! Good!" "Do it more!" "Try it again!") Another attempt to speak on the Nebraska question was succeeded by a perfect typhoon of discordant voices, and cries of "Small giant!" "Little Dug!" "Milliken!" "Dr. McVicker!" "Cook, carry him home!" "Young America!" &c.

After a short consultation it was deemed prudent to adjourn, and the company on the stand retired. Most of the crowd then dispersed. Some of them, however, formed in a procession and marched with torches to the Tremont House, where they waited a while for another speech. Not being gratified they gradually separated, and here was the finale of this most fatal attempt at "conquering prejudices" and "whipping in."

The above is from the Chicago Journal, and seems to be a correct report. We like the idea of a dialogue, between a stump speaker and his hearers; and think some passages in the above dialogue are quite amusing. But, as we have before stated, we condemn, in toto, this gagging down of the author of the Nebraska bill. He, however, has no right to complain; for he and his coadjutors in Congress disdainfully refused to hear the clerical protest, and used all the means in their power to have its signers gagged off at home.—And now, at the Honorable Senator's home, the poisoned chalice comes back to his own lips—presented, not by a clerical clique, but by the roaring unterrified democracy of Chicago.

COAT OF A PIRATICAL EXPEDITION.—The London Times, as was stated in the National Intelligencer a day or two ago, described the capture of Washington by the British in 1814 as "little more than a piratical and fruitless surprise."

A glance at the cost of an expedition which shed "so much glory "upon the arms of the marauder may not be uninteresting.

Gen. Ross, in his official account of the affair, says it was suggested by Sir George Cockburn, who accompanied the army on the occasion, and gives his loss as follows: 1 captain, 2 lieutenants, 5 sergeants, 56 rank and file, 10 horses, killed; 2 lieutenant colonels, 1 major, 1 captain, 14 lieutenants, 2 ensigns, 10 sergeants, 155 rank and file, and 8 horses, wounded. Total, 64 killed; 185 wounded.

The National Intelligencer of the 1st September, 1818, says that there were from three to four hundred deserters from the British army; and, in another paragraph, that "the loss of the enemy, in his incursion to the metropolis, before he reached his ships, probably exceeded one thousand men. He lost at least two hundred in the battle and by explosion, [at Greenleaf's Point,] and 300 to 400 wounded. Many died of fatigue, numbers were taken prisoners by the cavalry hanging on his rear, and not a few deserted."

The writer of this well recollects seeing from thirty to forty prisoners on Capitol Hill, in the house belonging to the late Dr. Ewell; and a few days after probably twenty more brought into the city from the Patuxent.

The destruction of public and private property probably amounted to two millions of dollars.—National Intelligencer.

A SAD OCCURRENCE.—In Chicago, on the night of the 25th ult. while a party of young men were serenading with bell, tin pans, &c. one of their acquaintances who had been married on the previous evening, a window was suddenly thrown open, and a gun discharged twice at the throng. The gun was loaded with buck-shot, several of which took effect in the forehead of a young man named Edmund Adams, causing his death in a few hours.—The young husband, who is supposed to have fired the shot, was named Cyrus H. Larkin.—Both of the parties belonged to highly respectable families, and had been esteemed as quiet and exemplary young men.

THE VICISSITUDES OF LIFE.—The St. Louis Anzeiger says that early one morning recently, the city hearse stopped at a house and received a coffin, made of rough boards. The occupant of the coffin was once the lovely Rosa Neschemi, the daughter of an immensely wealthy and polished nobleman of Austria. She married a rich French nobleman, who was killed in the July revolution at Paris, and whose name is inscribed on the column in the Blace de la Bastille. Two of the three sons, after attaining high positions in life, were assassinated. The mother found a temporary asylum in Switzerland, from whence she followed her third son to New Orleans, where he shortly dissipated the small remnant of her fortune. She turned her steps to St. Louis, where she died in poverty and suffering.

An English schooner with 60 cords of wood, came into the river, yesterday, sailed up by all the wharves, sent her boat ashore to try the the market, and finding it unsatisfactory, left and went to Rockport.—We understad the master demanded $8 a cord and the wood dealer would give him but $7,75. His pilotage in and out must be more than the difference in the price, but it showed John Bull's pluck.—A yankee in the circumstances would have hauled in to the wharf and set about retailing his cargo.—Newburyport Herald.

LOCAL.

CHINESE SWINDLING.

One of our Grocers went to Boston a few days since, and as he has often done before, made up an invoice of such eatables and drinkables as he thought would suit the citizens of Portsmouth, Kittery and other towns adjacent; and among the good things, he had some chests of excellent Tea, which he bought, as usual, by sample. These chests were, as is now the fashion, properly encased in Chinese mats, for strength and tightness.

One of these chests we have seen; and on the mat were these satisfactory marks:

Stag Hound.
B. C.
Curious
Mayune
Gunpowder
Seuqua.
No. 3.

These marks are thus carefully copied, because if any body wants to buy curious tea, this is the very article; we never saw the like before. The grocer cut open the mat; the chest looked like a genuine Chinese box, as it was: opened the cover; and there was the vermillion letter of recommendation for the tea: lastly cut open the lead; and behold, not tea at all, but a villainous bushel of rubbish. Most of the bulk was composed of the chaff or hulls of rice; and then, because this light stuff would not weigh enough to pay, and at the same time would lead to detection of the cheat, it was aided by a collection of unburnt brick-bats and fragments of bricks, evidently of Chinese origin, enough to make the chest up to average weight.

A lady who has spent some time in China, says the Chinese make their Idols of the same kind of baked clay, which we have in this tea-chest. It is therefore quite probable that some Chinese manufacturer of Idols, has played a trick on us Yankees, by sending us fragments of his deities, in lieu of that delectable beverage which refreshes so many good christians. And all this for a little money. We fear he has not read Confucius—or if he has, we think he don't mind him much better than many Christians do the Sermon on the Mount.

JOLLIFICATION IN THE WOODS.—The picnic excursion of the Pleasant Street Baptist Sabbath School, which was postponed from last week, came off Thursday, at Blake's woods, in Raymond. It was a lovely day, and about four hundred people availed themselves of the opportunity offered for a cheap ride and a day's recreation in the country. Dinner came first in the order of exercises, and we were lucky enough to fall into the hands of a number of ladies who are excellent cooks, and who fed us to our heart's content on the fat of the land. A number of pieces were sung by the choir, and a few remarks made by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Cummings, after which the throng separated to enjoy the usual sports on such occasions. A large number of rowdies were present, who amused themselves on the way home by yelling and dancing, to the great terror of several elderly single ladies who were present.

☞ A quorum of Aldermen being present last evening, a few items of business were transacted, the most important of which was an order for the Treasurer to pay a city note of $2000, and a reference to a committee, of the application of the watchmen for increase of pay.

THE RELIGOUS RIOT AT NEWARK, N. J.—The account of the breaking up of a Protestant procession at Newark was related by the telegraph yesterday. The New York Courier says of it in its leading article of yesterday.—

It is with mingled indignation and sorrow that we have to record the riotous proceedings at Newark yesterday. A peaceable procession of American citizens stoned by Irish Catholics from the sidewalk and fired into by Irish Catholics from a church—and the church itself in turn sacked and riddled! Taking the account to be substantially correct—and we hardly know how to doubt it, for, as regards the first attack, it accords fully with the history of previous disturbances of the same kind—the Irish are the guilty party. And though it could be wished that the Americans had refrained from doing violence to the church, and contented themselves with driving, if necessary, their assailants from it, yet it is vain to expect that strict discretion will be observed when the blood has once been hot by so brutal a provocation. It is idle—it is worse than that, it is wrong and disgraceful to undertake to divide the culpability. Those who made the first assault must be held responsible for it—both at the bar of justice and before public opinion.—There is no extenuation for these outrages, nor is there any condemnation too severe for them.

We doubt not that the immediate perpetrators of these attacks are ignorant and bigoted to the last degree; but the very fact that they are thus ignorant and bigoted puts them so much the more under ecclesiastical influence. Why is not this influence more powerfully exercised for the prevention of these enormities? Why does the church let its thunders sleep when such deeds are committed by those who call themselves its "faithful"? We write in no sectarian or censorious spirit, but we can tell the ecclesiastical overseers of the Irish Catholic population of this country, that their tacit connivance—we know not that we might not say assent—in those ever-recurring outrages upon the indisputable rights of American freeman, is rousing against them a spirit of of hostility they would do well to shun. The feeling is taking possession even of the calmest hearts. For the good of the Roman Catholic Church, and in the name of the country, let it be heeded and at once.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The British steamship Africa, Capt. Harrison, from Liverpool Aug. 27, arrived at half past 7 o'clock this morning.

Full particulars of the capture of Bomarsund have come to hand. No further operations have taken place either in the Baltic or Black Sea.

On the 20th the Austrian army of occupation entered Wallachia. The whole of Wallachia, and perhaps Moldavia, will be occupied. The Russians are still concentrated on the Prath, and the Turks at Bucharest. No immediate battle is expected. The expedition to the Crimea had not yet sailed.

The Turks met with a terrible defeat at Kass, and lost 2000 men as prisoners.

An accidental fire at Varna had destroyed one-third of the town.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 23.—It is reported here that if the pending negotiations for the occupation of the Aland Islands by Sweden, with 20,000 Swedish troops, should fail, the fortifications of Bomarsund are to be blown up before the first of September.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—[From the Times city article of Friday evening.] The English funds have been steady to-day. The continuation of good accounts from the harvests having been sufficient to counteract the effect in the market of a rather full supply of money.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The war steamer Santa Anna is getting ready for her departure for Vera Cruz. She is pierced for fourteen guns, though she will only mount ten twenty-four pounders.

The Evening Post is authority for the following statement:—It is said that Gen. Alvarez, the opponent of Santa Anna, is now in this city, engaged in fitting out an armed expedition against the present Mexican government. Three or four vessels have been named as being connected with the business, and among others the propeller steamship Benjamin Franklin, which formerly was engaged in the trade from New York to New orleans, and previously between Boston and Philadelphia. She has on board ten thirty-two pounders and all the ammunition requisite for a naval engagement if such a thing should be necessary. It is further rumored that she will sail from this port several days before the Santa Anna, and take the latter vessel at sea. Her officers and crew are Americans, all of whom will be liberally rewarded in case of success. It is even intimated that there is an understanding between the opposing parties to unite at sea, and place the Santa Anna in possession of Alvarez. The other vessels of Alvarez's party are said to be a ship, a brig, and a schooner.

They are preparing for sea at some point on the North or East river, but the work is carried on so secretly that the precise locality cannot be discovered. A portion of the seven millions of dollars paid by the United States to the Mexican government for the Gadsden grant, is likely to be forwarded to Vera Cruz by the Santa Anna; and this is also said to be an inducement to enlist Americans in the expedition of Alvarez. After the capture of the vessel, the plunder is to be divided.

The Courier des Etats Unis says that the celebrated George Law muskets have been reshipped on board bark Catharine Augusta, now lying on the North river, near Canal street. The same vessel has taken on board a considerable quantity of powder and a supply of coal. She is said to be intended to cruise with the Ben. Franklin, probably to some point in the Mexican coast, some say Tampico.

A man named Banister, who, in 1847, defrauded several mercantile firms in New York of goods to the amount of $25,000 and escaped to California, was arrested in this city on Saturday.

DUEL. — Cincinnati, 6th.—A young man named Short, a clerk in a dry goods store in this city, and a young lawyer named Peacock, from Chicago, fought a duel in Kentucky yesterday. Short was fatally wounded in the left breast at the second fire. They fought about a young lady to whom Short was engaged to be married.

SLAVES ESCAPED.—Nine slaves ran off from Boone county, Ky., on Sunday night, and are supposed to be in this city. Their masters arrived here this evening, and offer a reward for their recovery.

LOUISVILLE, 5th.—A boiler exploded at McQuiston's brewery, at Madison, Ind., this evening, demolishing the building totally.—The boiler is said to have ascended one thousand feet, and in falling, went through the roof of a shop two hundred and fifty feet distant. No person was injured, but several narrowly escaped with their lives.

LAMP EXPLOSION.—The wife of Mr. E. A. Richardson, of Groveland, arose at an early hour a few mornings since, to attend upon the wants of a sick child. She took a match, ignited it and applied it to the wick of a new thick glass lamp, partially filled with burning fluid, standing on the mantle piece. The instant the match was applied, the lamp exploded with a loud report, breaking the glass into a thousand pieces, and throwing the blazing fluid upon Mrs. Richardson, burning her dreadfully. She was not expected to survive, but we are happy to learn she is now living. We have been somewhat circumstantial in the details of the above, in order to show the facts in the case to that portion of the community who still believe that burning fluid lamps will not explode, and that only the careless are injured.—Haverhill Banner.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!

THE CELEBRITY OF
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Ritters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb recently discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—caring the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a remedy. Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, three bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had tumors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal popularity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

ELIAS BOUDINOT.—Wonderful Preservation.—A writer in the Boston Recorder, as an illustration of the Providential care which God sometimes exercises over His people, relates the following marvellous incident, and vouches for it as authentic:

Elias Boudinot, founder of the American Bible Society, was returning in his chaise to his home late in a dark night, from a court he had been attending many days. He did not know that a recent fresher had carried away all the planks from the long bridge which lay in his accustomed path. Therefore he drove right on, as though there were a bridge there, and reached home safely. His friends inquired by what road he came.

'The usual road,' he replied.

'Impossible,' said they, 'there are no planks on the bridge.'

He persisted, and they, trembling for his veracity or his sanity, went with him next morning early, to survey. When arrived, they found the very tracks of the carriage at either end of the bridge and on the sleepers, and the very foot prints of his horse on a central sleeper. There was no more to be said—sanity and veracity were both safe. Some power had presided over the instinct of that horse, had ordained the correspondence of those wheels with the sleepers over which they passed, and kept the man in ignorance of his danger. Was that power fate, or chance? O my doubting friend, I turn from you and listen to another voice, 'Hast thou not known, hast thou not heard that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary?'

If authority for the above is demanded, reference may be had to the family, particularly to Mrs. Adriana Boudinot, of Beaverwycke, N. J., a near relative of Judge Boudinot, from whose mouth she received the account. The same respected lady will pardon the writer for relating her account of a passage in the history of her own family, illustrating our point.

GRISI'S DEBUT.—The New York papers concur in praises of the performances of Grisi and Mario, who made their debut at Castle Garden on Monday night, in the opera of Lucrezia Borgia. The reception of the artists was hearty. The Courier & Enquirer gives the following description of the performances and the performers:

Does any one who would understand the information need to be told that Grisi has a mezzo soprano voice of remarkable compass and power,—that her style is eminently declamatory and dramatic, in fact that it is the dramatic style which most prima donnas of the day imitate,—that she sings with great intensity of expression? No one, our critical task is short. Grisi last evening showed all these qualities which were looked for as much as if they had been promised by the item in the programme. It was in the most dramatic and exciting passages of the opera, such as the final duett of the second act and the last scene of the third, that she achieved her greatest success. It is evidently more as a musical tragedian than as a vocalist that she has been great. Personally Madame Grisi is an eye-filling woman,—a sumptuous creature, who should be brought in upon a silver gilt salver as Jael brought forth butter on a lordly dish. Her brow broadens beautifully over her ox-like eyes, and her head is set upon her neck like Juno's.

Signor Mario is in the prime of his beauty and his voice, and is undeniably a very pretty fellow. He gets himself up with exquisite elaboration; and if he ever use that sweet voice of his to woo any other ear than that of a paying public he must be a very dangerous person. His singing is of the light and graceful school. His voice, mellow and full in its lower register, is limited in the range of its upper chest tones; and he transposes, or rather modifies, all high passages of energy; those of a graceful character he executes very prettily by the use of his head voice and falsetto, over which he has obtained marvellous control. The ease with which he sings is partly due to natural advantages, and partly to the excellence of his method, which is irreproachable and formed on the best models. He gave Di pescator with a remarkable degree of grace and tenderness.

These distinguished artists were not left without worthy support. Signor Lusini, a basso with a noble voice and a fine declamatory style, appeared as Duke Alphonso, and fairly divided the applause with Grisi and Mario themselves.

A YANKEE TRICK.—A watch was handed into the store of John Stevens & Co., one of our jewellers, recently, having been forwarded by mail from Pensacola, Florida for repairs. It seems that the owner of it, one of our townsmen, now in the latter place, had carried it to a jeweller there to be repaired, inquiring at the time what his bill would be. He asked him $8 for doing the work. He demurred at the price, but was told by the jeweller that he could not help himself, as he was the only person in the place who could repair watches. But the owner, with true Yankee spirit, told him he wouldn't stand that, but would send the watch to Bangor for repairs. As good as his word, he put the watch, nicely packed, into the mail, and sent it to this city. It arrived safely, and doubtless will be safely returned. The bill for repairs here is $2; the postage each way is 20 cents.—Bangor Mercury.

The New York papers state that the ticket for the first choice of a seat to hear the Italian singers Grisi and Mario, which sold for $250, was purchased by an English lady, who has fallen in love with Sig. Mario, and has followed him wherever he has gone, in this way, having also taken passage in the same vessels and stopped at the same public houses, notwithstanding Mario has paid no attention to her and neglects all her advances. This story is a trick of the trade to fill the house. There is not the slightest probability of any lady thus publicly courting Mario, right in the face and eyes of his wife and all the world.—The lady undoubtedly has her part to play in gulling the flats.—Newburyport Herald.

The Abingdon (Va.) Democrat of Saturday last says:

"Recent rains have taken the curls out of the corn and relieved a good many farmers of the wrinkles on their faces. The corn crop is not altogether so hopeless as was expected.—Wherever the land was p'oughed deep, the prospects for a tolerable crop are good, notwithstanding the severe drought."

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1854.

Editorial Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FORTNIGHT IN MAINE.

NO. TWO.

BRUNSWICK, Me. Sept. 6, 1854.

From South Berwick, we took the road back or north of Agamenticus, to Portland,—passing through Sandford, Alfred, Waterborough, Standish, Gorham, &c. All along the road were gloomy marks of the fires in the woods—mile after mile of black earth and charred trees on either side of the road, fences torn down, trenches ploughed, &c. to stay the flames. In Sanford, it is estimated that four thousand acres of woodland have been burnt over. We were continually in sight of smoke rising from the burning woods, and occasionally our road lay very near the fires.

Throughout our entire ride, with the exception of that between Augusta and Brunswick on our return, the "powder and dust" has been quite an obstacle in the way of making progress or attaining comfort. Our only relief was from the chain-pumps at the houses along the road,—the brooks being all dried up.—These pumps are becoming very numerous, and deservedly so.

At Alfred, a very handsome building is in course of erection, for a Court House, Probate and Register's Office, &c. The main building is of wood, with fire-proof wings built entirely of brick and iron, for the various offices. It will cost, we were informed, probably $70,000; and is built just at this time, perhaps, by the County Commissioners, (who are this year all from the small towns,) to prevent the removal of the shire-towns to Saco and Biddeford, as is desired by the seacoast citizens of York county. We had expected to find more of a settlement at Alfred—the village proper is hardly larger than Newington.

A couple of miles below Alfred, we pass the Shaker Village, a thrifty looking community enough, though lacking the nicety of the Lebanon Shakers. Their houses generally look well, save the naked appearance the entire absence of blinds gives them. Their horses were rigged with the customary wooden harness of the Shakers, without collar—very similar to an ox-bow, although each horse has the wooden instrument shaped to suit his neck. We were cheered by the sight of several of the belles of the fraternity, in their scoop-bonnets, and their gowns all skirt. We commend to those nice young men, who think the prevailing fashion of short-waisted coats is beautiful, the adoption of the Shaker style. We observed that with some the trailing dress was adopted, as in more civilized society.

Our view was enlivened with frequent sights of beautiful ponds of fresh water, the chief of which was Wacheog and Sebago. On the banks of the first we spent nearly a day. We were treated to "a sail" o'er the waters—the propelling force of the craft, however, being applied to the oars instead of the canvass.—At night, and in the morning, the numerous loons found here, discoursed their odd songs—which we found to consist of three distinct sorts,—one, a long clear whistle, calling to our mind the sweet notes of the dying swan, as we imagine them. It is said respecting Sebago Lake, which is a very large sheet of water, that no person drowned here was ever recovered—some peculiar consistency of the water, causing all bodies immersed in it to sink to rise no more. We can't say as to this, whether true or not—as we didn't try it.

Our good hostess for the night, at Standish, who formerly officiated as landlady of a hotel there, told us amusing tales of large eating—among others, of one Uncle Peter, who ate at one sitting, six quarts of milk-porridge and bread; and of a traveller who having eaten a very hearty supper at a rather late hour, concluded to take his breakfast over night also, and ate a second good allowance for any man, to save time in the morning.

We have often been impressed with the consummate stupidity and ignorance of many sign-painters—in every part of the country which we have visited. Words mis-spelled, improper punctuation, &c. are continually presented to us, for eye-sores. But it remained for the printer of the heading of the Register of a fine hotel we visited, down east here, to cap the climax, by heading a column of each page of a very large book, throughout, with the word "appartment."

We passed through Gorham, Westbrook, Portland, to North Yarmouth, on Thursday. Several times, in baiting our horse at hotels, we had difficulty in persuading hostlers to feed more than three quarts of meal at a time.—They were afraid of hurting the animal. This reminded us of a young gentleman once travelling with a party from Portsmouth, who, being told by a hostler, in reply to his order for a quart of oats, that that would hurt his horse, gravely asked his companions of such was the case. He was answered that it was, unless the horse had more with them! Although the highest feeding may not be the best for man or beast, we apprehend that more horses are injured by being stinted in grain than by being over-dosed with it. So please dole out our horse a peck of oats for supper.

We put up at North Yarmouth, with a farmer, dubbed the Doctor. Tho' called upon at a rather late hour, he provided us all with excellent accommodations. In the morning, he fed cattle and horses, provided for eight pigs born to his sty during the night, pulled a very ugly ulcerated jaw-tooth from the mouth of a young lady neighbor, repaired a dray, and was building wall before the majority of mankind had left their lazy couches. He lived among "the everlasting hills," and was one of the greatest philosophers we ever met with. He stated that after working hard at farming for several years, he was burned clean out one time, and had a chance, in beginning entirely anew, to correct all mistakes made in his first attempt to pick up a farm. Success to the Doctor, say we. F.

HOW IS IT?

We have always interpreted the instructions, which our government gave Capt. Hollins, when he went to demand indemnity and apology from Greytown, as naturally and obviously requiring him to get these things, without destruction of property or life, if possible—but if not, making it his duty to destroy either or both.

Papers over the country have taken various views of these instructions; but thus far not one decisive official word has come from the Navy Department or the Cabinet on this subject. The newspapers, the Union and the Atlas, the Post and Patriot, have taken various views of the matter, and very foolishly called each other hard names about it,—when up to this hour, the American public do not know, whether the executive approve or disapprove of the destruction of the town.

The late letter from the Navy Department to Capt. Hollins, (which we did not copy because it amounted to nothing more than a general approval,) is by no means conclusive.

The Boston Advertiser says,

> The Secretary, when he wrote it, knew very well the doubts which exist in the public mind. A few words would have settled the question. He had but to say, "I cannot forbear, in transmitting this order, detaching you from the Cyane, (now requiring repairs,) to express to you the approbation of the Department for the promptness with which you executed its directions for the destruction of Greytown." This would have been explicit and would have settled the question. Instead of this, Capt. Hollins is merely told that he retains unimpaired the confidence of the Department in his patriotism, gallantry, and fitness for the command of a national ship.—Nobody has questioned Captain H.'s patriotism or gallantry; and the last expression is just such a one as would be used, if the administration wished to reserve to itself the right hereafter of approving or disapproving, in whole or in part, the destruction of Greytown.

We apprehend the case will turn out as follows:—Capt. Hollins was sent to Greytown to demand pecuniary indemnity for the Transit Company, and an apology for Mr. Borland. His written instructions, which have been published, were vague and general, and left every thing to his discretion. He had oral instructions somewhat more distinct, but still loose. Like a straight-forward officer, Capt. Hollins put what seemed the natural interpretation upon these directions, and executed them with very little ceremony. The administration has been alarmed at the almost universal condemnation of the act, on the part of the public press, and has taken a very guarded position, in the hope that, in some way or other, the trouble will blow over. A categorical and distinct approval of the act it has not yet given. It has said nothing which cannot be explained either way.

Lucy Stone is about to assume the care of a husband, a wealthy gentleman of Cincinnati, whom she has decoyed into her net.

Don't pity the man more than he deserves. Miss Lucy Stone will probably make one of the most domestic and obedient wives, a pattern for the rising generation of maidens.

EDMUND BROWN.—We have received three contributions, of five dollars each, for Edmund Brown, to assist him in emancipating his eight children remaining in slavery in Virginia, that they with his wife and two other children may emigrate together to Liberia. We hope to record many further contributions. There is not the least doubt that this is a genuine case, affording a practical opportunity of mitigating the evils of slavery.—Boston Advertiser.

We copy this item, partly for the purpose of giving Mr. Brown the benefit of our circulation; but chiefly that we may add a practical word, about mitigating the evils of slavery. The mitigation in this case, is like mitigating the evil of sin. The evil of sin cannot be mitigated, unless the sin is destroyed, diminished or forsaken.

So the mitigations of slavery to the Brown family appear simply that they are to be bought out of it. And in like manner it is mitigated by all who run away from it and get clear off to Canada, or to heaven, or some other good place where the higher law forbids slavery to enter.

N. H. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—We acknowledge with thanks, the reception, from James O. Adams, Secretary, and Frederick Smyth, Treasurer, in behalf of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society, of an invitation to attend the Annual Fair, to be held at Keene, during the first week in October next.

LOCAL.

LAUNCH, THIS DAY.—A brig of the following dimensions—117 feet long, 28 feet wide, 10 feet depth of hold, and registering 298 tons, will be launched from the yard of George Raynes & Son, this day, at 1 o'clock. She is built for the general freighting business, and is not yet sold.

☞ The Freewill Baptist Church in this city have reopened the Hanover Street Chapel, their usual place of public worship, and will hereafter continue their meetings as usual.—Rev. M. W. Burlingame, of Danville, will supply the desk to-morrow.

DEATHS IN AUGUST.—The number of deaths in Portsmouth during the month of August was 20: of the following ages: Males—3, 80, 6 m., 78, 26, 88, 71, 21, 4 m.,—total 9. Females—16, 2, 2 m., 1 m., 16m, 18, 85, 70, 25, 1 m., 18m,—total 11.

☞ Services will be held in the Catholic Church in this city next Sunday, at 10 1-2 o'clock. Subject of the discourse—The necessity of an infallible tribunal to settle doubts in matters of religion.

FOG IN THE EAST.—Maine Politics are a great study for this week. The Portland Argus, speaking for the Regular Democratic Party, old line, who have nominated Mr. Parris for Governor, say:

> The doctrine that the support or dislike of the Nebraska movement in the last Congress, is not to be regarded as a party test in this election, has been concurred in generally by the democratic conventions of the state.

Per contra, the Sagadahoc Resolutions hoist the Nebraska flag, nail it to the mast, and shoot the "dumb critters."

The whigs begin to laugh at this queer predicament, but they are much in the same condition. The Boston Transcript says:

> Our Eastern cousins have got into a sort of a political fog, and the anti-Nebraska men feel strong enough to fight one another, instead of reserving all their blows for the common enemy. We suppose, however, they are abundantly able to manage their own affairs, and when they desire guardians proper application will be made. At a rather funny Whig caucus, held in Portland, on Saturday evening, objection was made by a Mr. Churchill against a Mr. Ring's speaking, the person asserting that the latter was not a Whig.
>
> "I am a Whig," shouted Ring, "always have been a Whig, have been on the Whig city committee for fourteen years, and am a Reed Whig, and have been from the start."
>
> Churchill—"You are an Advertiser Whig, and that's no Whig at all!"
>
> Ring—"You are a Frank Pierce Whig, voted for him, and then boasted of it!"
>
> The Portland Advertiser says: "This was a dead shot, for it was true—and such a shout as it brought forth from the immense audience, was never heard before in the old City Hall! It closed the discussion upon that point."

We don't know how to classify all the parties in Maine. We can arrange three or four, but after that we get bewildered. The Sagadahoc patriots have the best system, viz:—We are the true blue, dyed in the wool—all others are spurious.

NEW YORK.—The New York State Convention of the democratic party (softs) at Syracuse, on the 6th and 7th, had much noise and confusion, but finally nominated Gov. Seymour for re-election.

The committee on resolutions came in, and Mr. Wright stated that they were unanimous on the general features, except in one particular. Mr. Mann said there was a mistake—the committee was not unanimous. Mr. Wright then read the majority resolutions, which are a compromise on the Nebraska question, are hostile to the Know Nothings, and favorable to free trade, internal improvements, &c. They were adopted.

The Convention re-assembled at 3 o'clock, the seceding delegates and other Barnburners, being absent. Mr. Mann's resolutions were read, and the question raised on motion to lay them on the table. The first asserts the power of Congress to make all needful regulations for the government of the Territories, and its bounden duty to provide against the establishment and extension of slavery therein.—The second disclaims all interference with slavery, as it now exists, by national legislation. The third asserts that we cannot assent to the insertion on our political creed, that slavery and its extension is politically, morally, or commercially beneficial, or in conformity with the principles of Christian civilization.—The fourth asserts that we deem ourselves absolved from all obligations to admit more slave States. The vote on their adoption was 220 yeas, 106 nays.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Row at the Turner Jubilee.—The Turner Bund Jubilee at Lemon Hill, attracted a great throng to-day. The males occupied themselves with gymnastic sports and exercises, while the females amused themselves with dancing. All was very pleasant and quiet until about the close of the festival, when a quarrel occurred between two Germans on the platform where the dancing was going on. The police interfered to separate the combatants, and in carrying off one of the prisoners, used him rather roughly, when his friends interfered, and a grand row ensued. The police, being very hard pressed, fired their revolvers, and several Germans were wounded, and many of them badly beaten with billies. Officer Samuel Mansfield was stabbed, and another officer was severely injured. The Germans used fence rails in assaulting the officers.

Mr. Jefferson, in a letter to Mr. Madison, dated March 15th, 1789, makes the following prophecy: "The executive power in our government is not the only, perhaps not even the principal object of my solicitude. The tyranny of the legislature is really the danger most to be feared, and will continue to be so for many years to come. The tyranny of the executive power will come in its turn, but at a more distant period."

FROM CALIFORNIA, SANDWICH ISLANDS AND CHINA.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 9.—The steamship Star of the West, Capt. Tinklepaugh, is now off this point. She left San Juan on the evening of the 30th ult., and brings dates from San Francisco to the 10th. She connected with steamship Cortes. We learn from the Purser that nothing of importance has occurred upon the Isthmus since the sailing of the last steamer from San Juan. H. M. schooner Bermuda, and British mail steamer Magdalena were in port when the Star of the West sailed. About an hour previous to the sailing of the steamship Cortes, the British clipper ship North Fleet arrived at San Francisco from China in forty days, bringing intelligence of Canton having been surrounded by the rebels, and that the foreign residents had all left the city.

Our San Francisco correspondent states that since the sailing of the steamer of the 1st August, the markets have continued to be much depressed, and most of the staples are declining. The stocks of merchandise are kept full by constant arrivals, and the demand from the country is slight. The spirit of speculation is not active.

The Star of the West brings about $1,000,000 in specie.

The most important feature of the news by this arrival is the report that the American Commissioner has concluded a treaty for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States, and that the treaty is coming forward in the mail steamer via Panama.—No details are given, but it is known that all the King's Council were strongly in favor of annexation, and the king was one of the most active promoters of the treaty.

The mining news from California was never more favorable than at present.

An active trade is springing up between San Francisco and the Sandwich Islands, and the splendid new steamer Polynesia now plies regularly between San Francisco and Honolulu. The advantages to be derived from annexation are too obvious to need comment. Advices from Washington will be anxiously looked for.

At the time of the sailing of the steamer for San Francisco, the politicians were completely befogged. The Herald says that all hopes of a compromise party have been given up.

VERMONT.—The returns of votes for Governor from upwards of 100 towns in Vermont, give Royce, Whig, a majority of nearly 7,000; and it is estimated that his majority in the whole State will be 8,000 at least. The coalition (Whig, Free Soil, Maine Law and Anti-Nebraska) it is thought, have chosen every one of the State Senators, and a large majority of the Representatives. According to returns so far, the Coalitian have elected 98 Representatives, the Democrats 37, doubtful 3, and no choice 10. All three of the Whig coalition candidates for Congress are chosen, namely: Meachen in the 1st, Morrill (by a small majority) in the 2d, and Sabin in the 3d district.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday last, Mr. William H. Moore, proprietor and driver of a stage between Amesbury and Newburyport, fell from his box to the ground while on the route, and the wheels of the coach passed over his body. After lying insensible for a few moments, he recovered and pursued his horses. Overtaking the team at the Merrimac river bridge, where it had been stopped by the toll keeper, he mounted his seat and drove it on to Amesbury. His injuries however were fatal, and he died on Tuesday. He was 28 years of age and unmarried.

EXTRAVAGANCE AND HARD TIMES.—It is impossible to pay the rents we do, and to clothe, especially our wives and daughters, as we do, and not to have hard times. We have become within ten years past the most extravagant people in the world. There are no wives that dress as our wives dress, out of the very highest noble circles of Europe. Perhaps, on some occasions of display, tradesmen and capitalists may dress as well elsewhere,—say, on grand ball demonstrations,—or in the Bois de Boulogne of Paris, or on the Prater of Vienna,—but no where are such highly dressed women, in like spheres of life, found making such costly displays of silks, satins, laces, &c., &c., on all occasions. The Parisian housewife, who figures brilliantly on grand occasions, is clothed cheaply and humbly at home. Silks and satins are not her daily habiliments,—and silks and satins of colors readily destroyed. Then, again, such a housewife compensates for whatever extravagance she displays in public life, by a most rigid economy in dress, and in every thing else, on private occasions, within doors.—New York Express.

All this may be true. And yet the extravagance of the husbands may equal that of the wives, or even go beyond.—Extravagant living is as fatal to comfort as it is to wealth.

None but fools would willingly persevere in extravagant living.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—As a large procession of the American Protestant Association, numbering about 2000, were parading to-day, a riot, from some unpleasant cause, occurred at the corner of William and Shipman streets. Several persons were seriously injured, and, in consequence, the Catholic Church was completely gutted.—An Irishman named Thomas Courtney was shot in the abdomen, and the wound will probably prove fatal. The statements relative to the origin of the riot are so varied and conflicting that we can gather nothing that can certainly be relied on as to the real cause of it, which remains unexplained.

A later despatch says an Irish Catholic mob attacked the Associations.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date: and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

In virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian. While attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Kidney Complaint he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853;" and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green St.

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

REPORT

Of the Commissioner of Common Schools for the County of Rockingham, to the Secretary of the Board of Education.

The Commissioner of the county of Rockingham began his official labors for the past year by holding a Teachers' Institute at Exeter, in the month of October. The following named gentlemen constituted the board of instruction, viz: Dana P. Colburn, in Mathematics, Geography and Grammar; William J. Whitaker, in Drawing; Daniel Barnard, in Reading; Calvin Cutter, in Physiology and Hygiene; and James W. Clarke, in Music. Lectures were given before the Institute by Rev. A. Mann, and by Messrs. Colburn, Cutter, Whitaker and Hoyt. The attendance of teachers and the friends of education was large, and the presence of several Superintending School Committees added to the interest of the session.

This session of the Institute was deemed by competent judges superior to most in the practical efficiency of the instruction imparted, and in the apparent interests taken by the members in its exercises. From a very general observation during the past winter, the Commissioner is confident that the Institute successfully wrought a good work upon its members. Most went forth to engage in the duties of the school-room, laden with new incentives, new aids and materials for rendering their labors pleasant and profitable.

Many teachers in the county were not present, however, and some have not attended, as members, a single Institute during the last three or four years. These teachers reside mostly in Exeter and Portsmouth. The Commissioner is aware that generally the liberty to attend the Institute has not been cordially granted by Prudential School Committees, or has been entirely withheld; for what reasons, he is as yet ignorant. Some teachers, however, who have thus never honored the Institute by their patronage, have not this excuse.

Another Institute was held at Kingston in the month of April last. The attendance was highly respectable, and the instruction very excellent. The board of instruction consisted of D. P. Colburn, Arthur Sumner, Calvin Cutter and Osgood Collister.

The cause of common school education is receiving the earnest care and attention of the best informed and most influential citizens in the community. The defects of our present system of education are daily becoming known, and the remedies successfully and rapidly applied. Under the influence of this fostering care and labor, our schools have manifestly improved in all respects, during the past few years.

The teacher, therefore, cannot be an idle agent in this work, whether in regard to the trust committed to his hands, or his own self-culture and professional preparation. He must keep pace with the advance in the other aids and appliances of good schools. More than this, he must lead and guide the educational movement. With us, the means of preparation for the teacher's office are few and almost powerless; but such as they are, the teacher who would advance in usefulness, and hold a respectable position in his profession, must not overlook nor fail to improve them. He must not make the fatal mistake of supposing he has within himself the entire resources for his own enlightenment, and the preparation necessary for a satisfactory discharge of his duties. Of all persons, the teacher has the most need to be ware of self-conceit, or an undue appreciation of his abilities and attainments. He must put himself in the attitude of a learner at the feet of teachers of long experience and extended observation, and when he ceases to be a learner, he ceases to be from that moment a fit master for his disciples.

Experience has amply proved that Teacher's Institutes, by their peculiar instruction, and the means they afford for a free and profitable exchange of views, sentiments and plans, may contribute much to the perfecting of our school system, and greatly facilitate educational labor.

Prudential Committees, when it is possible, should so arrange the terms of schools that the teachers may have time to attend the sessions of the Institute. It will do no harm if the schools should be suspended for one week, during each Spring and Fall for this purpose.

In December, the Commissioner began his visitation of the schools. Every town has been visited, and nearly every school then in session inspected.

Among the evidences of improvement witnessed by him, must be mentioned the fact that there have been less decided failures in teaching. Fewer ill-qualified teachers were found, destitute of experience, culture and natural gifts, fewer apparently out of place, indifferent to the interests entrusted to them, and alarmingly ignorant and stupid. The Commissioner witnessed rarer instances of positive incapacity to govern on the part of the teachers, and fewer examples of wilful disobedience on the part of the pupils; better arrangements for teachers and scholars, such as clean, wholesome, warm, well-ventilated school-rooms, maps, blackboards, globes, &c.; a more thorough and systematic classification of the scholars—classified with reference to advancement entirely, and not with reference to the unreasonable wishes of parents, the foolish pride of the pupil himself, or the fact that he owned a text-book like the one possessed by a much older and better scholar; less complaint, by teachers, of idleness and irregularity, and the want of parental cooperation; a greater degree of uniformity of text-books and books for reference; a more general observance of the suggestions heretofore made with regard to general exercises; more of that truest manner of education which looks to the culture of the whole nature, mind, soul and body; a closer adherence to the maxim that it is better to do a little well than much superficially, and therefore foolishly;—so that in grammar, for instance, there were fewer teachers met with content merely to hear the pupil recite portions of the text-book, as for example, that a "Noun is the name of some person, place or thing," or that "Tense means time," or that an "Adjective is used to describe or qualify a noun," &c; and in arithmetic, content with seeing the rules have been committed to memory, and that the problems have been solved so as to "get the answer" merely, without beginning the foundation of mathematical knowledge well, as a good mason lays the walls of the edifice, studiously careful to build thoroughly and securely, albeit slowly, putting one stone upon another, till at last the coping stone crowns the whole; and in geography, not satisfied with asking, "How is Maine bounded?" the name of its capital, the length of its rivers, its population, &c., but studying that science, as a science, with reference to the natural and artificial products of each country or section of country, its geology, natural and civil history, climate, commercial facilities and importance; so that the scholar may rise from the recitation knowing as much about the subject under consideration as he can conveniently acquire in the time allotted; fewer teachers content to hear their pupils read sentence after sentence regardless of sentiment, emphasis and inflection, without which reading is a mere utterance of sounds, which any animal can make; fewer teachers stupidly putting out column after column of words from a spelling book, thinking thereby to make correct spellers.

There are a few rules which every child can readily understand and remember, under which most of the words commonly met with can be arranged; and the pupil should be drilled upon these until he is able to spell words taken at random from the dictionary or spelling book. The best spelling book for this purpose, in the opinion of the writer, is Swan's. If spelling were generally taught in this, the only philosophical and rational manner, we should hear fewer complaints from men of their forgetfulness of the correct method of spelling words, as soon as the many and increasing cares of life and business begin to burden the mind and memory.

In reading, the pupil's attention should first be called to the thought or idea contained in the sentence he is about to read, and when he understands this, he should be told how he may fully express that idea by the emphasis and inflections of the voice. If the pupil is very young, the teacher should first read the sentence and require the pupil to imitate him. The whole class should be drilled upon this one sentence, until each member can read it with comparative accuracy, spirit and ease.—The next sentence may be treated in the same manner, and the teacher should beware what habits of enunciation and inflection he allows his pupils to form. Care taken in the early pupilage of a boy or girl, in the way above briefly indicated, will ensure in a few months good reading.

An expert teacher will resort to a thousand ready expedients to break up bad habits in reading. This should be done at once and with energy. It is a disease which needs vigorous treatment, or like the cancer, it corrupts the whole system, and becomes incurable.

In grammar, the first thing to be done is to take any sentence the child may utter, and show him its several parts, the relation of one word to some other word in the same sentence, and the dependence of one thing upon another.

Ask him what he is thinking of, what he sees, or hears, or holding up some object with which he is acquainted, do something with it, as, for instance, to strike the chair or table; and then require him to tell you what you did. He will thus frame a sentence. Perform some other act, with this object, or in some way qualify your first act, and question him upon this, requiring him to express this quality in words, or call his attention to points he may have at first omitted. You thus have shown him in this sentence—making this an act of composition—the relation and office of each word in the sentence. By constant practice each day in this way, the pupil will readily acquire the habit of expressing himself accurately and forcibly. By this means also he will learn to distinguish one part of speech from another by the peculiar office and force which each word has in the sentence.

The somewhat popular notion among educators at the present day that grammar can be best taught by the analysis of sentences, we think, is erroneous. No one can analyze a sentence until a sentence he furnished ready to work upon, and the manner in which a child learns to express its wants may serve as a valuable hint to us in the work of teaching others to speak and write the English language correctly.

There has been a very general and praiseworthy attention paid to the subject of school-houses in many towns of the county during the past year. The town of Candia especially deserves mention. Most of its school-houses, and it has many, are new or newly repaired, and are convenient, well ventilated, pleasant and comfortable. The school-house just opened at the time of the visit of the Commissioner is quite equal, in most respects, to any in the county.

Epping, Raymond, Derry and Portsmouth have each erected during the past year one or more new and improved school-houses. New school-houses are needed in Brentonwood, Deerfield, Danville, Sandown, Hampstead, Salem, Hampton, Hampton Falls, Seabrook, Rye, Auburn, Chester, Nottingham, Northwood, South New Market, South Hampton, North Hampton, Atkinson, Stratham, and New Castle, especially.

Exeter has some three or four very poor school-houses. A town that has done so much for its schools by way of raising extra funds, and in building some very handsome and convenient school edifices, cannot have any good excuse for retaining such poor school-houses as those alluded to.

Portsmouth has a few good school-houses, but the character of its schools and of its school-houses are sadly out of harmony. The school building devoted to the boys' high school and one of the grammar schools, is a disgrace to a town possessing such wealth, and unworthy the generous support she has given to the cause of good schools. The girls' high school, located in the basement of the court house, at present, should be accommodated with a better room, and one free from connection with a public building. The new school-house erected at Gravelly Ridge, in Portsmouth, has several positive defects which should be remedied in this instance, and avoided for the future. If the building committee had consulted good models, it is to be presumed they would not have fallen into the errors alluded to. An inspection of the room will satisfy any one what these faults are.

HURRAH! HURRAH!

The New Hampshire Patriot, in an article on Kansas, Nebraska and so forth, says—

No human being, who is not idiotic or false hearted, pretends there is the least prospect of the immense territory of Nebraska ever being trod by the foot of a slave. Even the most violent anti-slavery and anti-Nebraska papers openly admit all is safe here; and what a triumph. The territory of Nebraska is equal to thirty times the territory of Massachusetts or New Hampshire, and may hereafter make a dozen States—and all free! Is there no glory in this—no cause for exultation in this, if all are simply intent on the freedom of the soil?

As little doubt is there of the destiny of Kansas. A friend of ours recently received a letter from a gentleman in Kansas, who had gone out from New Hampshire to explore and see with his own eyes. He writes back that not one southern man is found to ninety nine northern and western and German emigrants, and that not a doubt exists among the emigrants, or in the neighboring slave States, as to the future character of Kansas. When admitted as a State, its manifest and glorious destiny is Freedom!

Well: we glory in all this, if true, and [Hurrah! hurrah!! Hurrah!!!] here are three hearty cheers for two new free States! But stop; let us see what we are cheering for. This territory was free before; it can be no more than free now. No man will pretend that the bill to organize these Territories could not have been passed as easily without repealing the Compromise line as with it.

We have never yet seen or felt any objection to organizing Nebraska or Kansas. Our objections to the bill are, these two, viz: first the flagrant breach of faith in repealing the compromise; and secondly the legalizing of slavery there, by erecting a court which shall settle the "title to slaves."

The States, if they ever come into the Union, may come in free! may they? Will somebody please to name a free State which has come in during the last thirty years, without some slave State or slave proviso to match it?

Until this is done, and until somebody explains away those three little words, "title to slaves," in the Nebraska bill—it is in vain for any one to pretend the intent was any thing else than to extend legal slavery over territories where it was previously illegal.

But, passing on from the intent to the effects, the Patriot glorifies the bill, and speaks of abolitionists thus:

Indeed they now admit, almost without an exception, that such results have been secured by the Nebraska bill—results grand, permanent and glorious, such as no single act of Congress has ever before secured.

We have seen no such admissions, from any such men—if any body else has, we would thank him to bring them forward.

The Patriot continues:

But then they say no thanks are due to Gen. Pierce and the administration; all the thanks belong to God's Providence, which overrules, and from evil often brings good, contrary to the intent of those who do the evil. It would be better if, instead of this shallow evasion, they were to admit their own ignorance and confess that Gen. Pierce saw further than they did; for it is certain he expected this very result which is now apparent before the eyes of the people. The Nebraska bill works gloriously and triumphantly for freedom. No act of any President or any Congress has secured so much, and so suddenly, and so easily for liberty.

We hope this may all turn out to be true. Part of it certainly is true to the letter. No act of Congress ever yet passed, we believe, has stirred up such an intense and widespread hatred of slavery as this. No act of mining legislation that we can remember has so completely blown up its authors. If Gen. Pierce foresaw all this, and then applied the match, he must be as brave as he is wise.

Once more, the Patriot says:

Men of all parties will be obliged to acknowledge, with the intelligent and honest National Intelligencer, on the day after the passage of the bill, that though they had opposed it from beginning to end, for the sake of peace and good feeling throughout the nation, yet truth and honesty required them to confess that in their belief the North and South should change their positions, and the North go for the bill and the South oppose it.

If the Patriot and Intelligencer are correct, —then the northern clergy ought to have celebrated a thanksgiving and sung a Te Deum for liberty,—and the devoted ministers of the south should have put on sackcloth and ashes, to mourn over the decline and fall of the blessed patriarchal institution.

One more extract caps the climax:

Nor is this all, great and good as it is. It is stated that Missouri is awakening to thoughts of freedom. Slavery was never strong there, and is mainly confined to the rich bottom lands of the Mississippi, while the western portion of the State is almost exclusively occupied by free men. During the last few years the number of slaves has been diminishing, as things then were; and now when the State shall be nearly surrounded by free States, and the escape of slaves become so easy, and when so large a portion of the people are opposed to it, both from interest and principle, it is thought by those well acquainted with the state of public feeling, that slavery will give way to surrounding circumstances, and Missouri itself join the sisterhood of free States around her! Should not such prospects satisfy the most zealous abolitionists? Should not the part only which is moral certainty create the most patriotic exultations and the most devout thanksgiving? Utah, New Mexico, Nebraska, the territory of a dozen future independent States, and Kansas—all sure to be free, besides two or three to be carved from Texas, and Missouri itself to be free. Who could expect so much? Who asks for more? The abolitionists have harangued for freedom, preached for freedom, and, as they say, prayed for freedom over this vast territory. Should they not thank heaven and be content when they receive what they asked?

Now if all these things are true,—then Stephen A. Douglas, Caleb Cushing, and Franklin Pierce, are the three grand Liberators and Abolitionists of the age,—and Frederick Douglas, Garrison, Sumner and Seward, are all pro-slavery men, dyed in the wool.

We have not so understood it before, but there it stands in the Patriot; and we are open to conviction.

A few years hence, however, will show results, better than the crafty leaders in partisan papers of to-day. If, as we hope, this blow struck at liberty should recoil against slavery, we may have reform without revolution; but if otherwise, then slavery will strengthen her chains and enlarge her domain, till liberty has no place on her shores. It is our deliberate opinion that the opponents of slavery, the friends of freedom, have yet some work to do, notwithstanding all the help they have had lately from President Pierce, Senator Douglas, and the Nebraska bill.

DEATH OF STEPHEN FALES.—The Cincinnati papers mention the death, in that city, of Stephen Fales, Esq. who was a well known lawyer and estimable man in Portsmouth forty years ago, occupying a law office in connexion with Jeremiah Mason, Esq. His age was about 67, and his disorder inflammation of the brain.

The Second Exhibition of the Rockingham Fair, will take place on Thursday and Friday of the present week, at Exeter. It is to be hoped a good representation may go from Portsmouth. From Gardens in this city there might be and ought to be a good display of fruit and flowers.

CORN AND COTTON.—The Boston Courier says that the market circulars received by the Africa at New York, maintain the character of the telegraph advices that American cotton and breadstuffs were still declining, in the face of a large stock of the former staple, and the brilliant prospects of European harvests. At Havre, the highest quotations for American flour were $8.50 a barrel, and poor qualities could not be sold in the market at all. At London, American flour of fine quality was in demand at from $7.25 to $8.25 a barrel, while inferior sorts were altogether unsaleable. In England, the harvest continues the grand subject of attention. The weather, on the whole, was still all that could be desired, and from the South to the North the crops were generally under the sickle, with the almost universal prospect of an unusually excellent yield, both in quantity and in quality. The potato crop in Ireland was much more prolific and much less affected by disease than previous accounts had stated.

COTTON AND RICE.—The annual complaint of an anticipated short crop of cotton has not broken out this year at the South, and we have not yet heard whether this important staple is to perish this year by worm, drought or mildew; on the contrary, the compiler of the Charleston Courier Price Current assures us that the advices generally from all portions of the short cotton region are very favorable in reference to the incoming crop; and as regards the long staple sections of Georgia, Florida and South Carolina, the prospects are also cheering. The rice crop, also, which is now awaiting the reaping, justifies the most favorable anticipations.

The beauties of the Eastern war are beginning to appear in the cholera reports. The disease has wasted the ranks of the Russians and the Allies. The French loss is admitted to be 7000 men. The English have not suffered so much; but both forces are terribly dispirited and weakened. The Russians in their retreat had 24,000 sick; and the dead bodies of men and horses were strewn all along their route.

FOSTER'S DECK REEFING.—Among the Patents issued at the Patent Office, Washington, for the week ending September 5th, we are pleased to notice a patent to Mr. William H. Foster of this City, for Reefing and Furling Topsails of vessels from the deck. We understand that arrangements have been made to have this important Invention patented in Great Britain. This is the first patent, as we learn from a distinguished ship-builder of New York, that has ever been obtained for any invention or improvement above the rail of a vessel.—Journal.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—The clipper bark Mermaid arrived this morning in 35 days from Hong Kong. She brings no papers, but we learn that all the foreign merchants have been compelled to leave Canton, and have gone on board the ships of war of their respective nations, also that two ships bound to California with Chinese emigrants, had been lost in the China Sea, together with 1000 of their passengers. The Mermaid comes under sealed orders, which explains why she brings no letters.

Bombay, June 20.—The King of Onde has offered to the British government 12,000 infantry and 100 pieces of cannon. Russian agents are in treaty with Cabul.

The Crops in England and Ireland promise well—many of them unusually well. The blight has undoubtedly appeared among potatoes, both in England and Ireland, and is, indeed, widely prevalent in Ireland; but it is said that the damage is by no means so great as it was last year, while the crop is nearly double, and in a much more advanced state. Not more than 15 per cent. of the crop is thought to be damaged. The wheat crop is pronounced a fair average crop, though somewhat affected by rust; the oat crop is said to be far above the average; barley luxuriant; turnips and other root crops, potatoes excepted, never more flourishing.

Hartford, Sept. 7.—The Protective Insurance Company of this city failed this afternoon. It was an old company, with a capital of $300,000, but their losses have been so heavy by the recent numerous and devastating fires that they have been compelled to make an assignment.

Cincinnati, Sept. 7.—A Church in course of erection in Worcester, Ohio, fell to-day with a terrific crash. Twenty to thirty workmen were employed upon it, twelve of whom were badly injured.

New York, Sept. 7.—The Rev. Nicholas Balleis, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church which was gutted by the mob at Newark on Tuesday, denies in an emphatic manner that any person was inside the church at or before the attack, or that the Catholics were the aggressors. The evidence before the coroner's jury refers only to facts bearing upon the death of Thomas McCarthy, and throws no new light upon the origin of the disturbance.

Syracuse, Sept. 8.—The Democrats have taken the action of the late convention coolly. Some say that if Preston King, Abijah Mann, and their friends do not take action for organization, a ticket must be made at the Auburn anti-Nebraska convention.

Whig primary meetings were held in all the wards yesterday, and are said to have worn a Know Nothing aspect.

Albany, Sept. 7.—Judge Douglas made no attempt to speak at Chicago on Monday.

Fire and Loss of Life.—The house of Mr. Bartlett, at Moriah, Essex county, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. Mr. Bartlett, his wife and four children, perished in the flames.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The Star asserts that the St. Domingo negotiations refer only to the securing of a West India port for American shipping to use, where their privileges will be superior to those of all other nations.

The Secretary of the Treasury has approved of the new design for gold dollars, and has sent orders to the mint to commence striking them off.

The late kidnapping case is creating some excitement. The girl has been traced and will be recovered.

A violent gale was experienced this afternoon for a few minutes, and was succeeded by a gentle rain for a brief period. The wind was from the South.

Indianapolis, Sept. 8.—The Democratic convention held to-day was large and enthusiastic. Addresses were made by Hon. S. A. Douglas of Illinois, Hon. George E. Pugh of Ohio, and Hon. Joseph Lane, and were well received.

Savannah, Sept. 8.—The deaths for the week ending 4th, were 134, of which 82 were from yellow fever. All the hotels and half the boarding houses are closed, and business is entirely suspended.

A Pleasant Remedy.—We have so many quack medicines emanating from empirics, that the public are jealous of every new suggestion in the world of materia medica, unless it comes well endorsed; but here is a remedy which commends itself to the common sense of the people, for it consists of a scientific combination of three well known panaceas,—Cod Liver Oil, Phosphate of Lime and Sugar of Milk. The discovery was made by Doctor Ira Warren, a gentleman of large practice in the city of Boston, favorably known for his cures of throat and lung complaints.

The "Ox Game."—Mr. Jesse Wadsworth of Milton was swindled out of ninety-five dollars yesterday afternoon, in front of the Boylston market house—within talking distance of the 4th police station,—by what is called the "ox game," a roguish trick often practiced at Brighton. He had a yoke of oxen, which he offered for sale. A couple of thieves fell in with him, concieded a bargain for the animals, and in payment gave Mr. Wadsworth a spurious note, which exceeded the price of the oxen $95. He gave the fellows the required change and surrendered the oxen to them; but the thieves left the animals and walked off with the money.—Boston Courier.

A novel mode of emigration was witnessed by many of the citizens of Columbus, according to the Statesman of that place. A man northward bound passed along the streets, drawing a small willow basket, in which was seated a little boy about five years of age.—Upon inquiry it was ascertained that he had travelled in this manner all the way from Virginia, where he had formerly resided; and that his destination was Detroit, which he designed to reach by the same mode of travel.

TO THE AFFLICTED.
From the New-England Directory.
THE great virtues of Botanical remedies have in all ages, been universally approved and acknowledged, but it remained for the Chinese to discover a never-failing remedy, not only to cure disease, but to render the face young and blooming, and lengthen the life of man. Such are the benefits derived from the use of the celebrated "COMPOUND ESSENCE OF CHINA ROOT," prepared by Dr. F. MORRILL, No. 15 Howard st. This invaluable article is composed of thirteen vegetable ingredients, and as we have tested its qualities do bear willing testimony to its being all that Dr. M. claims for it as a nourishing and invigorating remedy for a debilitated and worn-out system. Try it. See Herald and Bee.

Important Notice.
DR. SPEAR'S WOMAN'S FRIEND is unquestionably the only remedy ever discovered for that distressing complaint, Falling of the womb, obviating all necessity of resorting to instruments. It is put up in packages, and can be sent to any part of the world. Thousands are suffering from pressing down pains, pain in the groin and across the hips and small of the back—also very low down the back, with heat and scalding of the water, with some affection of the liver, great weakness and prostration of strength, nervous debility, &c. Much exercise, walking, standing, riding or lifting, greatly increase the above symptoms. In advanced stages of the disease the sufferer is deprived of all exercise, and is obliged to be confined to the house, and frequently to her bed. These are the symptoms of this complaint, all of which can be radically cured by the use of this extraordinary medicine. Price $3 per Package.
Dr. Spear's Golden Bitters.
This valuable and popular specific stands unrivalled for the cure of Female Weaknesses, Nervousness, Barrenness, Fluor Albus, &c. For common cases of weakness in the stomach, in male or female, they form an invaluable remedy. If these Bitters were appreciated as their merits demand, they would find their way into every family.—They are compounded especially for those complaints which often form the prelude to many others of a more serious character—such as excessive Nervousness, Prostration of Strength, Bloating of the Bowels, Dropsy, Consumption, Palpitation of the Heart, Scrofula, Cancer in the Womb, Pressing Down of the Bowels, &c. Price $1 per Package, or six Packages for $5.
E. E. SPEAR, Sole Proprietor, Indian Doctor, No. 18 Kneeland street, may be consulted at his office, or by letter, upon all diseases which afflict humanity, free of charge. Dr. S. invites those who are pronounced incurable to consult him, as he believes that in many cases he will be able to restore them to health.
All letters strictly attended to, and answered promptly.

DR. IRA WARREN'S
PURE COD LIVER OIL, LIME AND SUGAR OF MILK.
THE great value of Cod Liver Oil as a medicine in Consumption is now generally admitted. It promotes assimilation, the primal defect in this disease, by initiating the growth of cells—the cell resulting, according to Dr. Boenning, from the union of a minute particle of oil with albumen, under the quickening force of vitality. The PHOSPHATE OF LIME has been proved to promote the same great end throughout both the vegetable and the animal world.
The SUGAR OF MILK, manufactured from the whey of goat's milk, being a supporter of respiration of weak lungs, and having a powerful affinity for oxygen, greatly aids the above remedies in Consumption, and when properly combined with them, makes an elegant preparation, removing much of the offensive taste and smell of the oil, and supplying a saccharine combustive for the lungs, much like that elaborated by a healthy liver.
In conducting a large special practice in Throat and Lung Diseases, I resort directly to the fisheries for a pure oil. The excellence of this combination will be at once appreciated by my professional brethren, and a trial of it will commend it to the people generally.
BURR & PERRY are my wholesale and retail Agents for the United States and British Provinces, to whom all orders should be addressed.

BOSTON A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.—In 1754 there were nearly as many colored persons as there were houses in Boston, the number of each being about 1600. The number of slaves at that period was 989. About 40 Indians of all ages resided in the town. The negroes and Indians constituted about one tenth of the population; at the extreme north end, however, the colored people only constituted one twentieth part of the residents.—Transcript.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy ever

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 8 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compounding and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

REPORT

Of the Commissioner of Common Schools for the County of Rockingham, to the Secretary of the Board of Education.

(Concluded.)

To insure to the community the benefits of the most efficient schools, several things are especially requisite:

1. There must be liberal appropriations of money for their support. For the erection of commodious and attractive school buildings having all the modern improvements which experience has shown to be of decided utility, for the purchase of maps, globes, and other kinds of apparatus necessary for the illustration of the sciences taught, but chiefly for the adequate and just compensation of proper teachers, large sums of money must annually be raised.

There has been a steady, uniform progress for several years, in many towns in the county, in raising annually more money than the law requires; and among those towns which thus shew their liberality towards the schools, Exeter ranks highest, by far. Portsmouth annually expends a large amount for the support of its schools, but not so large a per centage upon its taxable property as does Exeter, and indeed not so much as the wants of her community require. Better school buildings, more liberal salaries to the teachers in the high and grammar schools, are wanted both in Portsmouth and Exeter. The amount of skill and labor required of those teachers is disproportionate to the wages paid at present.

The Commissioner cannot urge in too strong terms the towns to increase the coming year, by one or two hundred dollars, the amount now appropriated to the support of schools. Every dollar of property in the community should be taxed liberally for this purpose. Let there be retrenchment everywhere else rather than here. Indeed, the appropriations of large and discreetly expended sums of money in the maintenance of good schools is beyond all question a profitable investment by any town, considered merely in the light of profit and loss. The great principle underlying our educational system is that the welfare of the community, State and nation demands that property should be taxed.

The evils of popular ignorance and vice, and the crushing burdens of degradation, poverty, insecurity and taxation which ignorance and vice inevitably engender, must be borne by the State. Provide the most generous and convenient arrangements for our schools and we lessen the sources of crime and the causes of suffering penury. Let good schools take the place of our workhouses and jails, then shall we feel the full force of the power which education and religion can exert upon a community. If we see the alarming influences of popular ignorance, and observe how industry and enterprise are paralysed, thus retarding material prosperity of the country, how it suffers some of the noblest powers and aspirations of the soul to lie dormant and uncultivated, by which the intellectual power and moral dignity of the nation is lessened; how it fosters idleness, vagrancy and recklessness, and the pauperism and crime which follow, and then contemplate the enormous expense of maintaining our system of criminal jurisprudence, we shall no longer hesitate as to our duty.

2. The Commissioner would suggest to teachers and to Superintending School Committees the propriety and importance of paying more attention to the morals and manners of pupils. Much has been said and more written upon these subjects, yet the evils of rude and unseemly manners, and the fruits of a vitiated moral sense are too apparent in almost every school. This work should be done by parents at home, but where it is not, as is often the case, teachers neglect their duty when they overlook these things. The teacher need not fear the cry of sectarianism when he confines himself to the inculcation of those well established rules of moral conduct recognized, and which he is commanded to teach, by our State laws. As to manners, there are at least certain outward tokens of respect properly observable towards teachers, parents, committees, visitors, and strangers, which should be insisted upon.

That system of education which looks only to the development and strengthening of the mental powers without a corresponding culture of the heart, and the physical nature also, is inherently unphilosophical and vicious. If we are to be trained for the active duties of life—which themselves in turn are destined to become our tutors for the next stage of existence—there should be a harmonious and contemporary expansion and culture of the whole nature. This alone is education.

3. There are few schools in the county where the science of music is taught; few where singing is heard, at all. It is quite unnecessary, at this late day, to affirm the importance of teaching music in our common schools as a distinct branch of study. The beneficial results, where, as in Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island and some other States it has been faithfully and persistently taught, are so apparent that it is with sorrow we record the fact of our general and lamentable deficiency as a community and State in this respect.

No doubt our national want of a cultivated musical taste and musical talent is to be wholly attributed to the fact that we have neglected the study and practice of music in our schools. When men and women have reached mature age the voice is no longer of the nature to allow of that training requisite to give it power, flexibility, compass and sweetness. That which renders music in the church an auxiliary to devotion, and an element of joy in the festive assembly, gives it a mysterious power in our schools, to calm the mind and soothe the passions, and thus induces that state of mind and heart without which continuous and severe thought is impossible. It is earnestly hoped that those who shall be employed to teach in our schools will qualify themselves, and be required, to teach music.

The Commissioner would renew the suggestions, made heretofore by himself and others, in regard to the study of physiology; a more adequate remuneration to teachers, and especially female teachers; uniformity of text-books; maps, globes, &c.; and the ventilation of school rooms.

To render, then, our schools what they should be, we want everywhere good school-houses, properly furnished; competent teachers; parental co-operation: and an additional expenditure of money in each town. This can and will be accomplished if each individual does his duty. A. H. HOYT,

Commissioner of Common Schools for the County of Rockingham.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FORTNIGHT IN MAINE.

NO. THREE.

Our ride on Friday, was from North Yarmouth, through Yarmouth Falls and Corner, &c., to Brunswick. These two latter villages form one of the handsomest towns we ever visited. The site is one of the most beautiful, being on two hills by the margin of Casco Bay; the dwellings are many of them fine, the churches imposing, with two or three comely school houses and academies. Ship building gives life to the place; besides which we noticed extensive brick yards, a handsome tannery establishment, &c.

From Yarmouth to Augusta, we had only to follow the line of the telegraph, which runs with the highway from Portland to Augusta. This relieved us from constant inquiries as to the right road. We had always considered New Hampshire guide boards mean enough—but here in Maine they beat us, by doing without them almost entirely.

Wishing to attend a concert at Bath, on Friday evening, we took the cars on the Bath Branch of the Portland & Kennebec Railroad, from Brunswick thither at noon. The only reason we did not pick berries at the roadside, during this ride, was because there were no berries there—we had time enough. The track on this line was laid originally upon sleepers running with the rail, which does not work well, and is being relaid on transverse sleepers.

We did not observe much change in Bath, during the last three years. Then, and now, there were between twenty and thirty vessels on the stocks—one broadside to the water.—A Musical Convention was just closing a four day's session, on Friday afternoon. They gave concerts on Thursday and Friday evenings. The Convention was under the charge of the Maine Musical Association, directed by Prof. B. F. Baker, of Boston. Profs. Hall and Henderson, with Mrs. Hattie C. Long, and a superb alto, all from Boston, were also prominent in the exercises. These Musical Conventions are becoming very fashionable and general in the Eastern and Middle States, and are deemed to be of much service in the cause of music. They are generally continued from four days to a week. The first half of the time is occupied in reviewing and practising the rudiments and elements of music, and the remainder in the learning of tunes in correct style. The Convention holds three sessions per day,—the evening sessions of the last day or two being concerts, which commonly pay the chief part of the expense attendant upon the gathering.

The usual way of conducting these Conventions is for some music society or club in a town, to invite a Professor of Music experienced in this line, who brings what aid he deems necessary to conduct the exercises.—Singers at home and from the neighboring towns are invited, and the latter quartered by their musical friends during their stay. The expense of each member, above the receipts of the concerts, are usually very light. We should like to see one in Portsmouth occasionally.

The performances at the closing concert we attended, both of chorus and light pieces, were good Mrs. Long is a charming singer, but we don't like to hear the same old songs by every vocalist who happens along. "Comin' through the Rye," and "The Last Rose of Summer," are excellent compositions, and the lady above mentioned sang them in perfect style—but we prefer new songs as good.—These were not in the programme, however, but were sung "by request." A fellow, six feet or more, sang a song, which should have been "'Let me weep," but which he rendered "Lem me weep," in the most ridiculous style.

We spent a few hours in looking about the buildings and grounds of Bowdoin College, at Brunswick. A couple of young friends from Portsmouth, with others whom we met, extended to us every courtesy. The grounds, with the new College Chapel at one end, and a very handsome Orthodox Church at the other, present a fine view. The original College building (erected in 1798, we think) is standing in the midst of the new ones, three in number. This, though small, was at first sufficient for lodging and recitation rooms for all the students,—who now number nearly two hundred, and fill three large buildings as lodgers. They room by couples, procuring their meals elsewhere, at private boarding houses.

The new Chapel is of granite, in Gothic style, richly finished with solid black walnut, stained glass, &c. It has already cost about $50,000, and is not nearly completed. On one side of the main body of the house, is a hall for the display of the collections of oil paintings belonging to the institution; and on the other a similar room for other purposes. The library is in a hall at one end of this new building. The College Library contains upwards of 13,000, embracing many rare works. Besides this, there are two private Library Associations, the Athenian and the Purcinian, each containing 4000 or 5000 volumes. There is considerable rivalry between the two. The picture gallery is quite large, and contains some exceedingly fine specimens. We noticed that some of the finest were standing on the floor, in very disadvantageous positions, and were told that they were removed from the hall at the late Commencement, and had not been restored to their places. This hall was opened on that occasion, and the prudery of some of the faculty would not permit ladies to view a limb from which the artist has removed the drapery of fashion!

The night of our arrival in Brunswick had been appointed for the initiation of the new class of Freshmen into the secrets of——we don't know what or who. A large party of young men, supposed to be College students, but so disguised as not to be recognizable, visited the domicil of each of the new comers, and administered the oath usual on such occasions, with the customary burlesque ceremony. An effigy of a student who has made himself obnoxious to his companions generally, was found suspended near his room, the morning we were at the College. In the grove at the rear of the buildings we were shown an inscribed monument erected over the grave of the old books of a class a year or two since—after due public funeral rites. The books of another recent class were burned here, with appropriate services. In this grove (a tall, white pine growth,) are good gymnastic fixtures, which are much used for the purposes of recreation.

Our visit to Augusta must make stock for another letter. F.

CANADIAN POLITICS.—Quebec, Sept. 8.—This afternoon Mr. Hincks made a ministerial explanation, and the Ministry were defeated on the election of a Speaker. Mr. Hincks concluded that the Ministry could not continue to carry on the business, but had intended to have the address debated, and take this course afterward; but he had changed his determination last night when he found that the Ministry could not obtain from the House twenty-four hours' delay to determine their course regarding the question of privilege raised in the case of the member for Bagot, and he should therefore resign. His resignation was accepted. No definite progress has been made in the formation of a new Ministry. The royal speech recommends a change in the Constitution of the Legislative Councils, and states that the opinion of the people on the clergy reserve question was unequivocally expressed in the late election, and recommends its adjustment in a way that will give general satisfaction. It states that the question of the seignorial tenure cannot longer remain unsettled without injury to all parties. It also recommends legislation to bring the laws into harmony with the principles of the Reciprocity Treaty. The debate on the address will take place to-morrow.

The House was occupied till one o'clock in discussing the question of breach of privilege. Timothy Bradeur, returning officer in Bagot, became a candidate, and was elected by acclamation. He was arrested by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and placed at the bar of the House, where he was interrogated and discharged.—A notice was given that a motion would be made to-day to declare the election null and void. There were three divisions on the question, resulting adversely to the Ministry, and they resigned this morning.

Sir Allan McNab, the conservative leader, has been sent for to perform a new Ministry.

Know Nothingism has compelled the whigs of Philadelphia to nominate Job B. Tyson, Esq. for Congress, in place of Jos. R. Chandler, because the latter is a Catholic. Mr. Chandler was for many years editor of the U. S. Gazette, and was universally popular. He is, however, so conservative in his views as to come under the description of an ultra "fogy." If a gentleman of his intelligence and learning, in this age of the world, don't know better than to go to Rome and prostrate himself before the Pope, he certainly is not fit to represent Philadelphia in Congress.—Boston Mail.

Mr. Chandler is a devoted son of the Roman Church; and while he is too much of a man to make a secret of his faith, has yet always been too much of a gentleman to obtrude it upon others in any manner that could be deemed offensive.

THE SECOND APPEARANCE OF GRISI AND MARIO.—The audience of last evening, or rather the lack of it, must have astonished Grisi and Mario, much more than they did the audience. We confess surprise ourselves at having found Castle Garden but half filled, a vacant seat answering to every full one; and the fact is in itself a confirmation of our formerly expressed opinion, that the general effect of the debut of Grisi and Mario upon the audience was one of unsatisfied anticipation—in one word, of disappointment.—N. Y. Evening Post, Thursday.

THE WEATHER.—The Rain Storm of Friday and Saturday and Sunday, ended the drought, started the fall feed, and stopped the grumbling. Well it might, for it is said about 3 1-2 inches of rain fell Not only did the rain fall, but the mercury in the thermometer fell also, from 96 or 8 on Wednesday to 38 on Monday morning.

The storm reached as far south as Charleston, S.C., where it did damage in the harbor, injuring the wharves about $250,000.

Washington, 8th.—The Emperor of Rusia has addressed to Mr. Stoekel, the present Russian Charge here, a note expressive of his satisfaction regarding his conduct in the negotiation of the late neutrality treaty, and Count Medau, the present Russian Minister at Rio Janerio, having declined on account of ill health to accept the post here made vacant by the death of Mr. Bodisco, it is understood that Mr. Stoekel will be promoted to the vacant office.

The Rev. Dr. Cumming, the theological writer, of London, was announced to preach in a sequestered country church, near the seat of Sir John Heron Maxwell, Bart., of Sprinkwell, in Dumfriesshire, on Sunday evening, August. 20. The crowds that assembled from the surrounding parishes were so great, that the church could not hold one-fourth of the multitude. The preacher took his place on a hill-side, on the south side of the church, and the vast auditory, lairds and tenants, filled the deep glen below.

Senator Douglas told the people at the late meeting in Chicago, that they did not understand the Nebraska bill! This was a high compliment to their intelligence certainly. We think the people understand this matter quite as well as Mr. Douglas or any of his coadjutors, and so they will find it when the ballot-box utters its potent voice.—New Bedford Standard.

The city of Quebec is about to be supplied with pure water from the lake at Lorette.—The lake is about ten miles distant, and sufficiently elevated to enable the water to be conveyed to the top of the highest houses in the city. The water has hitherto been carted from the river, and has proved a fertile source of disease, being full of impurity, and with a large per centage of saline matter.

AWFUL AFFAIR.—At Mount Meigs, Ala., on the 25th of August, a negro slave was burnt to death. In the absence of his master, Dr. McConnel, the negro had been insolent to his mistress, the Doctor attempted to correct him, which he resisted, and waylaid the former as he was going to his stable, and beat him to death with a billet of wood. A jury of planters was called, who sentenced him to the horrible death of fire.—Boston Courier.

POTATOES.—The Salem Gazette says that as yet the rot has not broken out among the potatoes of Essex county, and it is hoped they will escape the disease. In that case the quantity gathered will be greater than that o last year.

Charles Z. Abrams, of Richmond, Va., so severely beat his wife a few days since that she died of her wounds. The unhappy man was arrested and on the 4th ult. committed suicide by hanging himself to the bars in the door of his cell.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON.—Harvey W. Waterson, of Tennesse, is spoken of as likely to succeed Mr. Davis as Governor of Oregon.

FROM CHINA.—The latest date from China is Hong Kong, July 1. The report that the rebels had surrounded Canton, and that all the foreign merchants had left for Macao, appears to have been an outside report, brought to California by a passenger in one of the clipper ships which arrived at San Francisco about the time the last steamer sailed. These clippers were the Northfleet, Mermaid, and Lauderick. Their arrival is mentioned by a correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, but not in the California papers of the 15th.—The shortest passage was 44 days. The Journal of Commerce has received China papers of July 1.

The following is from the Hong Kong of China:—

"We have nothing authentic from the disturbed districts between the Bogue and Canton, beyond the fact that the large town of Toonkoon is also in rebel possession. Canton residents express a good deal of confidence in their position, and say the time for an attack is not come yet. The Governor General is more sanguinary than ever, and has decapitated as many as three hundred within the last fortnight, we are told. This fearful amount of blood shedding, though performed with a view to strike terror into the hearts of those who threaten to sack the city, meets with no approval from the city residents. When the rebels do take the city, the massacre of government officers will be complete. The hundreds of thousands of Canton men, women, and children, that were murdered by the Tartars in 1652, is not forgotten, and will be terribly avenged."

Two ships, the Hygeia and the Topaz, had been totally lost on Pratas Shoal or Island.—The China Mail of June 20, says:

"In reporting the wreck of the Topaz and another bark on the Pratas, we said two lorchas were to be despatched to their assistance; but it would now appear that only one ventured on the perilous undertaking, and we are glad to say she has returned in safety, bringing with her not only the remainder of the crew and passengers of the Topaz, but Mr. and Mrs. Malloy, passengers by the Hygeia, which vessel proved to be the second bark seen on the shoals by the Cassiterides. Of the Hygeia's crew and passengers, 110 had managed to reach the island, but 390 still remained on the hull of the vessel, stuck upon the reef ten miles distant."

The Friend of China of July 1 says:

"The Topaz's pinnace, with fourteen more of the Hygeia's passengers, arrived on Thursday—four days from the Pratas. When they left, no vessel had arrived to their relief.—They assert that the whole of the passengers had got off the hull, and are on the island; but from the short interval which has elapsed since the Victoria left, and the previous unwillingness to assist each other, the probabilities are that the present arrivals ran away with the pinnace, with which, however, the passengers might have been saved, had Capt. Dibble done his duty as a man and a shipmaster. We hope our anticipations may prove ill-founded; and shall be rejoiced to learn that the poor wretches are really safe on the island, whence, before we again go to press, we hope to report the return of the fishing boat sent by Messrs. Schaeffer and Berenhart on Sunday last."

THE YELLOW FEVER IN SAVANNAH.—A private letter from Savannah, of the 3d inst. contains the following incident connected with the ravages of the yellow fever in that city:

"About four weeks ago a man came to this city with his wife and two small children, one of them an infant at the breast. He was from Philadelphia and on his way to Texas. On arriving here his funds gave out, and he was obliged to stop and go to work. His wife fell sick soon after landing here, and some of the neighbors, hearing of it, called in to see her, when they found her and her husband on the floor, and she dying in his arms. The husband subsequently took the fever; the Odd Fellows visited him, and tendered him assistance (he being in a state of abject poverty) but he declined receiving their aid, because the Bishop was opposed to the order,—he being a Roman Catholic. He died last night, and is already buried.

The writer further remarks that the city was almost deserted by the white portion of the population, not more than three thousand remaining; and yet the fever raged worse than ever. The fever finds its victims mostly among the foreign population, who generally live in dirtiness and filth, and people from the north who are unacclamated. Native citizens who fell under it were mostly such as were previously debilitated or of intemperate habits.

The steamers which plied between Savannah and Florida were prohibited from landing passengers at the latter place, in consequence of the fever in Savannah, and the authorities of Jacksonville even refused the captain of one of the boats permission to land the mail, and it was consequently returned to Savannah.

THE CHOLERA.—We learn by an extra of the Fall River Monitor that the second daughter of Hon. Nathaniel B. Borden died of cholera on Saturday. Her funeral took place at one o'clock. Mrs. Borden was also ill of the disease, but was expected to recover. The Monitor says:

Miss Borden was about twenty years of age, and was much esteemed in the community.—She spent the evening abroad in company with some friends, and was attacked after her arrival home. Her sudden demise has caused a deep gloom in the community. Further cases have been reported. We learn that an Irish woman, fearing she would have the cholera if she remained in the city, moved to Tiverton on Monday last, was taken with the disease, and died on Tuesday morning. We have heard of one or two similar cases.

At Hartford, on Saturday, there were four fatal cases of cholera, three of them being Irishmen inhabiting a filthy locality.

RESIGNED.—Mr. Whittlesey, first comptroller of the Treasury, has sent in his resignation, having, it is said, taken offence at the discharge of a favorite clerk, and other interference of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The treaty between the United States and the Netherlands is very advantageous to the United States. It provides for the recognition of American consuls in Dutch ports.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyrenees, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!

THE CELEBRITY OF

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it a Humor, which is used in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian Chief, whose child, a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The native, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

The effects are astonishing and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will use disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for scrofulous humors, which, if used in conjunction with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
I. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Enumerde Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints), or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown in the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name J. Jas. Swaim engraved on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the finest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

REVIVING THE SLAVE TRADE.

We have already noticed that the project of reviving the African slave trade has been seriously broached in some of the Southern papers. The opportunity is doubtless considered favorable for such a scheme, when the influence of slavery is triumphant in the councils of the nation, and the members of a large party in the free States are disposed to make every concession which slavery may require in order to secure the political alliance of the South.

It is a fact of some significance that the Washington Union has committed itself in favor of the revival of the slave trade in a certain contingency. An article was recently published in the New Orleans Delta, from the pen of Dr. Cartwright of New Orleans, in which the writer argues to prove that if the 'abolition movement' is continued, the South will be compelled in self defence to reopen the slave trade.

"If Connecticut, Vermont, Massachusetts, Western New York, and the Ohio Reserve will continue to be the dupes of British policy, and force upon the country a dissolution of the Union, it is but right and proper that one of the consequences of disunion, which their blind fanaticism has disqualified them from seeing, should be made known to them in advance; and that is, that the South would be compelled, in self defence, to revive the African slave trade, on a grander and more extensive scale than the world has ever witnessed."

The writer says the present slave holders are not numerous enough to contend against the combined armies of the non-slaveholding States and Great Britain, but that 'there are negroes enough in Africa, and land enough in tropical and tropicoic America, to enable the South to guaranty to each and every warrior she might see proper to call to her aid, a hundred slaves and a thousand acres of land, as bounty for services during the war.' The Washington Union copies this balderdash, and endorses it as follows:

"We have to call the attention of the reader to a very remarkable communication, taken from the New Orleans Delta, on the subject of the revival of the African slave trade—an alternative which, however strongly and vehemently rejected by the patriotic statesmen of the South, now begins to acquire significance from the savage violence and inhuman threats of the fanatics of the free States. This article is from the prolific pen of the venerable Dr. Cartwright, of New Orleans, whose name alone is a sufficient guaranty that the subject has been well and faithfully treated.

* * * * *

The argument of Dr. Cartwright is so full, clear and convincing that we give it to our readers without another word."

We do not for a moment suppose that the vaporing of 'the venerable Dr. Cartwright' and his feeble echo, the Washington Union, meets with favor at the South, but it is disgraceful that such sentiments should find expression in a paper sustaining an official relation to the government. We are admonished, however, by the boldness with which the reopening of the slave trade is urged, by the eagerness which is manifested to extend our possessions at the South, and by the blind devotion of the managers to all the schemes for strengthening slavery, that nothing but a rescue of the control from those into whose hands it has fallen, can save this country from becoming the recognized propagandist of slavery. Such is the tendency of the projects which have been broached for reopening the slave trade, annexing Cuba, recognizing the independence of St. Domingo, drawing closer the ties of amity with slaveholding Brazil, and establishing in all our present territory or prospective acquisitions, the principle of 'squatter sovereignty.'—Boston Journal, abridged.

OVERCOATS, REEFING JACKETS, Overalls, Leggings, Horse Covers, Caps and Capes, Just received from Ansonia India Rubber Co., New York.

CHARLES E. MYERS, Agent, m2 No. 39 Market st, and 2 Bow st.

EXTRACT.—Jean Paul Richter thus describes his feelings on looking at a young bride:

"But it made my soul tender when I looked into that sweet, contented face, blooming with red and white roses, and thought within myself—Oh, be not so joyful! heart needs something warmer than blood, and the head better dreams than the pillow can give it; the perfumed flower leaves of thy youth must be soon drawn together to form the scentless calyx leaves, to protect the honey cup for thy husband, who will soon demand of thee neither tenderness nor a light heart, but only rough, working fingers, feet never weary, laboring arms, and a quiet, paralytic tongue. Thus far, wide-spreading vault of the eternal, blue rotunda of the universe will shrink up to thy housewifery apartment. The sun will be only a hanging balloon stove, a room-heater of the universe—the moon but a cobbler's rush-light upon the candle-stick of a cloud. The Rhine will sink into a pool and rinsing kettle to whiten thy household linen, and the ocean be only a herring pond."

WELL MATCHED.—The Transcript quotes from an article in the last number of the N. A. Review on the use and abuse of words, the figure of speech of a farmer, who replied to a complimentary remark on his horse—"Yes; but he is as slow as cold molasses!" We think we can match this. Once on Lake Ontario, in an old tub of a steamer, a substitute for the regular boat, bound, at the rate of six miles an hour, from Oswego to Niagara river, we asked the skipper if he meant to take the usual route via Toronto.—"Go to Toronto in this thing!" was his answer. "I would as soon undertake to drive a toad through a barrel of tar." There was significance and appropriateness in the metaphor.—Christian Register.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase a Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc. which street, New York.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1854.

MAINE ELECTION.

Something like a tornado has swept through Maine from New Hampshire to Nova Scotia, and the fragments of all the regular political parties are scattered like leaves before the blasts of Autumn.

Senator Douglas is reported to have told the people of Chicago, the other day, that they did not understand his Nebraska bill.—He would probably speak in similar terms of the people in Maine, if he was to address the citizens of Portland to-night.

The repeal of the Missouri Compromise Line had a peculiar effect on Maine. She was paired up with Missouri, and held back as a free State, till Missouri could come into the Union with her slaves. As a part of this transaction, the northern limit of slavery was fixed. And now that it has been swept away, and slavery legalized in a place north of it,—Maine cannot understand how this can be in favor of freedom or consistent with honesty.

As evidence of this misunderstanding, Mr. McDonald, Member of Congress from the first district in Maine, is now to be succeeded in office by John M. Wood, of Portland, a fusionist, so called by some, by others called a whig, but at all events opposed to the above named bill, to the authors who got it up, and to the president who endorsed and pushed it through Congress.

The democratic party in Maine, has been largely in the majority; and the name democrat was a tower of strength there. The able and skilful managers of the "regular" democratic party, perceiving that the Nebraska bill was exceedingly offensive in Maine, and that the President had become identified with it in the public mind, very wisely concluded not to endorse either the administration or the bill; but to go into the election of Governor, with a popular and estimable old democrat as their candidate, and with no platform, except so far as the democratic name can be so considered.

But the people of Maine have apparently connected Nebraska and slavery, administration and democracy, all together; and by a very large majority they have said, We don't understand them,—or We don't like them.

The Portland Argus, (leading Democratic paper,) of Tuesday says:

In this city the result has exceeded our worst fears. Through an unnatural combination of factions, the free use of money, and the organised power of the Know Nothings, Portland has placed on record a vote of which we honestly believe a majority of its citizens will hereafter be ashamed. John M. Wood has a plurality over Samuel Wells, of 1095, with the islands to be heard from. Mr. Morrill's vote exceeds that of Gov. Parris by 942, and Mr. Reed, the regular Whig nominee for Governor, has been deserted by a large majority of those who have heretofore been reckoned as his party friends.

Mr. Wood is elected in this district, and all the fusion County Officers for Cumberland are also chosen, with the possible exception of Mr. Bird, for Clerk of the Court.

We fear that Mr. Kimball is also defeated in the 2d district; and we shall be GLAD to learn that Morrill is not elected Governor by the people.

The fusion representatives for this city are elected, and the majority of votes for County Officers is of the same stripe.

The latest news leads us to fear that about every thing from Congress down, has "gone by the board."

The Advertiser, whig, on the contrary, heads the story, "Glory enough for one day," and closes it by saying,—"without going more into details, it is sufficient to say, in general terms, that the PEOPLE—whigs, democrats and free soilers—"fusionists," if you please—have ACHIEVED A GLORIOUS VICTORY!"

The vote for Governor, in York County, lacking 6 towns, is for Parris 2660, Carey 486, Reed 784, Morrill 4046.

In 107 towns the vote for Governor is—Morrill, fusionist, 21,605; Reid, whig, 4694; Parris, dem. 19,245; Carey, liberal, 1377.

WOULDN'T PRAY FOR HIM.—It is a well known custom with the Catholics, when they lose a friend by death, to have prayer offered from the altar, for the "rest of the soul of the deceased in purgatory," &c. A few Sundays since a well known Priest of this city, was officiating in Roxbury, when he was requested to perform the customary ceremony for the salvation of the soul of a deceased Catholic.—He took the paper on which was written the name of the deceased, and asked "where the man was buried?" The reply was that the body was buried in the independent burying ground in South Boston. Upon which the "holy father" tore up the paper, saying he "could not pray for such a man as that." So as a consequence, the soul of the dead man must be lost.—Boston Bee.

We have an idea that it may not turn out to be quite so bad as that.—Yet this action of the priest is not without its terrors to the poor ignorant souls of his flock.

The Rev. Pierre Chaniel, one of the priests of the Seminary, Montreal, was drowned while bathing in the lake of the Two Mountains.

The law of divorce in some of our States is very lax; but in Germany it is a more easy matter to obtain a divorce than in any State of our Union.

COAL; WOOD; FIRE.

Not only the Boston Courier, but the New York Herald and the Boston Transcript, are out against what they call the combination, monopoly or plot, of the miners and managers in Pennsylvania, to make the dealers and consumers of coal on the coast to the north, pay 10 or 20 per cent. too much for coal.

The latter paper says:

"From the best information we can obtain, we incline to the opinion that there has been an extensive combination of persons connected with the coal trade in the middle States, with a view to raise the price of the article much more than the increased charges for labor and freight the present season would warrant.—The increase of coal shipments over the average of the increased consumption of the article in the country, puts an end to the plea of a short supply. If the present prices are sustained, it will be by a combination among the producers. We trust a successful effort will be made at the next session of Congress for a repeal of the 30 per cent. duty on foreign coal. The residents of Cambridge have combined together, and are about sending for a cargo of coal to be delivered to subscribers at first cost. Subscriptions as low as one ton are received. If this plan should be extensively adopted we dare say coal might soon be obtained in this vicinity at about $7,50 per ton, instead of the $9,00 now generally asked by the dealers."

In the city of Portsmouth, wood has been rather cheaper than coal, this season. The Portsmouth and Concord Railroad passes through a well wooded country.

THE GREAT FALLS HOMICIDE.—The Dover Enquirer gives a few additional facts respecting the death of Wm Maxwell, who was killed in an affray at Dover, by Wm. Hodge.

The physicians testified that they found two fractures of the skull near the left ear, around which clotted blood had collected, four inches by three, and two inches deep. This pressing upon the brain caused death. It is possible that if his wound had been properly and promptly attended to, his life might have been saved.

The examination was postponed till Friday, when it commenced and has not yet been concluded. We understand it will probably occupy two or three days more.

Hodge has already served one term in the State Prison, having been sent there about fifteen years ago for stealing horses from the farm of William Hale, Esq. in Barrington.

SILVER CHANGE, AND SILVER PITCHERS.—The Boston Times libels the presentation business, by the monstrous suggestion, that change was scarce at one time, on account of the great quantity of dimes used up to make presentation pitchers, &c. It says:

We have come to the conclusion that this custom of making "gifts" has had considerable to do with the scarcity of silver which has troubled people so much for some years past. What should have been circulating in the shape of dollars and dimes has been locked up in closets, pantries, safes, vaults, and so forth, as memorials offered to human vanity by human folly. The abstraction of so much solid silver from the purposes of commerce must have had a pernicious effect on business, though we are not prepared to say that it would be the part of wisdom to enact a law prohibiting the making of "gifts," and to punish Mr. A. with fine and imprisonment because he had given his neighbor B. a silver porringer for having returned his (A's) wheelbarrow with only one of the legs missing.—We are for no such interference with individual rights. Men have a clear right—and some think it a duty—to make —— of themselves, and the enjoyment thereof is solemnly though impliedly guaranteed to them by the Declaration of Independence,—that is, under "the pursuit-of-happiness" head; and men appear to be very happy when acting in the most foolish manner possible.

BOSTON THEATRE.—The new and splendid Boston Theatre, was opened and crowded on Monday evening. The original prize address was writen by Dr. Thomas W. Parsons, and recited by Mr. John Gilbert. Mr. Barry is the manager; and it is understood to be conducted on the plan of the Boston Museum, as to expungingr verything obscene or improper,—but on a much larger scale, as to its appointments.

FIRE IN THE WOODS AT SACO.—Our Saco correspondent writes to us, under date of Monday morning, that a destructive fire had been raging for several days past at Deep Brook, about three miles from the centre of that town, and had burned over 1000 acres.—A large force had been at work endeavoring to extinguish the fire, but their efforts were almost fruitless, in consequence of the dryness of everything and the scarcity of water. Last Wednesday, during the heat, people dug a large trench to stop the fire, but a severe tornado took the flames across it, and over the tops of the trees, and the fire caught in places at some distance off. The tornado came so sudden that some of the men and oxen escaped from the flames with great difficulty. A refreshing rain commenced to fall on Friday night, and continued steadily up to Saturday night, which no doubt has extinguished the fire. One gentleman lost about $1500 worth of property; and about fifty cords of hard wood, ready for market, belonging to a poor man, were consumed.—Boston Courier.

FIRE IN BOSTON.—On Monday night, near midnight, flames were discovered issuing from the cellar window of the store on the corner of Broad and India streets, Boston, occupied by Messrs King, Dexter, & Co., dealers in paints, drugs and dyestuffs. Flames at once spread through every part of the structure, and the whole interior of the building, together with the stock, was destroyed. The building was a large double store, and was owned by John Wells, Esq., who, together with the occupants, is doubtless insured. The loss of Messrs. King, Dexter & Co. must have been $40,000.

LOCAL.

MNSIC AT THE LYCEUM.

We are glad to see notes of preparation for the two courses of Lyceum Lectures in this city, during the approaching season of lectures and cold weather. There appears to be a generous and liberal rivalry between the two, in engaging distinguished and popular lecturers. But one thing they lack; so far we have not seen one note of music, nor heard even the tap of a drum to bring the musicians to their post. Now what the Theatre would be without an orchestra or chorus—what the Church would be without a choir or precentor—exactly that is the Lyceum without good music. The Old Portsmouth Lyceum used to have good music, by paying a fair price for a small band of our own; and a similar movement now, would bring out such a band if wanted; or there might be music of a high order on the Piano, (grand or square) by as good players, or better, than can be found in most places of this size.

Music for the whole term would cost about as much as one or two lectures. Let us have it.

ADVERTISING.—The Chronicle has always had a capital list of advertisers, from the start—which has ever been growing larger and better. Most of our business men took hold with us at the outset—some chiefly "to help the new Daily along," as they said. A few even made advertisements for this purpose. All these are remembered with gratitude. And we are not disposed to grumble at those who have used our advertising columns only as they deemed it for their own exclusive benefit. We welcome them all, and have a little room left. This is the season to advertise, and we know of no better medium in this vicinity, than the Daily and Weekly Chronicle.

COMMON SCHOOLS.—We commend for general perusal and consideration the report of the late Commissioner of Common Schools for Rockingham County, made a few months since. It contains, besides many suggestions of universal application, some remarks not laudatory, but just, concerning our Portsmouth school-houses. The observations respecting the teaching of music and physiology in all our public schools, are well-timed, and should be applied. The Report was published in the Daily Chronicle of Monday and Tuesday, and will be issued in full in the Weekly Chronicle.

JUVENILE SINGING.—In the prevalent lamentable state of neglect of music in our public schools, it is highly important and desirable that parents have their children under private musical instruction, at least so as to be able to sing. Three of the four teachers of music now located in Portsmouth, advertise for juvenile classes; and there are children enough in our city, needing such tuition, and whose parents are able to pay for it, to give each of these teachers a large class. Mr. Clark has a large school in Academy Hall; Mr. Moses occupies the room over Mr. Cheever's store, in Market street; and Mr. Pearson the room in the rear of the Chronicle office. Mr. Clark's and Mr. Pearson's classes meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

To-morrow and the next day are the days set apart, by the officers of the Rockingham Fair, for their annual exhibition of Fruits, Vegetables, Needle and Fancy Work, together with the customary display of cattle incident and all important to such an occasion.

The show will be at Exeter, where the first day's procession will be formed at 10 o'clock on Thursday. The Plowing Match will be on Thursday afternoon.

The trials of cattle and horses, and another procession and address, will take place on Friday.

The News Letter says:

There is every reason to believe that the display of animals will far exceed even that of last year, while the amount, and variety, and excellence of the fruit, will occasion universal admiration and astonishment.

Our readers must not, however, feel that the work is done. A pumpkin, a hill of potatoes, a beet, a squash, a melon, a hog, a pig, a cow, and especially a baby, (although no particular premium is offered upon the latter, except the public approbation) will be received with entire satisfaction, and gratify many thousand persons throughout the County and State.

In reference to our Portsmouth friends, we have one word to say:—Portsmouth is the only commercial town in New Hampshire. It depends, for its business, upon the interior of this State, and this only. We appeal to its inhabitants, in the true spirit of kindness and friendship, to lend a helping hand at the coming Fair. We well know, that the citizens of Portsmouth alone, can send us such samples of their productions, as will render their city the leading town, in a horticultural point of view, in the State. We suppose every body knows that Portsmouth is one of the finest agricultural towns in the County, and we sincerely trust that it will, on the approaching anniversary, exhibit its friendship for the interior of the county.

FALL FLOWERS.—A brilliant boquet of Autumn Flowers, despite the drought, came in from a garden on Hanover street.

The Portsmouth Baptist Association, held its 26th Anniversary in Dover, on the 6th & 7th inst. The Introductory sermon was preached by Rev. F. Merriam, of Exeter, from 2 Cor. 4:2. Handling the word of God deceitfully.

Rev. Mr. Lamson of Portsmouth, preached a most eloquent religious discourse, on Wednesday evening, from Ju. 6:29—This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

The business was transacted with great harmony. Ernest resolutions on Slavery were passed, attended by an interesting discourse of considerable length. The temperance cause was unfortunately overlooked.

The contributors to benevolent objects were some larger than last year.

The additions, by baptism, to all the churches, were 146.—News Letter.

FOUR DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF THE ST. LOUIS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12th.—Steamship St. Louis, from Havre via Southampton, with London dates to 30th ult, arrived to day.

The day appointed for the sailing of the expedition to the Crimea was the 20th of Aug. It is composed of 70,000 men including 20,000 Turks. The cholera was not so violent as it had been among the troops.

Constantinople dates to Aug 17 do not confirm the account of the serious defeat of the Turks at Kars already published.

Omar Pacha with 25,000 men entered Bucharest on the 22d, and was most enthusiastically received.

The cholera is raging badly at Bomarsund.

The Spanish Government has borrowed 66,000,000 reals upon the security of Cuba revenues.

Constantinople letters of the 20th announce a great battle near Kars on the 7th, result undecisive; 5000 killed on both sides. Hassin Pasha was killed, Mustapha Pasha wounded. Three Russian Generals disabled.

Liverpool, Aug. 29.—Cotton advanced 1-4d in qualities below middling. Breadstuffs dull and lower. Wheat declined 9d; Flour 1s6d to 2s. Corn in good demand at an advance of 1s. Weather very fine, and accounts from the harvest and crops favorable.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMPIRE CITY WITH THE CALIFORNIA MAIL.—The Empire City which arrived at New York on Tuesday, brings $1,086,000 in gold and about 200 passengers. There is nothing of importance from the Isthmus or South America.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—New Orleans papers of Tuesday are received. 2300 bales of the new crop of cotton had been received by the steamer Princess, being the first large cargo of the season.

In the late violent storm at Charleston the brig Eureka broke from her moorings, drifted against the Battery, and finally sunk, becoming a complete loss; steamer DeKalb had her cabin unroofed; schooner Isabella was sunk; and a number of other vessels were driven ashore, chafed, and seriously damaged. In the interior of the city, gardens and houses were flooded, the occupants in many cases being rescued in boats. Much anxiety was felt to hear from Sullivan's Island. Those who took refuge in Fort Moultrie were considered perfectly safe. Fears are entertained that great damage has been done in the interior by the storm.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A Cabinet meeting was held this morning concerning the important despatches received from the American Commissioner at the Sandwich Island, relative to the treaty between the United States and those islands.

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 12.—The despatches received at the War Department from Gen. Clarke, Commander of the Western Military Depot, fully confirms the recently published accounts of the massacre of Lieut. Grattan and party near Fort Laramie. The fort itself is believed to be in danger, as it is garrisoned by only two companies. Two companies from Fort Riley have gone to their relief.

Mrs. Benton, wife of Col. Benton, died in this city this afternoon.

CHOLERA AND DEATH.—Baltimore, Sept. 11.—Passengers from Columbia, Pa., represent the ravages of the cholera there to be awful. There had been 67 deaths during the last three days, and there are 17 new cases to-day. Just as the cars were leaving, 17 patients were brought in from the Santee furnace. The physicians attribute the awful effects of the disease to the drinking of the impure water of the reservoirs, as those drinking pure spring water were exempt from it. It is supposed that the disease will shortly be checked. The train brought four car loads of citizens with their families, to York and its vicinity.

The cholera is said to be increasing at Martinsburg, Va.

The deaths in Baltimore for the week were 138.

BUFFALO, Sept. 11.—The trustees of the St. Louis Catholic church met on Saturday last to consider the proposition of Bishop Timon for a settlement of the difficulties. The Bishop's overtures, however, were unanimously rejected.

The more you need friends the more they are "out of town." Golightly, a year ago, was blessed with wealth and trifled with woodcock. At that time, Golightly had the run of half the pocket-books in town. In a luckless hour, Golightly undertook to get up "a corner" on "Parker Vein." Golightly tripped up and came to the ground with such force as to knock the bowels out of his bank book. Golightly failed, Golightly was sold out "under the hammer"—every stroke of which seemed to drive a rusty nail in poor Golightly's heart. The sale reduced Golightly to seedy bagches and sixpenny dinners at Sweeny's. But where, you are ready to ask, are his "friends?" Gone with last year's snows. Since his "bust up," Golightly says he has only seen one of his former acquaintances, and he was Mutton, the butcher, who wanted to know "why the —— he had not paid that little balance yet." As we said before, friends are got up on queer principles. The more you need them the more they are out of town.—N. Y. paper.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.
DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for
HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.
The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.
If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth.
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.
For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.
Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.
FOR DYSPEPSIA.
A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.
FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.
It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.
FOR COSTIVENESS.
One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.
FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,
It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with kidney affections that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.
FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00. ☜
HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.
Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced some unprincipled parties to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons, in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

LIGHTNING.

The Newburyport Herald gives the following remarkable particulars concerning the destruction of the house of Mr Henry Rogers, which was struck by lightning on Wednesday evening, gathered from one who has visited the spot:

The building was located upon the most elevated land in the vicinity, which land was entirely free from trees. As near as we could judge, the lightning entered the roof directly over a bed, occupied by three children, and within four feet of their heads, as they were lying—threw about one-third part of the roof, north and south, to the ground, then passed to the east part of the house, tearing off the entire end, and throwing fragments over forty-eight yards, into a neighboring field. It then entered the bedroom, split the head board from a bedstead, upon which were reclining two young men, shattering the posts—thence passed to an adjoining room, tearing from under a feather bed, occupied by Mr. Rogers and his wife, a straw bed, and scattering the straw in all directions, and breaking every pane of glass in the windows, throwing the fragments thirty-six feet to the south. It then separated, taking a southerly and northerly course, throwing a privy upon a stone wall, and splitting from a rock a piece weighing twenty pounds, and throwing it some ten feet into the road.—In its course, it passed through a barn, in which there were hogs and other animals, and a quantity of hay, without injury to anything.

The lightning must have passed within a few inches of the young men, as the head-board and foot board of the bedstead were split nearly in the centre. Every thing in the house was in the most singular confusion, and almost totally destroyed. Articles were passed from one room to another! cards from a rack were found behind a mirror, which stood opposite: a piece of meat, from the cellar-way was found upon the second floor; the stove shattered and broken; and the furniture driven in all directions. But the most remarkable of all was, that not one of the inmates was injured!

Dr. Perkins visited the house, and he informs us that it is a most remarkable instance of the protection afforded by a feather bed from the effects of lightning. He thinks that to the fact that all of the inmates were lying upon such beds, must be attributed their escape.

WHAT A PREMIUM MARE DID.—A correspondent of the Providence Journal gives an interesting account of the first bath of the famous chestnut mare which won the highest premium at the recent Rhode Island horse show. The animal was ridden in company with several other horses, to the east shore of Potowomut neck, to enjoy a swim. She entered the untried element with all the grace and confidence of a Newport belle; but as soon as she found herself beyond her depth, she threw her rider—who, after swallowing large quantities of salt water, succeeded in reaching the shore,—and wearing round gracefully and setting her nose well in the air, struck out boldly to seaward. The grooms on shore were at first in great consternation. They procured a boat and started in pursuit, and after the elapse of some forty minutes, chased the runaway ashore on Warwick neck. But even here they found no easy captive—no Venus rising languid from the bath. Away went the mare over a five barred gate into a corn field. After partaking of some slight refreshments there, she leaped another gate and again took the water. She was headed off by the skiff, however, and being once more driven ashore, was, after an exciting chase over fences and through fields, finally captured, and travelled home, a distance of ten miles by land, in gallant style.

SCIENCE AT FAULT.—Chemists inform us that platinum is the heaviest metal. We think gold must be still heavier, for we know a few young gentlemen who have been endeavoring, but in vain, during the last three weeks, to raise a single sovereign.—Diogenes.

THREE MORE TERRITORIES.—Some time ago we mentioned that the national administration had formed a plan for organizing three new territorial governments in the Indian country south of Kansas, to consist severally of countries of the Cherokees in one territory, the Creeks in another, and the Choctaws and Chickasaws in a third. This plan, it was stated on the authority of a person who had just arrived from the Chickasaw nation, had been sent out to be canvassed by the tribes concerned, and who, under it, were to be constituted citizens of the United States. At the last session of the Senate a bill was presented by Mr. Johnson of Arkansas, which embodied the features of this scheme, and which, though it was not acted on, will probably form a subject of discussion at Washington next winter. This bill proposes, with the assent of the tribes named, to extend over them the constitution and laws of the Union, and to organize three territories, of which the Indians are to be recognized as citizens. The title of the first of these will be Chel-o-kee.

IMPORTATION OF FELONS.—The mean and disgraceful practice of many of the European governments of sending their criminals and paupers to our shores, has been reduced to a system. The New York Tribune publishes an official circular issued at Liege, Belgium, March 14, 1854, addressed to the different Burgomasters and council-men throughout the kingdom, which states that regular transports will leave Antwerp for the United States once a fortnight, and will take a certain number of "liberated persons" and pauper-people from the "depot de mendecite." The Burgomsters are required to let the commissary know if there are any in their districts to transport, and that they must pay the money for pasage and expenses in advance, and forward the subjects to the jail at Antwerp.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.
PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, back, etc.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green
Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1854.

MAINE ELECTION.

By despatches from Portland of Tuesday night, it appears that Morrill is elected Governor by the popular vote, and that, so far as heard from, the Democratic party proper have only succeeded in the choice of twelve representatives to the Legislature.

Every one of the administration candidates for Congress have been defeated.

The following are elected :—3d district, Benson, Whig Fusion; 4th, Knowlton, Free Soil Fusion; 6th, Milliken, Fusion Know Nothing.

The Democratic party have not elected a single Senator to the Legislature in the whole State.

The Eastern Argus of Tuesday says that Wood's plurality in the First District, for Congress, is 3072; and that McDonald's plurality, two years ago, in the same district, was about 3900. Adding these two numbers together, we find almost 7000 as the loss of strength to the national administration by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise line, in this single district, and in this short time.

The Representative from Kittery is Levi Remick, (not Morrill, as the Argus has it;) from Eliot, Mr. Laighton; from York, Josiah Chase; North Berwick and Berwick Samuel Stillings.

The Argus of Tuesday remarks:

At present, we only point out to our readers, that while the democratic candidate for Governor is defeated, the whig candidate for Governor is still worse defeated; and that, however easy it may be to understand who has been beaten in the election, it is impossible to determine, as yet, who has been victorious. The Morrill men, many of them, deny that they are Whigs; and if any revolution has occurred in the State against its "powers that be," it must be remembered that the State is now in whig hands, and that the office holders are of Governor Crosby's appointment. The democratic party has sustained itself better than the whig party, and if a union of isms has obtained success, it remains to be seen how far the same isms can agree in the management of what they have won.

It may be pertinent to remark here, that Morrill was the candidate of the Maine Law men, and that the people of Maine, by his nomination and election have expressed their desire and purpose to sustain and enforce that law to the best of their ability. With these earnest temperance men, the equally earnest anti-slavery men made common cause. In a thousand cases they were the same persons; and with them went thousands more who care not one straw whether they are called by the name of whig, fusion, or democrat. We call this result the triumph of Democracy in Maine.

The Argus adds:

It is a source of gratification to the democrats of Maine, that they have before them no such labor and anxiety as must now devolve upon the fusion leaders.

Of course the democratic party of Maine must be greatly obliged to the fusion for taking all this anxious labor off their hands and out of their minds. The Argus "improves the subject" in the following philosophical strain:

Meanwhile, the results are so overwhelming in one direction, that we can all afford to be good natured about them. A close vote involves a great deal of figuring and anxiety; but where the sweep is general, a few sentences tell the whole story, and the details (as they come in) are mere matters of curiosity. Our friends have no need to use their pencils, and will be troubled with very few doubts concerning the candidates, or the sufficiency of their majorities. We can await now, with patience, the movement of events.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

HARTFORD, September 12.—The forty fifth annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions commenced its session in in the Centre Church, in this city, to-day, Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen in the chair. After the organization, Henry Hill, Esq., Treasurer, read his report, from which it appears that the entire expenditures for the year were $322, 44 92, and the receipts $310, 099 93; debt, $12,042 49; permanent fund $58,650 32; do for officers, $39,840. Rev. Dr Pomeroy read the report, giving a sketch of the operations for the year, and Rev. Mr. Wood read an abstract from the Prudential Committee's report, giving a general idea of the condition of the various missions, after which the Board adjourned until evening.

THE ERIE RAILROAD WAR.—The people of Erie have been fully sustained by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the war which they have so resolutely waged against the Erie and Northeast Railroad, which was run through their city, and which the Court declares to be a public and common nuisance, and has directed the removal of the rails from the streets of the city.

The New Yorkers are having reason for congratulation on the destruction by fire Friday morning, of a distillery which supplied the 16th street cow establishment with swill. Hopes are entertained that for a few days at least, more of the unadulterated "article" can be had.

Peaches are abundant in Rochester, N. Y. and find purchasers with difficulty. The Rochester Union understands that there are owners of large orchards who do not propose to gather their common fruit, and in some instances have given them away. A few would sell well in this market.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FORTNIGHT IN MAINE.

NO. FOUR.

From Brunswick to Augusta, was the last stage of our journey east. The distance is about thirty five miles—the road for leagues lying along the western bank of the Kennebec. We passed through Topsham, Bowdoinham, Richmond, Gardiner, and Hallowell—being repaid for climbing numberless lofty hills, by the beautiful views from their summits.

Augusta is hardly seen at all, till you are within its limits. The State House, which is of granite and a handsome building, presents an end view to the western river road, and being without wings, does not appear to advantage. With its great dome, it looks lofty and contracted. The Legislature meets in January, and was not in session when we were there; but every opportunity was furnished us by the gentlemanly clerk, to examine the building and its contents. The Court House is also a neat granite building.

The city of Augusta lies on both sides of the Kennebec river, and on all sides of a group of hills. On the eastern shore is the Insane Hospital, a very handsome edifice of light granite; and the buildings of the U. S. Arsenal, also of granite,—with grounds beautifully laid out. Large quantities of gunpowder, fireworks, &c., are manufactured here. The neat cottage residence of the late Rev. S. Judd, author of Margaret, &c., is near by. In passing the covered bridge, across the river here, we encountered rather a surly specimen of a toll-gatherer. We believe it is generally allowed that keeping a toll-gate is one of the surest ways of spoiling a man's temper; but the ladies here say his "was spoiled before." The law, per the bridge regulations, says no driving "faster than a walk" is allowed. We were riding at a trot, not so fast as some horses walk, when our hero (who was stationed in the centre of the bridge, probably to overhaul travellers) threatened to put the law to us, &c., if we didn't drive slower. He satisfied his vengeance, however, by taking from us twenty cents toll, which is the published rate, though twelve cents is the sum now adopted. In reply to our statement that we were not driving fast, he said we were injuring the bridge more than we should by running our horse over it!

Along the road, from Brunswick east, we noticed the hubs of all the draught wheels, for horses or oxen, were made of iron, generally cast, but in some instances wrought. A good idea, we should think. The oxen, too, were commonly entirely covered with fly-cloths of coarse linen. A kind of double gig, called jumpers or standers, is in common use here. They have but one axle, and are hung on elliptic side springs—looking something like a chaise with no top. They shake the rider up some. We found an excellent hostler at Augusta, in the person of 'Jerome,'—a gentleman rather blacker than our black steed. There is as much difference in hostlers as in landlords—and the comfort of the traveller depends in a great degree on both. In consideration of the faithful services of 'Rome,' from the time he first assured us he "would keep an eye on our nag," till he last harnessed us out in such good shape, at midnight, we are fain to wish him plenty of good feeders, abundance of provender, and a continued shower of fat perquisites.

On Sunday we had the pleasure of hearing a discourse from Rev. Mr. Armitage, recently of Portsmouth, now rector of St. Mark's Church in Augusta. His society appear to be much pleased with their new pastor, and we should judge his situation a very agreeable one. The society have within a few years built a new and neat vestry, and are now making additions to and much improvement in their church. The new pulpit is merely a support for a sermon, no larger than a small light stand; with a reading desk but little larger—both entirely open to view. Mr. A. is something of a musician, and as a means of having good music in church, he calls the children of his society together, twice each week, to teach them singing.

Rev. Mr. Dillingham, who formerly officiated at the Universalist church in Portsmouth, has returned to his old charge in Augusta. His society here, which languished during his absence, has regained its vigor under the ministrations of a pastor so generally esteemed. We also attended service at the Unitarian church, formerly under charge of Rev. Mr. Judd. It is a very neat church, tastefully finished inside. Above and back of the pulpit, is an emblem of a cross in white, with a dove just about to alight upon it. Neat evergreen trimmings put up on the occasion of the recent ordination of Rev. Mr. Ware, still remain. In addition to this, a beautiful basket of fresh cut flowers was suspended over the broad aisle, and a simple boquet stood on the table in front of the pulpit. This beautiful idea of having flowers in the sanctuary, was adopted at Mr. Judd's suggestion, a year or two since, and has been practiced each Sabbath since, during the season of flowers.

The music at this church was by a quartet,—minus the tenor—and was very good of its kind. A fine quartet of singers was introduced here about three years ago,—then strangers to each other. After singing together in richest harmony, for a couple of years, the four concluded to pair off into two perpetual duets—being all married at once. It is a stupid old lie that "singers never can agree"—which here is at least one fact to contradict.

We spent three days in Augusta very agreeably—finding many old friends and some new ones. Among other objects of interest, we visited the repair shop of the Kennebec & Portland Railroad, where we found a couple of old friends from Portsmouth. This road is being constructed to Waterville, eighteen miles up the river. F.

RECIPROCITY TREATY.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier, under date of September 9, writes that Mr. Crampton received by the last European mail the ratification, by his government, of the fishery and reciprocity treaty, and will probably, on Monday, exchange the same with the Secretary of State. This fact is of importance, because it gives effect at once to the provisions respecting the fisheries. It is understood that the British government regards that as an exclusive imperial interest, and that the American fishermen will enter on the enjoyment of the benefits secured by the treaty prior to the legislative concurrence of the provinces more immediately interested. The resignation of Mr. Hincks will not necessarily retard the ratification of the treaty by the Canadian Parliament. The position of Lord Elgin, as the Viceroy of the Queen, is not affected by the defeat of the ministry; the same system of "responsible government" by Parliament and the ministry having been introduced into Canada as obtains in Great Britain.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Much excitement prevails here in consequence of the attempted arrest of a fugitive slave by three men from St. Louis. The slave was found in one of our principle streets, and seized by the men without the assistance of the officers of the law. The cries of the fugitive attracted a large crowd, and in the confusion he was rescued from his captors. They instantly made an attack on the crowd, recaptured the fugitive, and one of them fired a pistol, wounding a citizen. The three men were arrested and lodged in jail. Their examination is now progressing before a Justice of the Peace, and a highly excited crowd is gathered round the office.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Capt Downing, U. S. N., who was court martialed at Philadelphia and found guilty on all the charges against him except that of disobedience to orders, and sentenced to be cashiered, has had his sentence approved of by the President.

WASHINGTON, 12th.—The Star says that no treaty for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands has been received at Washington.

The Union announces that orders have been received for the withdrawal of the British fleet in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and to throw open the prohibited fishing grounds to the Americans.

CORN AND PORK.—We learn from a gentleman who has just been through Illinois, and has letters and advices of latest dates from all parts of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Wisconsin, that there will be a full average corn crop—more than an average in the north and a little less in the south, but full crops in all parts where hogs are grown. The corn on the prairies looks remarkably well; the reports that have been in the papers about half crops of corn in the states referred to originated mostly with those who have corn and hogs to sell. He is satisfied that there will be 25 per cent. more hogs packed in the four states above named than an average, and a large increase over last year.—Boston Cour.

EXPENSES IN THE SLAVE CASE. We think the "powers that be" owe it to the voters of Massachusetts to give them an official exhibit of the amount of that little bill for the extradition of Anthony Burns from this city to Virginia. As we are to have an election soon, perhaps this expedient will work favorably to the Administration, in overcoming the scruples of certain good Democrats, and winning them to Nebraskaism and its concomitants when the sacrifice is declared to cost "so little" The sum is reported to be only from $50,000 to $100,000, and as the President and Cabinet are opposed to "Know Nothingism," they should carry out their principles far enough to enlighten us on this interesting local item.—Boston Trans.

NEW INVENTION.—Oliver L. Reynolds, of Dover, has recently obtained a patent for a machine for turning wood of irregular shapes and surfaces, such as shoe lasts, wheel spokes, &c. The "Scientific American," represents it as "an excellent and ingenious machine," and one which must prove of great utility. It is so constructed as to produce different patterns of work by a single operation. The cutters are placed on a revolving horizontal wheel, and a number of carriages are employed with a pattern on each, by which various articles are turned out at one continuous operation of the machine.—Dover Enquirer.

J. Watson Webb, who is now in England writes to the New York Courier that in three months, or before Christmas, wheat will have fallen from 65 to less than 45 shillings per quarter.

The Rev. Mr. Eaton, of the 2d Baptist Church in Salem, has been invited to the pastoral charge of the Baptist church in Manchester, N. H.

The London Times, speaking of a recent military trial in that city :—An English barrack seems to be a something between a brothel and a cockpit, as cockpits were a half century ago."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The prohibitory liquor law was defeated in the City Council, last night, by three votes.

LOCAL.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence society, was held at the Temple in this city, on Monday evening Sept. 11. The officers elected for the current year were: T. H. Miller, President; F. W. Rogers, Vice President; James Nowell, Secretary and Treasurer; S. M. DeMeritt, J. D. Pillow, John Christie, Oliver Hanscom, Executive Committee.

The meeting was then adjourned four weeks, viz. to Monday evening Oct. 10.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

HALIFAX, Sept. 12.—The steamship Niagara, Capt. Leitch, from Liverpool at 2 P. M., on Saturday, 2d inst., arrived at this port at 10 o'clock this evening.

THE EASTERN WAR.—Nothing later respecting the war has been received.

The commanders of the allied forces have concluded to dismantle and abandon fortifications at Bomarsund and the Aland Islands. The fortifications were so badly damaged, and so large a garrison being required to hold them against the enemy, that it was not deemed expedient to retain possession of them. It is said that they were offered to Sweden on condition of her declaring against Russia, but Sweden refused to accept the offer. It is reported, but not believed, that the allies have offered to pay Sweden a monthly subsidy if she would join the alliance.

On the 26th ult., Admiral Napier and Gen. Baraguay de Hilliers proceeded to Hargo, when the Russians blew up the fortifications and retreated to Abo, where there are 15,000 men in garrison.

One hundred and twenty-two mounted and eighty dismounted guns, taken at Bomarsund, will be divided between France and England.

An engagement, without loss, occurred at Abo on the 18th between Russian gunboats and some English steamers.

BERLIN, Friday, Sept. 1, P. M.—Russia will not accept the Austrian invitation to commence negotiations on the basis stipulated by the Western Powers.

PRICES OF BREADSTUFFS

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Liverpool, Sept. 2.—Under the influence of exceedingly favorable weather our Breadstuffs Market has continued very dull, and Wheat and Flour have declined during the week.—The few sales of Flour were from 2s 6d to 3s 6d under the current rates at the sailing of the Africa on the 26th ult. We quote 27 a 29s, prices being rather irregular. Wheat has declined 1s to 1s 5d per 70 pounds. Some speculative inquiry for Indian Corn, and yellow and white are firm at 34s per qr. of 480 pounds.

In France Wheat has fallen 10 a 12s per qr.

In London on the 28th the new Wheat displayed was of the most excellent description, and prices were quoted 6 a 8s per qr. lower; Flour fell 5s per sack, and American was 1 a 2s per bbl. lower.

Albany, Sept. 11.—Flour—Sales at $9,25 a 11. Little doing in Wheat. Corn—82c for small parcels of round yellow, and 80 1-4 a 81c for Western mixed afloat. Oats—Chicago at 56c a 57c.

New York, Sept. 12—6 P. M.—Flour 25 a 37 cents lower; State $9,12 a 9,50; Ohio $9,25 a 9,62; Southern 12 a 25 cents lower; $9,25 a 9,62. Wheat firm; sales 11,800 bushels; Genesee $2,12; Canadian $2, duty paid; Southern red $1,75. Corn unchanged; sales 50,000 bushels; mixed 82 a 83 cents, mostly 82; white and yellow nominal.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Flour $10 a 10,25 for Western common, $10,50 a 10,75 for fancy, and $11 a 12,00 for extras, including Genesee; common Southern $10 a 10,25, fancy do $10,25 a 10,37 per bbl. The Corn market continues dull, and small lots only sell at 88 a 90 cents for white; mixed 88 a 92 cents, as to quality; 93 a 95 cents for yellow per bushel. Oats at 55 a 57 cents per bushel for Northern. Rye $1,20 a 1,25 per bushel.

U. S. TROOPS MASSACRED BY THE INDIANS.—St. Louis, Sept. 8, 1854.—The following highly important dispatch has just been received in this city, by special express from Fort Leavenworth:

Lieutenant Fleming states that on the 18th of August, a Sioux killed an ox belonging to an emigrant train, close to Fort Laramie.—The head chief reported the fact to him, (Lieut. Fleming,) and offered to give up the offender, whereupon brevet 2d Lieutenant Grattan, with the interpreter, Sergeant Favor, Corporal McNully, and twenty privates, were sent to receive him. Lieut. Fleming subsequently learned that the whole detachment were massacred, without exception. How the deed was done, and the immediate cause of the attack, was not clearly known at the time the express left. It however had been ascertained that the Indian chief was among the killed, but the total number killed had not transpired. The Indians are reported to be extremely hostile, and the fort was considered in great danger. Reinforcements have been ordered to Fort Laramie.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Savannah Republican doubts whether rice enough for seed will be saved on the Savannah river, and fears that the same is true of all the rice lands in Georgia and South Carolina.

There is reason to apprehend that many lives were lost in the late terrific gale. The tide was two to three feet higher than it has been for thirty years. The loss is estimated by millions.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Fyrenees, Lisbon, Sienna, and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

CAUSES FOR INSANITY.—A report recently issued by Dr. Blanchard, the superintendent of the Kings County (N. Y.) Lunatic Asylum, developes some interesting facts in relation to the causes of insanity. It would seem that of the three hundred inmates of the Asylum, eighteen, including seven men and eleven women, lost their sanity from events moving the affections, and ten, comprising seven men and three women, from events connected with the intellect. One man and two women were crazed by disappointed love; and one man and three women by jealousy. Insanity was occasioned in three men and three women by uncontrollable temper; also in three men and three women by religious enthusiasm.—Dissipation destroyed the reason of twelve men and eleven women. Fifteen house keepers and fourteen domestics were among the unfortunates hereft of reason—showing a difference of only one to prove that the housekeeper has the harder lot of the two. The loss of a daughter caused the insanity of one woman, and the loss of a wife occasioned the same result in one man. The only person rendered insane by fright was a man.—Boston Journal.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connexion with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

"SMUGGLING ON BOARD THE SARATOGA."—The alleged smuggling on board the U. S. sloop-of-war Saratoga, which was alluded to Tuesday, upon investigation, turns out not to have been very extensive. A large proportion of the articles are mere curiosities, which were picked up by the seamen in China and Japan, and consist of idols, images, rare boxes and feather ornaments of little value; and not subject to import laws, even if brought hither in a merchant vessel. It is true that a few shawls, four fur robes, a couple of pieces of grass-cloth and silk were discovered; but thus far the owners are not known. It is the opinion of the revenue officers that the commissioned officers of the sloop-of-war are free from all suspicion. Several of them invited the strictest examination of their trunks, and indeed aided in the search of the vessel. A law of 1846 provides "that no officer or other person connected with the navy of the United States shall, under any pretence, import in any ship or vessel of the United States any goods, wares or merchandise liable to the payment of any duty. Thus it will be observed that goods liable to the payment of duty, brought here in a government vessel, cannot be entered at the Custom House, but must be confiscated."

One of the individuals suspected of the ownership of a portion of the contrabrand articles found, is the son of wealthy parents, who reside in Philadelphia, and although he may have violated the laws of his country, he did not do so with the intention, at the outset, of cheating the revenue. He desired mainly to present to his friends upon his return—after an absence of four years—some little keepsake, as proof that amid the luxury and attractions of the East, they were not forgotten. It is not clear that he was aware of the law prohibiting the importation of goods liable to the payment of duty in United States vessels.

The value of the articles seized and pronounced contrabrand, will not amount to one thousand dollars.—Boston Courier.

DEATH OF A GOD-DAUGHTER OF DR. JOHNSON.—We find in a London paper of Aug. 22d, the following announcement:

"Died on August 12th, at Richmond, England, Mrs. Jane Langton, last surviving daughter of Bennet Langton, Esq. of Langton, Lincolnshire. Mrs. Jane Langton was the god-daughter of Dr. Samuel Johnson. Her birth is mentioned by Boswell under the year 1777, and however strange it may seem, she was the correspondent of the great lexicographer who died 70 years ago. In 'Boswell,' may be seen a beautiful letter from Johnson to his little god-daughter, acknowledging a pretty letter he had just received from her. It begins, 'My dear Miss Jenny;' is full of good advice for a girl of her years, conveyed in words of great simplicity, for the great author, and written withal, as Boswell tells us, in a large round hand, nearly resembling printed character, that she might have the satisfaction of reading it herself. 'When you are a little older,' (it is thus the great man concludes his letser to Miss Jenny,) 'I hope you will be very diligent in learning arithmetic, and above all, that through your whole life, you will say your prayers and read your Bible,' an injunction Miss Jenny remembered. She was, moreover, proud of showing her illustrious god father's letter, and kept it framed and glazed in her favorite apartment at Richmond. Mrs. Langton is believed to be the last survivor of all the persons mentioned in Boswell's delightful biography."

A letter in the Journal of Commerce, from San Francisco, says.—"An invoice of hardware, which cost in New York, 18 months since, over $1300, and has been here in store over twelve months, was offered for sale last week for the sum of $500, while the person to whom it was offered figured on it for a long time, to see if he could afford to make an offer of $400, for property that cost, including freight, storage and interest, not less than two thousand dollars. And this is by no means a solitary case. There are thousands similar occurring every day, of articles in almost every commodity."

MISS DIX AND MR. COLLINS.—When Miss Dix, a few days since, called at the office of Mr. Collins, to pay her passage to Liverpool, the clerk handed her a receipt, but declined the money, saying that Mr. Collins had directed him to request her acceptance of the passage. It appeared also that Mr. Collins had placed a state room at her disposal, allowing no other one to share it, and thus in fact presenting her with two passages. With the passage money returned to her, she immediately paid the first year's premium on the insurance of her life for $4000, which sum she wished to secure, (and did so before sailing) to the Insane Asylum at Trenton.—A communication to the New York papers, describing the incident referred to, adds:

"Mr. Collins was on board when she arrived, and she approached to tender her thanks, but taking her hands in his, with an emotion that did him honor, he said: 'The nation, Madame, owes you a debt of gratitude which it can never pay, and of which I, as an individual, am only too happy to be thus privileged to mark my sense of.' Miss Dix could reply only with tears, for, as was evident to all who saw her, her nervous system is completely prostrated. Could we expect it to be otherwise, in view of her immense labors and her grievous disappointments? In sixteen States, this delicate woman has had the satisfaction to see Asylums for the Insane established under her influence."—Boston Chronicle.

Her greatest disappointment was President Pierce's Veto of the bill giving land for the benefit of the insane throughout the country. Thousands of other people were disappointed also; but we were not of the number.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.
PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. POBLAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, &c.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc. wich street, New York.

DECISIONS OF JUDICIAL TRIBUNALS.

Mr. Sumner, in his speech yesterday, while referring to the decision pronounced by the United States Supreme Court, that the Fugitive Slave Act is constitutional, thus spoke of the crimes that have been perpetrated by judicial tribunals. The extract is worthy of attention.—Boston Herald.

Begging the Herald's pardon, we would just remark that the United States Supreme Court has never yet decided any thing about the Fugitive act of 1850.

Now let us hear Mr. Sumner:

For myself let me say that I hold judges, and especially the Supreme Court of the country, in much respect; but I am too familiar with the history of judicial proceedings to regard them with any superstitious reverence.—(Sensation.) Judges are but men; and in all ages have shown a full share of human frailty. The worst crimes of history have been perpetrated under their sanction. It was a judicial tribunal which condemned Socrates to drink the fatal hemlock, and which nailed the Saviour to the cross. It was a judicial tribunal, surrounded by all the forms of law, which doomed the fair Virginia, in ancient Rome, as a slave; which in modern times, enforced the tortures of the inquisition, amidst the shrieks and agonies of its victims, and which compelled Galileo to declare, in solemn denial of the great truth he had disclosed, that the earth did not move round the sun.

Aye, Sir, it was a judicial tribunal, in England, surrounded by all the forms of law, which sanctioned every despotic caprice of Henry 8th, from the unjust divorce of his Queen to the beheading of Sir Thomas Moore; which lighted the fires of persecution, that glowed at Smithfield over the cinders of Latimer, Ridley, and John Rogers; which, after elaborate argument, upheld the fatal tyranny of ship money against the opposition of Hampden, which, in defiance of justice and humanity, sent Sidney and Russell to the block; and which persistently enforced the laws of Conformity that our Puritan Fathers persistently refused to obey. And it was a judicial tribunal in our country, surrounded by all the forms of law, which hung witches at Salem, affirmed the constitutionality of the Stamp Act, and admonished "judges and jurors to obey"—and which, now, in our day, has sanctioned the atrocity of the Fugitive Slave Bill.

The judgments of courts are of binding authority upon inferior tribunals and executive functionaries, whose virtue does not prompt them to resign office rather than aid in the execution of an unjust law. Over all citizens, whether in public or private station, they will naturally exert, as precedents, a commanding influence; this, I admit; but no man, who is not lost to self-respect, and ready to abandon that manhood, which is shown in the Heaven-directed countenance, will voluntarily aid in enforcing a judgment, which, in his conscience, he solemnly believes to be against the fundamental law, whether of the Constitution or of God. Not lightly, not rashly, will he take the grave responsibility of open dissent; but, if the occasion requires, he will not hesitate.—Pains and penalities may be endured; but wrong must not be done. "I cannot obey, but I can suffer," was the exclamation of the author of Pilgrim's Progress, when imprisoned for disobedience to an earthly statute. Better be even the poor slave, returned to bondage, than the unhappy Commissioner.

The Boston Chronicle thus criticises Mr. Sumner:

His attempted defence of his former position that every one is to construct the constitution as he understands it and not as it is interpreted by the Supreme Court, is altogether unworthy of Mr. Sumner. His main position which he seeks to elaborate with so many references to the past, that because judicial tribunals in barbarous and benighted ages have made decisions now regarded as wrong, pernicious or inhuman—that, therefore, the decisions of the Supreme Court of this Republic, in our age of Christianity and the highest intelligence, are not binding upon the minds or consciences of the citizens, is one that it were better for his own fame that he had never advanced.

And now, begging the Boston Chronicle's pardon, we remark, that Mr. Sumner, in this speech, takes no such position. He adduces facts, in abundance, proving that judges and courts of old were fallible, and sometimes wicked—and intimates that the moderns are probably not much better.

☞ The Stockholders of the Vermont Central Railroad have as yet made no decision as to the fraudulent stock issued by Mr. Crane. At a meeting of the Stockholders at Montpelier on Tuesday last, a proposal to assume the stock was rejected by a large vote, and a motion to repudiate was laid on the table by a vote of 42,772, to 3,142.

☞ Henry Hill, Esq., of Boston, for thirty-two years Treasurer of the Board of Missions, has declined a re-election to that office, and offered a farewell donation of $2000 to the society.

ACCEPTED.—Hon. Greene C. Bronson has withdrawn his letter of declination, and has accepted the nomination for Governor of New York, by the Hard Shells.

A CITY FUNCTIONARY IN JAIL.—John Kavanagh, one of the members of the Brooklyn Board of Excise, for granting rum licenses to improper persons, has been sentenced to pay a fine of $250, and to spend thirty days in the county jail.

A man was recently tried for forgery in Ireland, but it turned out that he had forged the signature of a person who could neither read nor write, which the judge ruled was no forgery at all.

THE KNOW NOTHINGS.—Nearly every paper which we read, has some paragraph concerning this mysterious body;—that the lodge in such a place is in favor of such and such measures, or that Mr. such-a-one was proposed for membership and was rejected.—These stories may all be true, but if they are, they only prove that the world is not yet cleared of all the rascals and fools. If their business is done in secret, under the protection of an oath, and is divulged, the author declares himself a liar and a perjurer, and therefore not to be believed in any case. If any one is reported to be a rejected applicant, of course it must be done by one of these same perjurers, or by the applicant himself, which is equivalent to acknowledging himself an ass, who would not be a valuable acquisition to any society.

The object of this organization has proved itself to be entirely political, and the effect has been to upset all the calculations of astute politicians. The best way to get over the matter, is to let them go on their way rejoicing. If through their aid bad men are elected for their own rulers; why, next year, nominate others who will behave better. The only security for the permanent existence of the Know Nothings, is to vote for men of ability, who will prove by their public acts that the private transactions of their order are moral, legal, and intended for the best good of the country. Are we correct? We think we are.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13th.—In the case of Calvin Durand vs. Capt. Hollins, for destruction of property at Greytown, a motion was made to-day in the Superior Court by the U. S. District Attorney, for an order to transfer the trial to the U. S. District Court, but the plaintiff's counsel not being in town the matter was laid over until the 27th inst.

The steamship Florida, at this port to-day, left Savannah on Sunday morning, and brings further particulars of the great gale in that quarter. The damage was general and wide spread, but no lives are known to have been lost. Houses, churches and public buildings were unroofed, and many streets are impassable from fallen trees &c. The gas works were so much damaged that the city could not be lighted.

There were twenty deaths at Savannah on Friday, of which thirteen were by yellow fever. When the Florida left, Dr. Wildman was lying at the point of death from yellow fever.

The mills of the North American, Phalanx and Mammoth Company, N. J., were destroyed by fire on Sunday. Loss $10,000.

The loss of ship Devonshire, as before reported, is confirmed. She was from Trieste, in ballast, and was insured in Wall street for $20,000.

CALAIS, Sept. 11.—A fire was discovered, about one o'clock this morning, in a barn in the rear of Mr. William Campbell's house, St. Stephen, and spread so rapidly that in one hour eight or ten buildings were destroyed. The loss is estimated at from $35,000 to $40,000, on which there is insurance for about 15,000.

A judge's duty is to snub the counsel on both sides, and bother the jury by furnishing them with a third method of looking at a case. We got this from a wag who went to law to get damages; and he got what he went after, enough to last him a life-time.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The steamer Benjamin Franklin, which it now appears was prepared to go out with Gen. Paez against Venezuela, has been embargoed by the authorities of the United States, at the request of the Hon. R. Aspuria, the Venezuelan Minister. It is said that the same course will be taken with regard to the clipper barque Catharine Augusta, on her arrival at St. Thomas. Senor Aspuria has sent out despatches to the Venezuela Consul at St. Thomas to have her seized when she reached that port. It was reported, it will be recollected, that these vessels were bound to Mexico and St. Domingo, and no mention was made of their going to Venezuela.

THE FRANKLIN.—We learn from the New York papers that the recent heavy weather has destroyed all hopes as to the possibility of getting this steamer once more afloat. Her timbers are loosened, her bed plates, pillars and blocks broken, and her wood work so badly damaged from stem to stern that she bends and twists with every motion of the water. A large portion of her machinery will be lost when she breaks up, as no purchase of sufficient power could be obtained to raise the heavy parts of the iron work. Two wrecking companies have been engaged for some time past, in attempts to get her afloat. One abandoned the effort, and the other was engaged in operations upon her, when the recent storm obliged them to give up the attempt. They were to receive $30,000 if successful.

CHARGE OF MURDER.—We learn from the Worcester Spy that Dan Green, the keeper of a noted brothel and greggery upon the outskirts of that city, was committed to jail in Worcester, on Saturday night, upon a warrant charging him with the murder of an Irishman named Callahan, belonging to Clinton. He would probably be examined this morning. This fellow, Green, formerly resided in this city. He is the same ruffian who in connection with other rowdies, made the fiendish assault upon Mayor French's house, last Spring. Can any body tell what became of those cases? The parties were indicted by the Grand Jury, and since then, the affair seems to have been dropped. We don't insinuate any thing, but it looks decidedly suspicious.—New Bedford Standard.

A little girl in Dayton, Ohio, fell fifty-four feet down into a well into six feet of water.—Her mother heard her cries and pulled her out by the bucket string, the child holding on by her hands. In an hour afterwards she was as lively as a cricket.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.—For want of a quorum, no business was transacted in either board on Thursday evening.

The Treasurer had the following report of the city finances ready for presentation:

Amount of Taxes for the current year paid, for which 6 per cent. discount has been allowed,	$34,525 74
From outstanding taxes of former years, about	1150 00
Rent of Court House	300 00
	35,975 74
Amount paid out	17,049 87
Balance on hand,	$18,925 87

CONCERT.—Mr. Moses announces a vocal entertainment, at the Temple this evening.—The performers are twelve young ladies, including that favorite class "The Seven," who have often appeared before a Portsmouth audience, and always with high favor. Others of our most talented lady vocalists will also assist. Everybody will expect a first-rate concert; and they will get it. Mr. M. never gives any thing but the best.

☞ The side walls of the new North Church have been carried up to their height; and preparations are now making to put on the roof, which is understood to be nearly or quite framed. The end walls are also carried up to the same height. The walls are of the usual thickness of modern churches of like size and character—the back end (where there are no windows or doors) twelve inches, the sides and front eighteen inches.

GAS-LIGHT.—Mr. E. A. Stevens sends us a pamphlet, explanatory and commendatory of the patent Gas Regulator sold and fitted by him. Its uses and advantages are set forth, and the adoption of the instrument strongly recommended to all consumers of gas, for economy and comfort. Its object is to regulate the supply of gas to the burner,—so that whatever change of pressure there may be in the street pipes, the lights under the influence of this fixture will remain the same—enhancing the luxury of this most excellent artificial light.

GAS.—Why do not the managers at the Works let on the Gas earlier? Yesterday afternoon, during the shower our compositors were abliged to work by the sense of feeling for an hour. Setting type by feeling for the nick is slow work.

INSPECTION OF THE NAVY YARD.—Thursday forenoon Commodore Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, visited the Navy Yard in this city. On entering the yard at half past ten o'clock, he was honored with a salute.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At the Eastern Railroad depot, in Newburyport, Wednesday afternoon, on the departure of the 3 1-2 o'clock train for the East, Capt Hezekiah Boyd, of Seabrook, master of the sch Joseph, attempted to jump upon the train after it had started, was struck by the car and thrown under one of the large sixteen wheel cars, the wheels of which passed over his body, and the car was thrown from the track by the accident. He breathed a little after being taken up, but probably had no consciousness of what had happened to him. Capt. Boyd was about 38 years old, and leaves a wife and two children at Seabrook. An inquest was held upon the body, and the verdict in accordance with the above stated facts was rendered. It appeared in evidence that Mr. Boyd was in the depot before the arrival of the cars, and that the train remained in the house somewhat longer than usual.

There have been thousands of hair breadth escapes from accidents of this kind at the station house, but this is the first occasion in which loss of life, or indeed any serious accident has occurred in the station house since the opening of the road. It should now serve as a warning to all not to attempt to get off or on the cars while in motion.—Newburyport Herald.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.

The number of deaths at the hospital from yellow fever, during the past week, has been 125.

We have received Galveston dates to 8th inst. but, beyond the fact that yellow fever was on the increase in that city, we find no news from Texas worth reporting.

From Brownsville, 2d inst. we learn that a battle of three days duration is reported to have been fought at Victoria between the Government troops and the insurgents. The latter finally retired with a small loss, while the former are reported to have lost 400 men.—San Luis Potesi had raised the standard of rebellion.

A fatal and most singular accident occurred at the Clento rolling mill, in South Pittsburg, Pa. on Wednesday last. It appears that some days ago the brush on the hill immediately in the rear of the mill was set on fire and continued to burn slowly. Wednesday afternoon, it reached some logs, one of which supported a heavy stone, weighing, perhaps some 300 pounds. The logs were consumed, and the stone, being left without support rolled down the hill at a terrific rate, entered the rear of the mill where a man named Adam Weyland was employed, and striking him on the head and breast, it crushed him so that he died in less than two minutes. The distance from the point of the hill from where the stone fell, to the mill, was about three hundred feet, but it descended with such velocity that it entered the building without being seen or even heard by any of the workmen.

EXAMPLE IN HIGH PLACES.—It is reported that in all the receptions and crowds with which Mr. Fillmore met in the south, on his recent tour, he declined every glass of wine and liquor tendered to him. When urged to take a glass of wine, he smiled and begged to be excused; said he never indulged. Here is an example worthy of imitation.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN NEWS

BY THE NIAGARA.

The Russian hospitals and magazines are being removed from Galatz to Bessarabia.

The Austrians have entered Wallacia, but their farther movements are not reported. Gen. Cernorina has gone to Bucharest to consult with Omar Pacha.

In the recent fire at Varna, half a million pounds of bread, equal to two weeks consumption of the British army, was burned. The fire is supposed to have been willful, and as a precaution for the future, a cordon has been drawn around all the magazines containing powder. There was considerable excitement, the incendiaries being supposed to be Russian agents. Transports continue to arrive from Malta.

The French troops are getting impatient at the long inactivity. The cholera has made terrible ravages in both armies and fleets, and many thousand have perished, but it is now abating.

All was quiet at Constantinople.

ASIA.—The disasters to the Turks in Asia are confirmed on the 29th July. Selim Pasha was defeated, and the Russians occupied Bajazis. On the 7th August a vapory display of the Turkish force brought on a general engagement, and a general battle was fought near Kars. The Turks attacked the Russian entrenched camp at Bajegkdere, and also drove in the right wing of the Russian army, but a general charge of Russian cavalry swept them back with immense loss. The Turks lost 4000 men, and confess that the Russians were the victors. The Russians suffered very severely however, and an armistice of two days was agreed to by both parties, after the battle.—The Turks retreated into Kars, and abandoned their camp, which was taken possession of by the Russians, who acknowledge a loss of nearly 1000 killed. The battle lasted five hours; 40,000 men and 150 peices cannon were engaged. Selim Pasha, the Turkish commander on this occasion, has been superseded by Moestapha Pasha, who has already distinguished himself in the Dobrudscha.

GREECE.—The excitement caused by the announcement of the French commander, that, as the Piraeus is unhealthy, he will remove his troops to Athens, is very great.

The delay granted by the Porte to Greece, for the adjustment of her difficulties with Turkey, expired on the 1st of September, but no arrangement had been made.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The weather has been extremely favorable for harvesting, and a very large proportion of the crops have been secured.

The Harvest is progressing and very abundant, causing great depression in the market. Principal circulars agree in reporting a decline of 15d on Wheat and 3s decline on Flour. Indian Corn is slightly lower.

Parliment has taken a recess. There was no political news of any importance.

Advices from China to July 6, says that the treaty between the United States and Japan has been signed. Nothing has been seen of the Russian fleet in the Indian waters.

SPAIN.—The Union Republican Club is closed by order of the Government, and detachments of National Guards had been ordered to arrest the members if they persisted in assembling. Several small clubs have also been dispersed.

Madrid is profoundly tranquil. All the provincial juntas are suppressed. Government publishes the accounts of the defalcations of the old ministry, showing $30,000,000 deficit, with the revenues of Cuba mortgaged for two years, and all the extra resources of the Kingdom pledged. Espartero had raised a temporary loan of $2,000,000 on security of the customs receipts at Havana, and upon Bank securities.

A decree appears confiscating the property of Queen Christina. Under cover of this measure she has left Madrid for Portugal, where she will embark for Italy or France. Much of her wealth is safely invested in foreign securities.

Notwithstanding the supposed profound tranquility, private advices report outbreaks at Madrid on the 28th, when it became known that Queen Christina had escaped. A few barricades which had been put up, were pulled down by the National Guard, and the opportune entry into the city of some regiments of cavalry, prevented much mischief.

ITALY.—The cholera is abating. Romara and Duchias are in a disturbed state, and many assassinations had taken place. Seven more persons had been sentenced to death at Parma. The universal jubilee, long contemplated by the Pope will be held in October or November next, and a General Convention of the Church will meet at Rome to settle the question of the Immaculate Conception.

A SERIOUS-MINDED THIEF.—At a late hour on Tuesday night, a clerk at the Winthrop House arrested Charles H. Wood, for stealing a valise containing sermons and other articles, the property of a clergymen who is stopping at that hotel. Wood is well known to the Police as a "professer" of the West End.—Boston Chronicle.

American flour is cheaper in Europe than it is here. At Havre, the highest quotations for American flour were $8,50 a barrel. At London, American flour of fine quality was in demand at from $7,20 to $8,35 a barrel.—Boston Transcript.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

BUSINESS OF BUFFALO.—The Buffalo Courier of Saturday, says:—Our docks present a scene of bustle and activity, indicating a prosperous season for all those engaged in commission business, or in the carrying trade. We were told yesterday by a gentleman interested in one of the Elevators, that thus far this year, he had handled as much grain as he did during the whole year of 1853, and that other Elevators had done a business equally as large. Vessel owners are understood to be reaping a golden harvest, with a prospect before them in the highest degree encouraging.

This does not look like a very alarming scarcity of wheat.

The annual report of the Boston and Maine Railroad, shows up that corporation in a very favorable light. The total earnings for the year were $850,000, and the expenses $451,000—leaving nearly 400,000 net, out of which two 4 per cent dividends were paid, and a surplus of $66,000 carried to the previous surplus. The total surplus is now about $200,000.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. Kinzer, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College. Three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humor in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the system, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use, and it will be found valuable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor out the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

THE NAVY.—Correcting some misapprehensions of a cotemporary the National Intelligencer says:

Neither the Macedonian nor the Constellation have been cut down from frigates to sloops-of-war, as both of those vessels have been condemned and broken up, and two new vessels have been built to which those names have been given in order to perpetuate them in our navy. Though the two new vessels have a light spar-deck thrown over their guns for the purpose of working ship clear of the armament, as well as to protect the latter from falling spars and rigging in time of action, they still, it is true, are only what may be called sloops-of-war or single deck vessels, as their spar-deck is without armament, except one heavy pivot-shell gun forward and another aft. But still the ghosts of the old frigates need in no way be ashamed of them, for they probably are the two finest ships of their class that float the ocean, and though designated as sloops-of-war, they each exceed in tonnage their former name-sakes; and, fitted and armed as they are with shell-guns and all the modern naval improvements, either of them could capture or destroy in ten minutes a frigate such as was the Constellation when commanded by Truxton, or the Macedonian when captured by Decatur.

It is the opinion of experienced naval men that but a few years will elapse before such a vessel as a line-of-battle ship will be a rarity in the navy of any nation, and the heaviest of vessels for war purposes will be armed only on one deck with a full battery of shell-guns; for such a ship would be a match for the present leviathans like the Napoleon and the Wellington, which could be sunk by a single well-planted ten-inch shell, and which affords a mark above water double or treble the bulk of a single-decked vessel like the new Constellation or Macedonian.

In former times a vessel similar to either of the latter would not for a single moment attempt to contend with a line-of-battle ship; but now, with their long Paixhan shell-guns, they could do so with some equality as to success, and particularly as the greater portion of the armament of those heavy two and three deckers are the ordinary 32 pounders, with but a small number of the heavy shell-guns.

THE KNOW NOTHINGS IN NEW YORK.—A correspondent for the Boston Chronicle, in New York, writes us as follows:

"Old party politicians—I speak of both parties—are corrupt, and self is their ruling passion. I have always been a Whig, like yourself, and believe the Whig principle, aside from selfish men, is the right one. I believe it is American. But party men, I repeat, are dishonest, politically, and cannot be trusted to go further. Hence the American or Know Nothing movement. I rejoice that they are so strong in old Massachusetts. In a late paper one of your correspondents says there are eighty thousand at least in the State. I assure you, New York will speak in November, in tones so loud that they cannot possibly be misunderstood in the Empire State. Our motto for this year is, 'Have no man on duty but Americans.' Now York, now the worst governed city in the world, after election will be an American city, ruled by Americans, and consequently it will be ruled honorably and soberly. Say to our friends in Massachusetts, that New York expects her to do her duty, and we pledge ourselves to do ours. We will not leave a corporal's guard of either of the old parties. Put New York down for making a clean sweep of all the 'old Hacks.' Mysterious league, these Know Nothings! We know they are here, but we cannot tell whence they came or whither they go. They number 45,000 strong in this city, and before election day, I have no doubt, from what I see and learn, that the number will reach 80,000. Look out for heavy thunder claps during the first week in November."

CUTLERY.—A new and excellent assortment of Pocket CUTLERY received this day, and for sale by JAMES H. HEAD, 18 Exchange Buildings. at INCIDENT OF THE OPENING NIGHT.—A curious scene was witnessed in the Boston theatre on Monday night, at the moment of the opening of the doors for the admission of the ticket-holders. It appears that some two hundred persons—mechanics and laborers, together with a large scrubbing party—were hard at work putting on the finishing touches, and so intent were they upon their business, that they quite forgot the opening hour. Precisely at seven the doors opened, and the immense throng entered the building. The surprised artizans—painters with pots, upholsterers with armsful of carpet fragments and mouths-full of tacks, turbaned negro women with brushes and pails—ran helter-skelter in wild confusion through the corridors. To escape through either of the doors leading to Washington street was out of the question; and, for a time, the party was in a maze. At length the stage door was opened, and the bewildered crowd succeeded in reaching Mason street.—Boston Courier.

Samuel Williams, a colored man, has one of the finest farms in Washington county, Md. The Hagerstown Herald states that at the age of 38 years, he was a slave in Stafford county, Va., but subsequently purchased his freedom from his own earnings. He then bound himself to years of servitude until he could purchase his wife and children, which he accomplished when he was 50 years of age. Now he owns a farm worth $10,000, and personal property amounting to several thousand more, all earned by his own labor. He is now 73 years of age.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.
PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green
Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1854.

Editorial Correspondence of the Chronicle.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

EXETER, Sept. 14, 1854.

The Rockingham Agricultural Show and Fair, came off to day in good shape. I say came off, because the rain, which began about 3 1-2 o'clock, P. M., sent most of the people to their homes, and closed the out-door proceedings in a hurry.

The procession was formed soon after ten o'clock this morning, and consisted of

Marshals on horseback;
Committees and Officers in carriages;
Two bands of Music, one from Dover, and the other from Lawrence;
Five Fire Companies with their Engines, viz: Fountain, Union, Piscataqua and Cataract, of Exeter, and Tiger of Dover.
Town Teams, as follows:
Hamptonfalls 18 yoke oxen, drawing ornamented Cart, which was filled with women and girls, and dressed with evergreens, flowers, &c. The oxen of this team wore streamers of ribbon on their horns.
Exeter 40 yoke, 14 of which belonged to one farmer.
Epping 21 yoke, Brentwood 34, Kensington 22, Stratham 17.
One cart contained Modern farming tools and machines, another contained Ancient and Antique tools for the same purposes.

This procession moved to the enclosed grounds, where the pens for animals contained many choice specimens of Swine, Young Cattle, Colts, Bulls, and a very few fine Sheep.

The working cattle were mostly large, well trained, and in remarkably good working order.

The concourse of people was very great, and the town was filled with horses and carriages of all descriptions.

The Court House, where were displayed the fruits, flowers, &c., was much crowded, and some were unable to obtain admission.

The exhibition of Fruits was rich in samples of Apples, in great variety and uncommon beauty. There was also a good show of fine Pears, and a few superior Peaches.

The great Squashes, Pumpkins, Beets, and not very small Corn, abounded far beyond what we expected—and Potatoes were there to speak for themselves that they had escaped both the rot and the drought.

Butter and Cheese appeared well, and Needlework, Quilts, and last but not least splendid Boquets and Flowers in pots, told of the industry, taste and skill of woman.

The plowing match came on at 3 P. M., and came off pretty promptly at 3 1-2. At this time the rain began, and occasioned a general stampede, in which your deponent took a part.

Sept. 15—8, A. M.

The rain appears to be about over, and the exercises will now proceed as per programme, —but we have lost much of our company.

The exhibition, however, must be considered, on the whole, as quite a successful undertaking; and ought to encourage its projectors to perseverance in their efforts. U. T.

A VALUABLE GRAPE.—We have reason to believe that Mr. Benjamin L. Merrill, of Exeter, is cultivating the most valuable species of grape known in this vicinity. They are of two varieties, purple and white, and produced from the seed of the Malaga raisin, and therefore denominated Malaga Grapes. The propagation of the seed was commenced in Newburyport. This grape is not quite as large as the Isabella, but it ripens, in our climate, nearly a month earlier. We consider it much superior to the Isabella, not only in flavor, but in the taste which it leaves in the mouth, that of the former being slightly acid and astringent, while that of the latter is exceedingly mild and graceful. We think the Malaga grape is destined to take a prominent place among the products of our fruiterers. Its size is surpassed even by our common wild grapes, but its delicacy and excellency are not exceeded by any grape known to us. We presume that specimens will be exhibited at the approaching County Fair.—News Letter.

A NEW PUMP.—Messrs Carpenter & Hersey of South Boston have recently manufactured a rotary force pump, invented by Mr. Carpenter, which will prove itself to be of great value, both to the proprietors and to the public. The pump is about the size of a large pumpkin, and somewhat of the shape, made without valves, and possessing both the power of suction and forcing. At a trial recently, it forced a 7-8 inch stream of water about 75 feet high through 50 feet of hose, and drew the water from a depth of about 10 feet. It will cost but little, and can be used for many purposes where pumps with valves are not practicable. The right for the State of Wisconsin has just been sold for $5000.

KICKING IN THE TRACES.—A steam engine belonging to the Boston & Maine Railroad Co., blew up while standing upon the track, at the Rollinsford Junction depot, on Tuesday last. The engineer and fireman were both off from the engine at the time;—had they been in their usual places, both must have been instantly killed.—Gt. Falls Journal.

AMERICAN BREADSTUFFS FOR 1854.—The disappearance of the drought causes a disappearance of much of the panic in regard to the crops. The probability is that our now scantily supplied market will be overstocked with breadstuffs in October and November.

BOON ISLAND LIGHT.

A correspondent of the Portland Argus fills a column with matter of interest respecting Boon Island, &c. from which we extract.

The writer describes the island as a barren ledge, of barely seven acres, nine miles from the main land; but a place not barren of interest. He went in company with J. B. Leonard, the government agent for the erection of a new light house on the island, in a sloop loaded with hewn stone quarried from the Biddeford Heights. As the rough state of the sea prevented the landing of the cargo, the passengers were taken off in a boat and safely deposited on the Ledge. The writer referred to says:

I may here state, that the first thing that caught my eye, and fixed my attention, was a call for a Democratic caucus in the town of Old York, for the pupose of selecting a candidate for Representative at the annual election, and concluding with the cheerful and cheering expression—"Come one—Come all; and let us have an old fashioned caucus!"—Had I needed assurance that the democracy of Old York was founded on a rock, the sight of this call, in its conspicuous station, would have readily dissipated the doubt.

The new Light House has already been reared to the height of one hundred and ten feet (110) and the five additional courses, now on board the sloop, and to be laid this week, (Sept. 11) will give an increase, making the entire altitude one hundred and eighteen feet. This will furnish a Light House loftier and of better material and construction, than any on the entire coast, and its summit will command a view extending from Cape Ann to Cape Elizabeth.

The business of laying the stone commenced about the first of June, and will be concluded in the first week—numerically speaking—in September—the whole amount of the rock being eighteen hundred tons. After the finishing of the stone work, the whole is to be lined with brick—forming an inner ceiling, and for this purpose more than 70,000 brick will be required.

In addition to its use as a fiery guide by night, 'tis a pillar of stone by day, that can only be viewed to command the admiration and gratitude of mariners, and all who may venture to traverse that portion of the Atlantic coast, within sweep of its observation. Boon Island is literally a bare ledge, and needs such a tall sentinel, both as a guide and a warning to all who navigate near and by it.

The Light keeper, Mr. BOWDEN, is a resident of Old York, where he has a family and farm; was a member of the last Legislature—Representative from that town, and is one having much experience as a master-mariner—in every respect fitted for his present station.

A house, of the same durable material, from the same Biddeford quarry, of goodly size and finish, is to be added, and completed in season for a winter residence—thus insuring to the residents every convenience which their situation, in all seasons may demand.

There is no fresh water here, except what falls from the clouds, and that, in ordinary seasons, is a sufficient supply. But the recent unexampled drought, has compelled the keeper to resort to the main land for a supply.—The recent rain filled the crevices of the rocks—natural tanks—abundantly, and next morning was well improved by all hands turning dippers, and filling the vessels prepared for its reception.

The atmosphere to-day has been tolerably clear, and the houses and other buildings on the York shore are plainly descried. The village at Cape Neddick is distinctly seen. Agamenticus rears its summit about five miles from the shore, and is the loftiest elevation on the coast so near the main ocean. Seen from its top, visitors declare that the sea seems directly at its base. It is one of the stations of the Coast Survey—and a long reach of the shore is plainly traced from it.

Other hills, Bonny Big in Berwick, and Ossipee Hill in Waterboro', plainly visible from the Western promenade in Portland, besides others on the edge of the horizon, probably in Newfield, could be seen, but not distinguished so as to be known by name.—The White Mountains bound the distant horizon in clear weather, but are now obscured by mist. Wells beach and Kennebunk Village are within the range of vision.

A STRONG ARGUMENT ON THE MAINE LAW.—Last year the city of Oswego adopted the Maine Law, and closed up her grog shops.—This year, a majority voted it down again, and about a hundred and twenty groggeries there are now in full blast. The city papers state that the effects of the legitimate trade of the city are palpably disastrous. The sellers of shoes, hats, clothes, dry goods, provisions, &c. find their trade seriously diminished and their profits reduced to Zero, because the laboring class, who last year bought freely at their counters, now spend their diminished earnings to a sorrowful extent in rum. The children who wore caps and shoes last year, and went decently to school, now skulk bareheaded and barefooted into the Groggeries, with scarcely rags enough to hide the rum bottle which is stripping their homes of comfort, and depriving them of happiness. We thoroughly believe that all but the tipplers, and a part even of them, have had enough of license, and that Oswego will, at the next meeting of her representatives, give a sweeping majority for the Maine Law.—Oswego paper.

CLOSING STORES.—It is suggested that our dry goods, tailoring, shoe, and other descriptions of stores whose proprietors may come into the arrangement,—be closed on one or more evenings of each week, during the coming winter season. Among the numerous inducements for this desirable arrangement, is the fact that most of the clerks in Portsmouth are connected with the Mercantile Library Association, and can make good use of an evening in the Library Room occasionally. There are to be two fine Lyceums here this winter, and every body ought to attend at least one of them. The Mechanics' course is to be on Tuesday evening—so the employers might close the stores on that evening for themselves; the Mercantile course on Thursday evening—and the boys might like that. There would be just as much business done, if the stores were closed a couple of evenings each week.

☞ Rev. Hiram Whicher, of Concord, will preach at the Freewill Baptist Chapel, on Hanover street, to-morrow.

☞ Tickets to the Course of Lectures by the Mercantile Library Association are now ready, and may be procured at the Bookstores, and of Mr. Joseph P. Morse.

☞ We have received from the publisher, Mr. John F. Brown of Concord, by J. H. Foster of this city, a copy of the Pamphlet Laws of New Hampshire passed June session, 1854. It is a well printed pamphlet of 34 pages of public acts, with an index of the private acts passed.

CITY COUNCIL, — Alderman Nelson not finding it convenient to leave the Boston Custom House, all city business is suspended until he obtains leave of absence. He must be put down as a million strong. For without his presence as a unit, the Mayor and six Aldermen appear to be but cyphers.—Journal.

For the Morning Chronicle.

DOVER POINT, Sept. 15, 10 o'clock.

Messrs. Editors:—The remains of the unfortunate Mr. Daniel G. Sherburne, drowned on the morning of the 6th, at Boiling Rock, were found to-day by Mr. John Tuttle, of Eliot, and immediately delivered to the hands of his father, who was nearly in sight, in company with Mr. Hanson, of the Dover Point House, in search for the same. He is carried home to-day, and will be buried on Sunday, Sept. 17, at Barrington. Mr. Sherburne was an excellent young man, aged 20 years, 8 months and 2 days. He was attending the Durham Academy and took the notion to go down the river with Mr. Hoyt and his sons, with whom he was intimate, in a gondola on the evening of the 5th; it being very pleasant; another student of the same Institution also accompanying to see the river and enjoy the novelty of a first trip by water to Portsmouth. By some mismanagement they ran against Piscataqua Bridge, and then lost their boat; then drifting with the tide longer than they were aware, they found themselves getting inside Boiling Rock. They immediately attempted to pull out into the tide, far enough to clear the Rock, but failed. The gondola struck broadside on. Mr. Sherburne had the after oar and stood on the side next to the Rock, and was probably thrown overboard when she struck, and might have been hurt some; he however, swam about fifteen minutes, and would probably have swam ashore had he been acquainted with the current.—The crafts on the shore were on the spot only a minute or two too late to save him. He leaves a father, mother, five sisters, one brother and a very numerous and respectable relationship, by whom he is very much lamented. S.

ENJOYMENT.—H. Marion Stevens, writing in the N. Y. Spirit of the Times, respecting the enjoyment of music, says:

I was contending the point a few days ago with a person whose musical nerves were so finely strung that the nineteenth part of a false note would have shocked him into distaste for a whole opera, whether an auditor like myself, who knew only enough of music to be pleased with harmony, did not enjoy singing more than one thus sensible to the smallest defect. He argued that an artist's enjoyment of the little which reached the acme of artistic perfection, was intense enough to repay for the loss of the grand though defective whole! I was not convinced, however, but that I, listening for sweet sounds, unconscious of defect, was the more fortunate of the two.

The same remarks hold good respecting every earthly pleasure. Perhaps a medium development and cultivation of all our faculties, tends most to happiness.

DIGNITY OF MAN.—The individual is not made for the State so much as the State for the individual. A man is not created for political relations as his highest end, but for indefinite spiritual progress, and is placed in political relations as the means of his progress. The human soul is greater, more sacred than the State, and must never be sacrificed to it.

Raw Whiskey is now commanding an unusually high price, 34 a 35c. We have frequently heard the question, "how can rectifiers pay 35c for raw and sell at 34c?" Nothing easier, and the explanation is quite simple.—Rectified whiskey is whiskey liberally mixed with water—three to five, and sometimes as many as eight gallons of water to the barrel, at the manufacturer's discretion. This affords a handsome profit, at the present current rates for raw, a mixture of three gallons "Mississippi," netting $1 05, five gallons, $1 75; and when it comes to eight gallons there is $2 80 per barrel, clean clear profit. Besides, rectifying may be considered a humane "institution," the charcoal taking out a very considerable portion of the alcoholic fire, and reducing the baneful effects of a too free use of "Red Eye." It also saves trouble to the toper, as his dram needs no mixing with unwholesome water afterwards. There are no less than twelve or fifteen rectifying establishments in this city, and if we go upon the principle that the more water a man drinks the less whiskey he needs, there ought to be twelve or fifteen more.—St. Louis Intelligencer.

RIOT AND LOSS OF LIFE.—New Orleans, 12th.—A terrible riot occurred in the city last night, between two large parties of Americans and Irishmen, the former being mostly armed with pistols, and the latter with muskets. A great many persons were wounded, and some three or four killed on the spot.—The military were called out, but too late to be of any service, comparative quiet having been restored before they made their appearance. It is feared that there will be another outbreak to-night.

Sept. 13th.—As was anticipated, the riot was resumed last night, but with somewhat less violence. Two, however, were killed. The military were out, and remained on duty all night. The excitement appears to have subsided, and it is thought no farther disturbance will take place.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald telegraphs to that paper as follows:—"It is whispered about the State Department and in the White House, that despatches or letters have been received from Mr. Soule, our Minister at Madrid, of an arrangement made with the new government of Spain for the purchase of the Island of Cuba. They came, it is said, by the Africa. My authority is good; indeed, it is the very best. What is more, it is said that England and France, and especially the latter, favor the sale from motives of sound international policy."

[If the authority were not the very best, we should pronounce the story doubtful.]

The anniversary of the entrance of the American army into the City of Mexico, was celebrated by the officers and others engaged in the late war, last evening, by a dinner at the Prescott House. Gen. Burnett presided, and the affair passed off with much spirit.

GENERAL DIX.—This gentleman, so long a resident of this city, has gone to join his family in Italy. They have been sojourning there for a year past. Gen. Dix is a native of New Hampshire, and at the early age of fourteen commenced his service in the army, first as a clerk, and soon after as a commissioned officer. While serving in the army, by indefatigable application he became one of the best scholars in the country. He read law while acting as aid to Gen. Brown, and subsequently commenced practice at Coopers-town, N. Y., from whence he was called into official life in this city, first as Adjutant-General, and then as Secretary of State.

After the election of Silas Wright as Governor of New York, General Dix was selected to fill his place in the United States Senate, in which body he secured a high position.

His health, we learn, is not good. It will gratify his many friends in this city to learn of its restoration under the genial winter skies of Italy.—Albany Register.

SHARP SHOOTING.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Spirit of the Times, is responsible for the following. Mr. Travis is the man who shot an apple from a man's head, a short time since, in New Orleans.

Steadiness of nerve we have all heard much about, but such an exemplification of its possession (in my opinion) has never been exhibited in the good city of Gotham as might have been witnessed at John Travis' Pistol Gallery, in the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, one night last week.

Mr. C——, of Louisiana, entering the gallery, walked down to see the mark made on the iron by some competitor of the "Travis," when John sung out "Get out of the way!—I'm going to shoot!" "Shoot away," said C. "If you don't get out of the way I'll put a ball through your hat," said John. "All right—fire away!" (said hat, be it remembered, being 4 1-2 inches only in height.)—Bang! The hat slightly turned on the gentleman's head, being perforated by the lead from John's unerring pistol. After some talk upon the subject, the position of the parties was reversed, John going down to rub out the shots, and C. being at the score. "I'll show you what I can do," said he. "Separate your legs, and I'll try for the line." "Shoot away," cried John. No sooner said than done, (Travis standing like a statue) when six shots were all neatly placed upon the "line" by the gentleman from the South. Such shooting is often talked about, but seldom seen—one of the things you read of.

EXCURSIONS—DO THEY PAY?—We profess to be as fond of fun and amusement—in a reasonable way—as "the next man," or any man. But we must confess that, in the course of a pretty long and observant life, we have never been able to see the amusement of a great proportion of the "pleasure excursions" of the day. To our fancy, there is very little fun in getting into a red woolen shirt and helping to drag a heavy fire engine about from Boston to New York, or from Philadelphia to Baltimore.

Very little fun in inserting oneself into a stiff-padded uniform, clapping a leather portmanteau stuck into a bearskin muff on the head, shouldering a big gun with nothing in it, strapping a backgammon board on to the back, and marching to and fro, from city to city, or up and down the same city, under the insane idea of enjoyment. Very little fun, also, find we in a "fishing excursion," where the only things that bite are the mosquitoes, and where you are the only article on board to be boiled, roasted or stewed. Sometimes, by way of rendering things particularly charming, these excursion boats go out into deep water—a stiff breeze comes on—as if especially provided for the occasion—and the intensely agreeable amusements of the day are crowned by three or four hundred people becoming suddenly sea-sick.

Then the solemn fun of attempting to satisfy the cravings of hunger with the attenuated slices of ham and muscular bundles of mutton fibre, thinly scattered along the table! to assuage your burning thirst with warm water or fermented turnip juice—to spend an entire day in sulky wretchedness, and return with a head ache, sheepishly to your magnanimous wife, who scorns to blow you up, and leaves you to the retribution of your own reflections! These are a few of the beatitudes of a summer excursion, which all who have ever participated in such an amusement, will readily recognize, with a sigh of satisfaction that it is all over, and that they are wiser now!—Balt. Pat.

REPLY TO
"IT ISN'T ALL IN BRINGING UP."

It is because of bringing up,
Let folks say what they will,
For bright, or dull, a pewter cup
Was made for pewter still.
And Solomon, who wisely said,
To God train up a child,
By wicked wives, to idols led,
Did let his son grow wild.

"The man of mark, who fain would pass
For lord of land and sea,"
Is not the one, to train a child
A holy man to be.
"It is not all the wealth of love"
"Or college, or of school,"
We after all, must train the heart,
To make the child no fool.

"Train up a child," saith Holy Writ,
"The way that he should go,"
In old age he will ne'er depart,
But aye continue so.
"'Tis neither penury nor wealth,
Nor spark of nature's light,"
Nor still a name the world to read,
Can mar the training right.

"It is because of bringing up,
Of counsel, and restraint;"
That grace hath made of honest men
Many a happy saint.
O 'tis then all in bringing up,
Let folks say what they will;
"Neglect may dim a silver cap,"
Care, makes it brighter still.

DR. ORDWAY'S
HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy ever

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
Four to twelve bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, opening the pores of the skin, destroying the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Worcester, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she it now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with a disease that he had to leave College—three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first but continue its use, indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that its effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00.

AS HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely overcoming all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor out the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having produced numerous unscrupulous Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the manufacturers' name.

RESCUE OF A NEGRO GIRL—HIGHER LAW IN "OLD COLUMBIANA."—The abolitionists have been holding a convention in Salem, in Columbiana county, which lasted three days and adjourned on Monday. A short time before the adjournment a dispatch was received from Pittsburg, stating that a slave girl would pass through the town that day, in company with her master. It was immediately resolved that she should be rescued, and a committee was appointed to wait on the conductor and another on the master of the girl to take her from his possession.—The convention marched to the station house to await the arrival of the cars. Soon the whistle was heard, then the cars came in sight, and in a moment the train had stopped at the station. The committee, attended by a numerous company of sympathizers, entered the cars and proceeded to business. The master of the girl was not with her when the committee approached her, having gone into another car, leaving her with her mistress.

The committee asked her name, whether she was a slave, &c., but as she was probably frightened by the crowd, got no reply until they asked whether she wanted to be free, when she rather faintly replied she did. Her mistress then placed the girl behind her, and manifested a good deal of spirit in replying to the committee. The master came, the excitement increased, time flew rapidly, and the moment for the departure of the cars had almost come, when H. B. Blackwell, of this city, picked up the girl and lifted her out of the seat, and she soon went up town on the shoulders of a tremendous black fellow. The train went on, and the crowd celebrated their achievement by firing three or four pistol shots, and giving mouth to their enthusiasm in sundry loud hurrahs. The abolitionists had another meeting in the evening, at which the little girl was conspicuously displayed on the platform. A new name was giver her, a purse of sixty-five dollars raised, and a good home provided for her. The owner, Mr. Robinson, was in town yesterday, but was not half so indignant at the treatment he had received as were some of his disinterested friends.—Cincinnati Gazette of Wednesday.

"Did the guard present arms to you, Mrs. Partington?" asked the commissary as he met her at the opening of the marquee. "You mean the century?" said she, smiling. "You see a soldier's relic should know all a soldier's terminations. I have heard so much about the tainted field that I believe I would deplore an attachment into line myself and manure them as well as an officer. You ask me if the guard presented arms. He didn't, but a sweet little man with epilepsy on his shoulder and a smile on his face, did, and asked me if I wouldn't go into a tent and smile. I told him that we could both smile as well outside, when he politely touched his chateau, and left me." The commissary presented a hard wood stool, upon which she reposed herself. "This is one of the seats of war, I suppose?" said she. "Oh, what a hard lot a soldier is objective to! and I don't wonder a mite at the hardening influences of a soldiers life. What is that for?" asked she, as the noise of a cannon saluted her, "I hope they aint firing on my account." There was solicitude in her tone as she spoke, and she was informed that it was only the governor who had just arrived upon the field. "Dear me!" said she, "how cruel it is to make the old gentlemen come away down here, when he is so feeble he has to take his staff with him wherever he goes." She was so affected at the idea that she had to take a few drops of white wine to restore her equilibrium and to counteract the dust of the "tainted field." A brave entertainment was hers, and as she reviewed the troops many a sword gleamed its tribute, many a banner bowed in salute, many a white plume nodded to the relict of the great corporal. The governor thought it was all for him. Perhaps it was.—Boston Post.

APPOINTMENT.—Wm. W. Drummond of Illinois, has been appointed an Associate Justice for Utah, vice George Edwards, resigned.

SINGULAR DEATH.—At Pittsfield, on Sunday evening last, John A. Walker retired to rest between 9 and 10 o'clock, leaving Mrs. Magee his mother-in law, laying upon the sofa in the parlor, in her usual health, and waiting for some domestics who were out, to come in. Near midnight Mr Walker heard a noise below, and going down found Mrs. Magee upon the floor, dead. The outside door being ajar, Mr. W. went to the door and heard some one running some distance from the house. A gold watch which Mrs. Magee had upon her neck when Mr. W. retired, and two silver goblets which had been locked in a cupboard, the keys of which Mrs. M. carried in her pocket, were upon the table. The supposition is that the thieves entered the house, compelled Mrs. Magee, a very timid woman, to take off her watch and open the cupboard and get the goblets, and that the fright caused her death, and the thieves becoming frightened thereat fled without their booty. A man was under arrest on Monday upon suspicion, but has since been discarged for want of evidence.—N. Adams Transcript.

TOASTS.—At a pic-nic recently in Racine Wisconsin, the guests drank—"Our Beverage—cold water—liquor that needs no adulteration." Also, "The Fast young Men of Racine—May they not live so fast as to be obliged to part with their watches to pay for their horses."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.
PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr Tobias's Office, 240 Green
Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1854.

MAINE.

The neutral Chropicle says that the democracy have triumphed in Maine, and the administration candidates have been defeated.—This is excellent news for the neutrals.—Gazette.

It may be, but we are not of the neuter gender. We take a somewhat active part in the discussion of most questions, and particularly those that relate to liberty or bondage, to freedom of action or constraint.

As we use and understand words, the Democracy have triumphed in Maine. Democracy literally means Government of or by the Whole. It is defined to mean, Government by the People. When the people are not all of one mind, a majority of them may be considered as the Democracy, and for practical purposes they are so, in this country. But the term Democratic, as a party name, is quite another affair. We are willing to let any man call himself or his party by any name he pleases, and we will give him his chosen name when we can do so without creating a false impression, or doing injustice.

In Maine, during the late Contest, there were at least three parties, each of which took to itself the title of the Democratic party.—Their candidates for Governor were, Parris, Morrill, and Cary. Morrill is probably chosen Governor: it is certainly not a whig victory; and we have seen nothing against Mr. Morrill's democracy at all. Besides this, his election is a triumph of the people themselves over all party machinery and dictation whatever. The people of Maine have done as they pleased. Who will say they have not done right?

By returns of the votes in 320 towns, it appears that the vote for Morrill is 40,013. All others, 32,286. Not a single Administration Senator has been elected. The election of 107 Representatives is known, 73 of whom are said to be Administration.

The State of Maine newspaper says,—

The following are a few of the party names of this State—some the production of the recent election:—Wild-Cats, Wooly-Heads, Hunkers, Straightout Whigs, Morrill Whigs, Fusion Whigs, Anti-Fusion Whigs, Fusion Democrats, Morrill Temperance Democrats, Nebraska Wild-Cat Democrats, Anti-Nebraska Old Line Democrats, Anti-Nebraska Anti-Morrill Democrats, Free Soilers, Fusion Free Soilers, Hook and Ladder Democrats, Anti-Temperance Anti-Maine Law Whigs, Frank Pierce Parris Nebraska Whigs, Dumb Democrats, &c. &c.

PERPETUAL MOTION.—Perpetual motion has at last been discovered—unless there is some mistake about it—if we may believe the New York Journal of Commerce:

Mr. James G. Hendrickson, of Freehold, Monmouth county, New Jersey, "has gone and done it." After 40 years of patient "whittling" he has made a machine that will not only "go of itself," but will compel divers other bodies to which it is attached, to go likewise; in short it has POWER! The success is in the direction in which so many have long labored in vain, viz.: by the use of arms and balls attached to a cylinder so as to keep the extra weight always on one side, and therefore to give the cylinder a constant inclination to turn round. The machine requires no starting; take away the blocks, and it goes off "like a thing of life." The model was in our office yesterday, and attached to some clock work, which it turned without once stopping to breathe. We see no reason why it should not go until worn out.

Any tyro in mechanics is acquainted with the known law of gravitation, that all bodies seek the centre of the earth. Here we have inert bodies lifting themselves up, overcoming friction and communicating power to other inert bodies. As well might the pendulum be in perpetual motion after being once started. Perpetual motion will be discovered when water runs up hill.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Barque Harvest, at this port from Liverpool, sustained considerable damage in the gale of 11th inst., during which 13 passengers were dashed overboard and drowned.

Most of the arrivals at this port to-day, report more or less damage from the late gales, and report seeing numerous disabled and damaged vessels.

There is another crowded and fashionable audience this evening at Castle Garden to witness the third representation of Norma.

Naval Intelligence.—The U. S. razee Independence, at anchor in the North River during the past few days, preparatory for her departure for the Pacific, has lost 18 of her crew by desertion, eleven of whom went off in a body on Wednesday. They shoved off from the vessel in one of her boats, of which Midshipman Miller had charge, and whom they threatened to kill if he gave any alarm.

The store ship Relief is now fully loaded with provisions and clothing for the vessels of the Brazil squadron. She is detained, however, for some machinery for the steamer Water Witch, now at the River of Plate.—The machinery is daily expected to arrive here from Washington, and the ship will sail as soon as it is put on board.

The Baptist Almanac for 1855 states that the statistics of the returns from the Baptist churches show that in 1853 there were in the United States 10,131 churches, 6475 ministers, and 808 754 members. These are all regular Baptists. In addition there are 5800 anti-Mission Baptists, 51,775 Freewill, 2189 General, 6351 Seventh Day, 8000 Tunkers, 13,500 church of God, and 225,000 Reformers.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

SECOND DAY.

EXETER, Sept. 15.

The exercises of the second day, were of a character equally interesting with those of the first. The rain through the night, and the dubious appearances of the weather in the morning, prevented an early gathering. Before nine o'clock, however, the clouds began to break away, and the heavens assumed a smiling aspect, suited to the occasion. This changed appearance gave great promise, and the people in considerable numbers began to assemble, so that before noon the multitude was very large, and continued to increase during the early part of the afternoon.

The trial match of working oxen was first in the order of exercises, set down in the programme for 9 o'clock, A. M. But as the rain was an extra matter, not set down in the bills, it occupied some little time, and occasioned delay in the morning exercises. However, the match took place in good time, in good order, and with good success. I have not ascertained the successful competitor.

Next in order was the trial of fancy horses, and some very fine specimens were on the ground, held by their owners in high estimation. They were put over the trotting course in good style and spirit, and some of them were truly among the 'fast' bloods. E. H. Valentine, Esq., of Exeter, with a beautiful bay gelding nine years old, it is said, beat the crowd and carried off the palm. The same gentleman last year, on the same horse, took the premium of $5. Whether he receives a similar award this year, I cannot say.

The trial being over, the whole company was escorted from the trotting ground to the lecture room in the lower Congregational Church, to listen to an address by Prof. J. A. Nash, of Amherst, Mass. It was rather long and prosy in its delivery, but embodied a great amount of interesting information. It was delivered before a good audience of intelligent and attentive listeners, who will doubtless profit by the information received.

But while the lecture was in course of delivery in the lecture room, there was any amount of fun and frolic outside, in front of the Squamscott House. It would be difficult to determine which had the most interested and attentive audience, the speaker in the house or the fun makers in the street! Both parties seemed greatly to enjoy the occasion.

The termination of the address, was the signal for attention to the wants of the physical man. And from the discussion of farms and the best mode of their culture, the company retired to the discussion of beef and pork, fowls, fruit, vegetables, &c., the products of the farms. After this and even before, large numbers visited the ball, filled up with fruit, vegetables and various other specimens of the useful arts and agricultural industry. The afternoon was fine and clear, and the whole company seemed to enjoy it much.—Near the close of the day, a portion of the prizes were declared, and others reserved for future adjudication. These cannot be given now. A few brief speeches, sparkling with wit and humor, delivered by different individuals to the audience in front of the Squamscott House, closed the exercises, and the company repaired to their respective houses. Little or no disorder was manifested on either day. Every thing moved off very agreeably and every body seemed well pleased. ****

THE PRICE OF COAL.—The New York Mirror says:—Evidences pour in from all sides that the supply of coal in market is greater than the consumptive demand, and must come down. The Philadelphia North American, the leading journal of Pennsylvania, says:

Prices have been forced above the proper point by combination, and they must come down. There is no longer a doubt that the production will fully meet the demand, and that our supply of coal for the year will be not only a full one, but larger than will be required.

The Collins steamers have abandoned the use of anthracite coal, and returned to the use of the Cumberland semi-bituminous coal.—The Mirror with truth remarks:—Let us have the 30 per cent. duty on foreign coal taken off, and we shall hear no more of dear coal or shaving coal combinations.

COAL.—A large number of mechanics employed in the Charlestown Navy Yard have taken measures to obtain their winter supply of coal at a much less sum than the market prices. A vessel will be chartered to bring the coal, and it will be landed at the Navy Yard, by permission of the Commodore, free of wharfage. It is estimated that the article can be delivered at the purchaser's house for about $7 50 per ton, or a trifle less. Similar movements have taken place in other towns in this vicinity, and also in Lowell.—Boston Journal.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—A despatch received from N. Fiske, Secretary of the Relief Committee at Columbia, says there were seven deaths by cholera since last evening, making 91 in all. There were four new cases reported to-day. Subscriptions are being made for the relief of the sufferers. The Southern mail passed through here this morning, but was not distributed until this afternoon.

Second Despatch.—There were 49 deaths by the prevailing epidemic to-day. The Supreme Court has adjourned in consequence of the sickness. The weather is milder than for some days past.

LOCAL.

MONUMENT TO LEVI WOODBURY—There is now nearly completed at the yard of Mr. Allen Treat, in this city, a Monument of granite from his native State, to the memory of our late citizen. It is twenty-three feet four inches in height. On a base four feet square and two feet six inches high, with a relief base of six inches cut on the same, is a block three feet six inches high, three feet square. On one side of this block is a medallion in marble, presenting the bust of Judge Wodbury, the size of life, and a correct likeness. The monument is rusticated, and regularly graded to within a foot of the top, where from a foot in diameter it runs to an abrupt point. It is to be placed in his family enclosure in the Auburn St. Cemetery. With the exception of the Weare Monument at Hampton-Falls, there is none more elevated in New Hampshire.

MR. MOSES' CONCERT, at the Temple, on Friday evening, was an exhibition of twelve fine female voices, accompanied by his excellent playing on the piano—and combining much power with great beauty of tone and variety of expression. The selection of music was good, and the performances highly acceptable to the audience, by whom they were repeatedly applauded. The performers were all natives of this city, which need not fear comparison with any other in respect to musical talent. The Echo Song was worth double the price of the concert; the songs Would I were with Thee, and The Pilgrim Father, were beautifully rendered; and Topsy's "I'se so Wicked," brought down the house—who would have that and the Echo repeated. That twelve can't be beat. We learn they have been invited to give the concert in a neighboring city.

LO! THE POOR INDIAN.—The Monasco Troupe of (Native American) Indians give an entertainment, at the Temple this evening. They are well spoken of in towns where they have visited.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FAIR.—The New Hampshire State Fair will be held this year in the beautiful and prosperous town of Keene, in Cheshire county, on the 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th days of October. The ground selected for the enclosure is a level plain, about a mile northwest of the railway station. Twenty four acres of land have been enclosed and furnished with water; a fine trotting course has been laid out, and suitable buildings, stalls and pens erected. His Excellency, N. B. Baker, Governor of the State, will be present, and a satisfactory exhibition in all respects is anticipated.

NARROW ESCEPE FROM LIGHTNING.—We learn from Provincetown, that as Dr. E. W. Stickney of that place was on his way to Wellfleet on Saturday afternoon last, to visit a patient, he was overtaken by the storm, during which he was struck by lightning. His horse, a valuable animal, was instantly killed. The fluid struck the left arm of the doctor, which is paralyzed, and descended by the right leg, leaving its traces from the thigh to the toe, and passsd off through the carriage. Strange as it may seem, Dr. Stickney was not dangerously injured, and was able Tuesday to attend to his business, although still suffering from the effects of the stroke.

A LOSING BUSINESS.—We are informed that it was at one time the determination of Grisi and Mario to throw up their engagement with Mr. Hackett, and return to Europe last week, but the abandonment of high prices, the auction swindle, and the dead head system, having been followed by large audiences and great enthusiasm, the Artists have consented to remain for the present. Lucretia Borgia was performed three times last week at Castle Garden, and the N. Y. Musical Review—good authority—states the receipts to have been as follows: First night $3265; second night $1379; third night $1880—loss of management during the week $15,000.

HARD TIMES BRING OUT THE RAGS.—We hear from the rag dealers that one effect of the hard times is to set poor people to hunting up and saving up rags, old newspapers, and other 'raw material,' out of which paper is manufactured. So that with the suspension of many newspapers, and the diminished amount of book publications, there is some prospect of a cheaper paper market. 'It's an ill wind,' &c.—N. Y. Mirror.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Considerable excitement was created to-day by the publication of about 200 names pretended to be a list of the members of the Know Nothing Council for the fourth ward. The list embraces the names of some of our most influential citizens, and is probably a malicious forgery.

PITTSBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—The cholera has broken out here with great violence. It is impossible to give the number of cases, but there have been 55 deaths during the last 36 hours. Some of our well known citizens were carried off after but three or four hours' sickness.

Dick, who was hung at Dayton, Ohio, the other day, was inclined to have no faith in any religion but the Catholic, yet he was visited occasionally by Protestant ministers.—About a week before he was hung, he was asked by one of these gentlemen, a worthy and talented man—'Have you any objection to my praying with you?' 'I guess not,' said Dick, 'every little helps.'

FROST.—We had a little touch of frost on Sunday night last. It did no damage, however. It served merely as a premonitory symptom of what is to come before Christmas.—Augusta Farmer.

FLOUR in the New York market on Wednesday showed a material decline, and sales were made at 75 cents a barrel lower than on the day previous. The Express says supplies are increasing, and as buyers are operating from hand to mouth, sellers are forced to make concessions in order to realize. This is good news to people who are compelled to pay nine dollars for a light ton of Pennsylvania coal, and two dollars a bushel for potatoes.

COAL.—The Baltimore American of Tuesday, says: "There is no longer a doubt that the production of coal will fully meet the demand, and that our supply for the year will be not only a full one, but probably somewhat larger than will be required. This fact will have an important influence, and must prevent coal from going any higher, even if it does not reduce prices as the season advances."

THE WEBSTER ESTATE.—The Daniel Webster farm in Franklin, N. H., is advertised to be sold at auction on Thursday, the 28th inst.

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.

Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 26 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoromenas.

NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1ws16

New York, Sept. 14.—Bark Brilliant, of Warren, Me. from Newport, Eng. July 29, arrived here this afternoon, having on board the crew of ship Shenandoah, from Liverpool, which vessel was totally dismasted and thrown on her beam ends, in the terrific gale of Sunday last, in lat. 40 50, lon. 67 43, and was abandoned at 6 P. M. on Monday, with 7 feet of water in her hold. Towards night on the 10th, a strong easterly breeze sprung up which increased to a gale, the sea running mountains high. At 11 P. M. it blew a hurricane, with heavy rain and lightning, and a tremendous sea struck the ship, carrying away much of her rigging and sails. Half an hour afterwards she broached to, when her cargo shifted, and she fell on her beam ends. The fore and mizzen masts went by the deck, and the mainmast eight feet below the eyes of the lower rigging. An immense sea boarded her at the same time, washing overboard the first officer, who was not seen afterwards; it made the ship a complete wreck. The gale still continued on Monday at noon, and the ship being breached by every sea, and fast filling a consultation was held, and it was decided to abandon her. They soon after took to the long-boat and pinnace, and at 9 P. M. were fallen in with by bark Brilliant, Capt. P. Miller, who promptly took them on board, and landed them at quarantine.

New York, Sept. 17.—A meeting has been called by our leading merchants, for this afternoon, in the Merchants' Exchange, to concert measures for the relief of the sufferers by the yellow fever at Savannah.

Gov. Seymour was applied to on Thursday for a pardon for Mr. Cavanagh, the Brooklyn Excise Commissioner, who was sentenced to 30 days incarceration for granting rum licenses to improper persons; but after examining the documents, Gov. Seymour refused to interfere.

A forgery, of a similar character to that perpetrated on the Chemical Bank a short time since, has been committed upon the Continental Bank of this city. The amount of the forgery wrs $6000. Subsequently another was committed upon the American Exchange Bank for $1960. These forgeries, with the swindle upon the Chemical Bank, make a total of nearly $70,000.

POSITIVE ABOUT THE SANDWICH ISLANDS TREATY.—This morning's mail brought us from Honolulu a letter from a party who is well posted with reference to the negotiations between the Sandwich Islands Government and the American Commissioner, Mr. Gregg.—Writing a few moments before the last mail from Honolulu for San Francisco left, our correspondent assures us that up to that moment no progress had been made in the negotiation of the treaty, placing the affair in a position different from that in which it was at the time of the departure of the last previous mail for the United States. Nevertheless, it was reduced to a certainty that the treaty would shortly be signed over the opposition of the Prince, the only considerable person in the government who was really unfavorable to it. The delay at that time our correspondent attributes to a request of the Prince for an opportunity maturely to consider the points involved.—Washington Star, 13th.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The report to the City Councils relative to the affairs of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad, confirms the impression that instalments of the City Subscription had been obtained on false representations. The whole amount paid by the city was $950,000, and by the district of Richmond $300,000, leaving unpaid $1,050,000, by the city. No second instalment of any stock has been paid in except by the city, although the terms of subscription were that no instalments should be paid until an equal amount had been paid by other subscribers.

Gov. Bigler, according to the latest despatches, is believed to be out of danger. He is at Waverly, N. Y.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The Tribune states that Judge Douglas spoke at Morris, Grundy county, on Tuesday, and was listened to quietly, when the meeting adopted resolutions condemning his course on the Nebraska bill.

THE CELEBRITY OF

Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the genuine article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

FEMALE DOCTORS.—How will the medical ladies, the duly recognized doctresses, behave when calling on a patient?

'Well, my dear, and how are we to-day?'

'No better, thank you, doctress; I feel so dreadfully depressed.'

'Depressed! Well, we will soon put that all right with a new bonnet.'

'And I feel so dreadfully cold! I can't get warm somehow.'

'Yes, yes! I will order you a cashmere shawl, to be applied to the back; I think that will relieve you.'

'And at night I cannot sleep.'

'Dear, dear! We really must take more exercise. We positively must go to the Opera oftener than we do.'

'But it seems quite an exertion to stir from the house.'

'Of course it would. Now if I order you a couple of silk dresses, do you think you could manage to take them?'

'I am sure I will try any thing if I can only get well. I have such dismal dreams. I fancy all sorts of things.'

'We must be patient; we must be patient! Why not have your feet put in new boots of an evening, and wrap a diamond necklace round your throat when you go out! We must cheer up. I will tell your husband to give you a stimulating draft that they will make up for you at the banker's, and then I think we shall do very nicely!'

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELSEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erypelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erypipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

California Stanzas.—By Major G. W. Patton, U. S. Army.—The last words of the Emigrant's Child, as uttered on the banks of the San Joaquin, near Fort Miller, California, are thus conveyed to the ear of the world through the medium of song. The circumstances which gave rise to the verses are peculiarly touching. Owing to the water rains, to such a height had the rivers risen that they could not be forded, and the roads had become impassable. A family of emigrants arrived on the banks of the San Joaquin, in the last stage of exhaustion. Starvation stared them in the face. The mother had been buried on the plains, and on the arrival of the family at the San Joaquin, an infant and its sister, six years of age, comprising all of the children, died also, leaving the disconsolate father to prosecute his journey to the gold mines alone.

THE EMIGRANT'S DYING CHILD.

Father! I'm hunger'd! give me bread;
Wrap close my shivering form!
Cold blows the wind around my head,
And wildly beats the storm.
Protect me from the angry sky;
I shrink beneath its wrath,
And dread this torrent rushing by,
Which intercepts our path.

Father! these California skies,
You said, were bright and bland—
But where, to-night, my pillow lies,
—Is this the golden land?
'Tis well my little sister sleeps,
Or else she too would grieve;
—But only see how still she keeps—
She has not stirr'd since eve.

I'll kiss her, and perhaps she'll speak:
She'll kiss me back, I know:
—Oh! father, only touch her cheek,
'Tis cold as very snow.
Father! you do not shed a tear,
Yet little Jane has died;—
Oh! promise, when you leave me here,
To lay me by her side.

And when you pass this torrent cold,
We've come so far to see,
And you go on, beyond, for gold,
O think of Jane and me.
Father! I'm weary! rest my head
Upon thy bosom warm—
Cold blows the wind around my head,
And wildly beats the storm.

Head Waters, San Joaquin, Cal.

A Showman's Riot.—A serious riot occured in Washington, Rappahannock county, Virginia, on the 7th inst—the occasion of the exhibition of Barnum's menagerie in that town. A person who had visited one of the side shows which invariably follow Barnum's tent, pronounced it a humbug. This led to an excited altercation, which soon grew into a general fight between the citizens on the one side, and the showmen on the other. Bludgeons were used and a number of persons severely injured. Among others, Mr. Braxton Eastman, who as a magistrate commanded the peace, was knocked down, his head severely cut, and several of his teeth broken out. At length the city authorities called for volunteers to quell the riot. A large number of citizens answered the call, and being furnished with the public arms proceded to arrest thirty-seven showmen. These were subsequently discharged with the exception of four or five, who were committed for trial. It is said that none of Barnum's showmen participated in the melee.

Hard Winter Coming.—We regret to state that the most indubitable signs of a hard winter are apparent and prevalent. Some of our oldest widowers have perfected their preliminary arrangements for entering anew the matrimonial relation. This class of our population feel the future 'in their bones,' and connecting their premonitions with the high price of coal, have taken steps accordingly.—We trust the old bachelors will defer their operations in this line until another winter:—Too many frosty unions would reduce the temperature so that we should all get our hearts cracked.—Springfield Repub.

Singular Death.—At Pittsfield, on Sunday evening last, John A. Walker retired to rest between 9 and 10 o'clock, leaving Mrs. Magee his mother-in law, laying upon the sofa in the parlor, in her usual health, and waiting for some domestics who were out, to come in. Near midnight Mr Walker heard a noise below, and going down found Mrs. Magee upon the floor, dead. The outside door being ajar, Mr. W. went to the door and heard some one running some distance from the house. A gold watch which Mrs. Magee had upon her neck when Mr. W. retired, and two silver goblets which had been locked in a cupboard, the keys of which Mrs. M. carried in her pocket, were upon the table. The supposition is that the thieves entered the house, compelled Mrs. Magee, a very timid woman, to take off her watch and open the cupboard and get the goblets, and that the fright caused her death, and the thieves becoming frightened thereat fled without their booty. A man was under arrest on Monday upon suspicion, but has since been discarged for want of evidence.—N. Adams Transcript.

Toasts.—At a pic-nic recently in Racine Wisconsin, the guests drank—"Our Beverage—cold water—liquor that needs no adulteration." Also, "The Fast young Men of Racine—May they not live so fast as to be obliged to part with their watches to pay for their horses."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Planters, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the direction.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1854.

RECIPROCITY TREATY.

This treaty has become the law of the land in part, that is, as to the fisheries. The other parts of it will also become law before long. We remember very well that every good speaker who came along here before election, to speak in favor of Pierce and King, made a great handle of the fisheries, berated the "do-nothing policy of Fillmore's administration," and assured us that the coming administration would promptly redress our wrongs, by force and arms if necessary. This was the prophecy;—now the fulfilment is, that the new administration, in this point of foreign policy, simply and very wisely followed in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors.

The proclamation of President Pierce, dated the 11th inst., rehearsing the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, known as the Reciprocity Treaty which was concluded on the 5th of June, and the ratifications exchanged on the 9th inst., at Washington, is published in the Union.

The treaty contains within itself the provision that it shall take effect as soon as the laws required to carry it into operation shall have been passed by the Imperial and provincial parliaments on the one hand, and Congress on the other. Congress with unwonted speed passed the necessary act; and the government of Great Britain has shown itself no less eager to hasten the enjoyment of the benefit of the treaty, as far as circumstances have allowed. The fleets upon the fishing grounds have already been withdrawn, the navigation of the St. Lawrence has already been thrown open, and there is little reason to doubt the passage of the necessary laws by the Parliaments.

The Boston Advertiser remarks:

This important measure may thus be regarded as practically consummated. Its importance can scarcely be overrated. It not only settles difficulties which have been troublesome in past times, but promises new advantages in the future. It reflects credit upon all who have been engaged in it. In this country, to President Fillmore's administration, which initiated the proceedings and arranged the basis of the treaty on almost precisely the same terms as those now finally published, belongs the chief honor of the measure. The present administration have taken up the work at the point where their predecessors left it, and have carried it forward judiciously and brought it to a successful issue. History will attach to it the names of Mr. Webster, and especially Mr. Everett, on the part of the United States, and Mr. Crampton and Lord Elgin on the part of Great Britain.

If the treaty be only regarded as finally removing all cause for misunderstanding with regard to the fisheries, its value would be inestimable. The advantages which are expected to flow from that part which provides for a free interchange of certain articles of commerce, it must be left to time to develop. It is not impossible that this part of the treaty may prove the inception of a train of events which will affect the political condition of the northern portion of this continent more seriously than any thing in its history, except the battle of Quebec, by which France lost and England gained the rule of Canada.

New Music Books.—Of a truth, there is no end to the making of books—music books among the rest. And perhaps there is as much or more humbuggery in this latter department than in any other. Nevertheless new music books are wanted; and the difficulty is to select the best. We have received copies of the two new issues advertised by Mr. Shores this morning—The Hallelujah, by Lowell Mason; and The Chime, by V. C. Taylor. The Hallelujah is published by Mason Brothers; the Chime by Daniel Burgess & Co., both in New York. The modern vicious fashion of crowding two pages of music into one, is adopted to some extent in the Hollelujah, though not nearly to so uncomfortable a degree as in some others—the Shawm, for instance. The Chime, like all Prof. Taylor's works, is more open and clear. Each book partakes largely of the style of its author, and will suit according to the popularity of each, respectively. The Hallelujah is composed chiefly of what we may call solid music—the Chime is more in Taylor's lighter gliding style. Both contain a good sprinkling of old standard Tunes, essential to the library of every choir.

We perceive a new feature in the Hallelujah—interludes for most of the tunes, written on a continuation of the score of each tune. Of course a trial is necessary to a knowledge of the books.

Vermont Election.—The Montpelier Watchman has returns from all the States, except six small towns. According to these returns Royce, for Governor, has 11,115 majority over all others.

Twenty-nine Anti-Administration Senators are elected, and one Administration, probably.

One hundred and seventy Anti-Administration Representatives, and fifty-four Administration Representatives are elected.

For Congress.—In the first district James Meacham is elected by 4,012 majority; in the second Justin S. Morrill's majority is about 100; in the third Alvah Sabin is elected by 3705 majority. All whigs.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The Exeter News Letter of Monday, contains some interesting items, not included in our brief account of the Rockingham Fair.

Among the show of Fruits are mentioned:

From the farm of Joshua W. Pierce, Esq. of Greenland, specimens of 34 different kinds of apples were sent, filling one entire table.

From Abner Littlefield, of Greenland, 26 kinds of apples, 28 of peaches, 12 of pears, 2 of quinces, and 2 of tomatoes. A better collection of fruit from one person we have never seen.

We observed, among the noticeable vegetables, six apples, weighing 6 1-4 pounds, one weighing 21 ounces, from Abraham Rowe of Kensington,—two bunches of grapes, each weighing 2 lbs. were exhibited. They were termed the Black Hamburgs, and sold for seventy-five cents a bunch.

Flowers were presented by J. H. Diman, of Stratham, and Mr. Wm. H. Hills, of Plaistow. Both also exhibited numerous specimens of dahlias, and much of the beauty of the Hall should be attributed to them. The former, also, presented a couple of beautiful wreaths, bearing the names of the President and Secretary of the Society.

At the Plowing Match, the Hampton Falls Farmer's Club entered by the side of a Michigan and Sub-soil Plow, drawn by their finest Devons, an old fashioned wooden and wrought iron plow, drawn by six of the poorest cattle in their town, and attended by a plowman, driver, an extra hand to help set in, and another to finish up behind with a hoe, all clad in the costume of '76. The contrast was ludicrous, and, at the same time instructive.

Trial of Working Oxen.—The trial of working oxen proved one of the most satisfactory features of the exhibition. The hill near Dea. John Gordon's, was the place of trial. A load of sixteen hundred bricks, weighing about seven thousand pounds, upon a large wagon, was drawn by each yoke of oxen down the hill, backed a short distance up, and turned, and hauled up to the top. Six different yokes competed for the premium. Each yoke was able to endure the test, and some of them appeared to feel as if their load was rather lighter than they had been accustomed to.—An immense concourse of spectators was present, and expressed great satisfaction at the result. We believe that old Rockingham may fairly claim to stand at the head of the list, in working oxen, especially those trained to work in heavy teams.

Among the premiums are mentioned,

Fruit and Vegetables.—For Peaches—Abner Littlefield, Greenland, 1st premium, G. B G. Moulton, Kensington, 2d do. N. M. Barker, Stratham, 3d do. For Apples—J. W. Pierce, Greenland, 1st premium, S. F. Leonard, Chester, 2d do. Abner Littlefield, Greenland, 3d do. For Pears—J. S. Wells, Exeter, 1st premium, N. Norton, Greenland, 2d do. A. Littlefield, Greenland, 3d do. Choice Vegetables—R. W. Currier, East Kingston, 1st premium, Jere. Godfrey, Hampton Falls, 2d do. J. O. Wiggin, Stratham, 3d do.

Worsted Work.—Caroline M. Shackford, Portsmouth, best specimen, $2,00.

Embroidery on Woollen.—Louisa DeRochemont, Newington, best specimen, $2,00. Sarah Palmer, second best specimen, $1,00.

Painting in Water Colors.—Mrs. Samuel Lamprey, Portsmouth, very fine, $2,00. Mary Philbrick, Cravons, $1,00.

Durham Bulls.—Joshua W. Pierce, Greenland, $2,00.

ITALY.

It is satisfactory to find that the price of bread in Sardinia has been sensibly reduced within the last two weeks. During last month prices were so high in Turin as to induce a society in Genoa to send bread here by the railway. But the flour they used was foreign, chiefly from the United States, and since the new crop of wheat has come into the market (although not itself fit for immediate consumption) the price of old wheat has fallen from 35 to 27 frances per hectolitre, and caused a diminution of 8 centimes per kilogramme in the price of bread, so that the speculation is likely soon to be abandoned. Foreign grain and flour from Egypt, Tunis, and America, continue to flow in at Genoa, fully compensating for the outgoings to Switzerland and Lombardy; and the island of Sardinia, which ordinarily furnishes to the value of 6,000,000f. or 7,000,000., has produced a very abundant crop this year.

Wine will again be scarce; but on the whole, there will be more made than last year and, fortunately, the best districts for vineyards, as Asti and Montserrat, are comparatively untouched.

Indian corn, which is the staple food in this country, is much improved by the recent rains, and promises a crop beyond the average so that although provisions are still undoubtedly dear, there is no danger of scarcity, and so long as employment continues as plentiful as it is now there will be no just cause of complaint.

Italy.—The Ami de la Religion announces, on the authority of a letter from Rome, that the Pope has just published a notice that a universal jubilee is to take place in October or November next, to obtain—1st, peace between Christian Princes; 2d, the calming down of the spirit of revolt and sedition; 3d, the removal of the visitations of cholera and famine; and 4th, the enlightenment of the Holy Ghost on the Pope in the dogmatic decision of the immaculate conception. In addition, an invitation of the Holy Father convokes all the bishops of the Roman Catholic world to Rome, to be present at a solemn assembly relative to the promulgation of the belief of the church on that point.

Rain and Breadstuffs.—The heavy rains will give the mills a plentiful supply of water in all parts of the country. Prices of breadstuffs have no doubt been kept up by the scarcity consequent upon the inability of the mills to operate. Ten days hence there will be a very large addition to the stock. A fall in prices must follow.—Rochester Democrat.

A fire in Mobile, on Monday last, destroyed $40,000 worth of property.

Depredations to the amount of $3000 had been committed in the post-office at Augusta, Ga. by a negro, who had confessed the crime and restored most of the money.

LOCAL.

Aggravated Assault.—On Monday afternoon, a most aggravated assault was committed upon the person of Mr. Joseph P. Morse, of this city. About 3 o'clock a man by the name of Kimball, hailing from Portland, went into Mr. Morse's Periodical Store, and said to him, "Mr. Morse, I give you 24 hours to leave the city." Mr. M. replied that he "had not thought of leaving so soon."—Kimball then took a pound weight from the scale, and without more words threw it at Mr. Morse, striking him near the top of the head just above the left temple, inflicting a severe wound, and rendering him for the time insensible. Kimball immediately left the store, and it is supposed he left the city in the next train for the east. No cause is known for the assault.

Burning Fluid Accident.—The family of Mr. Daniel Adwers, in this city, had a very narrow escape from at least serious injury, a few days since. Mrs. A. who had been sitting in a chamber with her husband, attempted to light a glass fluid lamp from another which sat on a table near a bed, when the lamp in her hand exploded, setting fire to her clothing, to the table, carpet and bed clothes. Mr. A. clasped her with one arm, and beat the fire off her dress with the other—both being somewhat scorched and blistered. After seeing the lady safe, Mr. A. looked about him to extinguish the flames in the room, which were rising to the ceiling. A bucket of water was passed up to him, with which he commenced sprinkling about. The table on which the first light was standing, being covered with the flaming fluid, he essayed to move the lamp; but had just raised it when that also exploded, covering him with flames. These he extinguished by sprinkling from the bucket of water. Then, after sprinkling the burning floor and furniture till he found the fire gaining on him, he dashed the remaining gallon or two on the flames, extinguishing the whole. His coolness perhaps prevented the destruction of the house, if not loss of life. It is supposed there must have been a defect in the cementing of the tube of the lamp which first exploded—although it had been before lighted two or three times during the evening, without sign of danger. The second lamp must have burst from the heat surrounding it, by expansion of fluid and air inside. Both lamps were nearly full. It is a little singular that neither was hurt by the fragments of the lamps bursting in their hands.

☞ We understand that a lady was drowned on Monday, while bathing, at Atlantic Beach, Rye. We were unable to learn her name or place of residence.

Correction.—The name of Wm. Tuckerman, was accidentally omited, as a member of the executive Committee of the W. T. Abstinence Society.

☞ The U. S. District Court, and the Court of Common Pleas for Rockingham Co. both commence their sessions in this city today.

Accident in Exeter.—Our Exeter correspondent writes us that Mr. John Perkins of that town. a gentlemen now past middle age, who was formerly engaged in the manufacture of paper, was severely if not fatally injured on Friday evening last. As he was getting into his wagon, he fell to the ground, being probably smitten with a slight paralytic stoke. His horse starting, the wheels passed over his neck, injuring him so that he is not expected to recover. He had been to the Mills for workmen, and was preceded home by another wagon containing them. His team coming in soon after empty, his son returned and found him lying in the road. He states that as he was getting into the wagon a drowsiness came over him, which is the last thing he remembers.

Daguerreotypes.—There seems to be considerable competition in the daguerreotype business in Portsmouth, just now. Mr. T. E. Boutelle advertises to furnish pictures for 50 cents and upwards, and Mr. Salen for 25 cts. or more.

Maine Representatives.—The Democratic party have elected 35 representatives so far as reported, and the actual democracy or fusionists 73.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—Mexican News, The New Orleans papers of Tuesday last, contain the details of the Mexican news up to the 8th inst. The Trait d'Union announces that the colonization from France to Mexico is proceeding rapidly. Four vessels had already arrived or were expected at Vera Cruz with immigrants from Havre.

A body of Spanish troops had arrived at Vera Cruz, and about 2000 Swiss were daily expected.

NOTICE,—Agreeable to previous notice a meeting was held in the Old South Church, August 10, at which time and place a Society was formed (according to law) to be known as the Second Freewill Baptist Society in Portsmouth, the object of which is to promote Religious interest, and sustain the means of grace at the South Church. For order of the Society—

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES

BY STEAM,

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.

Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 26 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontotoromenas.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.—We have already published telegraphic accounts of the slaughter by Indians of a detachment of United States troops near Fort Laramie. The St. Louis Republican of the 10th has a letter from a correspondent at Sarpy's Point, Nebraska, eight miles from the Fort, giving the following particulars:—

An affair has happened here between the soldiers and the Indians, which ought to be properly noticed by the United States government. Having been an eye-witness to the battle, I consider it my duty to furnish a strict account of it and its causes. In the first place on the 17th of August a train of Mormons passed this place. The Indians, who were encamped here, waiting their payment from government, had no provisions, and were of course anxious for something to eat.

As the Mormons were passing, a cow, belonging to a man in the rear of the Mormon train, became frightened, and ran into the Indian camp. The Mormon left the cow behind, and so one of the Indians, a Minnecoshe, shot it down, and, with his companies, ate it up. The Mormons then went to the Fort, and reported that the Indians had killed one of their cows.

On the 19th, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Lieut. Grattan, with a command of twenty-seven soldiers, and Augusta Lucien, interpreter, arrived here to arrest the Indian who had killed the cow. I accordingly sent for the chiefs to go with the Lieutenant and make the arrest. They accompanied him, but the Indian was not willing to give himself up, saying he would die first.

While the Bear Chief of the Wazazies was standing with three other chiefs, the Little Thunder, and the Big Partizan, and the Man who is afraid of Horses, among the soldiers, the Lieutenant ordered his men to fire. They did so, and wounded the Bear Chief and his brother. But one round was fired when the Indians, in turn, charged, and succeeded in routing the soldiers, and killed them, with the exception of one private, who is not expected to recover.

Lieut. Grattan and two of his men were killed while standing by their cannon, the Lieutenant receiving twenty-four arrows, one of which passed through his head. As soon as the soldiers saw their commander fall they took to flight; but were all killed within half a mile of this place. The Ogalallah camp was about one mile distant, and a white man, named Seyfroy Jott, was staying there at the time. Being a Sioux interpreter, the chiefs requested him to stay between the camps to prevent the young men from charging on the soldiers; but he could not succeed, and barely escaped with his life.

At my house, we were placed in a bad situation. There were with me, Mr. Antoine Reynal, and Mr. Samuel Smith, with five others, and all we could do was to stay in the house and try to keep the Indians out. As Mr. Reynal was standing in the doorway of the house, an Indian rushed upon him, and tried to kill him; when another Indian, Quick Bear, tried to kill the first Indian for rushing upon a white man—but some one caught Quick Bear's gun, and its contents went into the wall of the house.

By this time a party had collected outside of the house, who tried to force their way in but some of my friends, the Quick Bear and others, stopped them. After the battle, the chiefs came into my house, and said that as the young men had killed all the soldiers that had come to fight them, they would now go and slaughter the rest of the soldiers at the Fort, burn all the houses, and kill all the whites on the river; but I told the chiefs to stop them from doing so—assuring them that since the soldiers had commenced the quarrel, it would be overlooked by government.

But they then rushed into the house, and demanded of me to give them everything that they wanted. To save our lives, I gave them every thing that I had in my store, to the amount of $2,000.

The next day they went to the post of the American Fur Company, took all the goods that were sent to them by government, and pillaged the store. The situation of the traders and of Fort Laramie is perilous in the extreme. I was requested by the commander of the Fort to bury the dead soldiers, since he had not men enough to detach a party for that service, and I succeeded in doing so.

As far as I know anything about the Indians, I think that our government ought to send five hundred mounted men, veteran troops, to keep the Indians in subjection, and one company of infantry to guard the fort.—The Indians, in the recent battle, after killing all the soldiers, broke their cannon to pieces and carried off their muskets and animals.—As for placing the infantry on a prairie to fight the Indians, it is just the same as putting them up as targets to be shot at. There were about 1000 Indians in the battle.

SHEEP IN A JEWELRY STORE.—Seven of a flock of sheep going down Main Street, on Thursday morning, attracted by the beauties of Bailey & Bower's new and splendid store in the Fynchon Bank building, unceremoniously entered, led off by a stalwart buck.—The latter was instantly attracted by the sight of another bristling buck in the large mirror at the end of the store, and, lowering his head and taking a fair start, he plumped into his supposed rival. Judge, perhaps, his own and the storekeeper's astonishment at the crash that ensued. One of the four panes of which the mirror was composed, though a third of an inch thick, shivered to pieces under his well directed blow. The shop dog here imposed, and drove off the animals before they could do more mischief. The glass broken was three feet by four, and cost about $25.—The owner of the sheep is undoubtedly liable for the damage, but who he is, is not known.—Springfield Republican.

AN IGNORANT POPULACE.—Cholera having broken out in Palermo, the people surrounded the governor's palace, and shouted 'We will not have the cholera here!' The Lord Lieutenant immediately issued orders prohibiting the people to speak of poison.—The troops are under arms night and day.

The terrible effect of the cholera when it fastens itself in a country where the people are ignorant, always induces them to think that poison has been placed in their wells or their food.

At Rome, a few days ago, a man offered to sell a money-changer some curious fragments of gold plates. On inquiry, it transpired that they had been discovered in the tomb of Odoacre, King of the Hemles, who died in 495. The gold plates were part of the armour in which he had been buried.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY, AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. Kenady, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

DR. IRA WARREN'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, LIME AND SUGAR OF MILK.

THE great value of Cod Liver Oil as a medicine in Consumption is now generally admitted; it promotes assimilation, the primal defect in this disease, by initiating the growth of cells—the cell resulting, according to Dr. Burnett, from the union of a minute particle of oil with albumen, under the quickening force of vitality. The PHOSPHATE OF LIME has been proved to promote the same great end throughout both the vegetable and the animal world.

The SUGAR OF MILK, manufactured from the whey of goats' milk, being a supporter of respiration of weak lungs, and having a powerful affinity for oxygen, greatly aids the above remedies in Consumption, and when properly combined with them, makes an elegant preparation, removing much of the offensive taste and smell of the oil, and supplying a secondary combustible for the lungs, much like that elaborated by a healthy liver.

In conducting a large special practice in THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES, I resort directly to the fallacies for a pure oil. The excellent of this combination will be at once appreciated by my professional brethren, and a trial of it will commend it to the people generally.

BURR & PERRY are my wholesale and retail Agents for the United States and British Provinces, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Important Notice.

DR. SPEAR'S WOMAN'S FRIEND is unquestionably the only remedy ever discovered for that distressing complaint, Falling of the womb, obviating all necessity of resorting to instruments. It is put up in packages, and can be sent to any part of the world. Immediate relief is manifested from pressing down pains, pain in the groin and across the hips and small of the back—also very low down the back, with heat and scalding of the water, with some affection of the liver, great weakness and prostration of strength, nervous debility, &c. Much exercise, walking, standing, riding or lifting, greatly increase the above symptoms. In advanced stages of the disease the sufferer is deprived of all exercise, and is obliged to be confined to the house, and frequently to her bed. These are the symptoms of this complaint, all of which can be radically cured by the use of this extraordinary medicine. Price $3 per Package.

Dr. Spear's Golden Bitters.

This valuable and popular specific stands unrivalled for the cure of Female Weaknesses, Nervousness, Barrenness, Fluor Albus, &c. For common cases of weakness in the stomach, in male or female, they form an invaluable remedy. If these Bitters were appreciated as their virtues demand, they would find their way into every family.—They are compounded especially for those complaints which often form the prelude to many others of a more serious character—such as excessive Nervousness, Prostration of Strength, Bloating of the Bowels, Dropsy, Consumption, Palpitation of the Heart, and Cancer in the Womb. Pressing Down of the Bowels, &c. Price $1 per Package, or six Packages for $5.

E. D. SPEAR, the celebrated Indian Doctor, 18 Kneeland st, Boston, may be consulted at his office, or by letter, upon all diseases which afflict humanity, free of charge. Dr. S. invites those who are pronounced incurable to consult him, as he believes that in many cases he will be able to restore them to health.

All letters strictly attended to, and answered promptly.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

From the New-England Directory.

THE great virtues of Botanical remedies have in all ages, been universally approved and acknowledged, but it remained for the Chinese to discover a never-failing remedy, not only to cure disease, but to render the face young and blooming, and lengthen the life of man. Such are the benefits derived from the use of the celebrated "COMPOUND ESSENCE OF CHINA ROOT," prepared by Dr. F MORRILL, No. 15 Howard st. This invaluable article is composed of thirteen vegetable ingredients, and as we have tested its qualities, do bear willing testimony to its being all that Dr. M. claims for it as a nourishing and invigorating remedy for a debilitated and worn-out system. Try it. See Herald and Bee, Boston.

PEDESTRIANS.—A walking match for $1000, seven miles, came off on Monday afternoon, over the Union Course, Long Island, between two celebrated pedestrians—Boyd (the North Star) of Canada, and Searles, of England—which was decided by the referee to have been won by Boyd, notwithstanding that Searles came past the judge's stand first on every mile, and led home about fifteen yards at the end. The distance was performed in one hour, five minutes and nine seconds. The referee gave as a reason for his decision that Searles had refused to turn around when ordered by him to do so on the sixth mile, at the time when Searles made a few skips rather faster than walk. The decision of the referee in favor of Boyd was hailed with thunders of applause, while the backers of Searles protested against it. Boyd certainly appears the fairest walker of the two, his gait being a clean heel and toe movement, while Searles steps short and quick, with an occasional hitch that much resembles a trot. The first mile was walked in 8 minutes and 27 seconds; the second in 8:08; the third 10:20; the fourth 9:28; the fifth 9:40; the sixth 9:43; the seventh 9:23; the seven miles in 65:09.

Searles is a short, compactly built little fellow, and seemed capable of enduring almost any quantity of fatigue, while Boyd, on the other hand, is a tall, thin, long-legged man, looking pale and haggard from the severity of his training. He, however, performed his work vigorously, and walked with energy to the end. Searles has walked many successful matches on the other side of the Atlantic; but this is the first time that he has performed in the United States. Boyd walked one hour with several others, for a purse, on the Beacon Course, New Jersey, about ten years since, on which occasion he went six miles and eleven hundred yards in an hour, distancing all his competitors. That was his first and only race until the present one.

The Two Mile Race, between Parsalls and Blauvelt, for $200, was won with ease by Parsalls, beating the other out of sight. Time 12:23, for the two miles—at the rate of nearly ten miles an hour.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

IMPROVED HARNESS BUCKLE.—Much peril as well as painful annoyance has resulted from the old fashioned harness buckles by reason of their liability to break or draw out during accidents, which their own defects not unfrequently cause, and also from the difficulty of release to fallen horses, occasioned by the tightening force of the animal's weight.—Christian and Lewis B. Oyster, of Chambersburg, Pa., have jointly claimed an improvement in buckles, which will completely revolutionize the principle of their action, if found applicable as designed by the inventors. It is proposed to dispense entirely with the tongue holes in traces and other straps, and to rivet the tongue to the leather instead of the buckle. The bar of the buckle is furnished with a number of rachet-shape teeth or stops, and corresponding cavities are cut in the tongue, but having reversed catches. The desired length of the trace is adjusted by bringing these teeth together at a given point and securing them with a set screw. The screw puts the unhitching of the horse under the instantaneous control of the driver in cases of falls or other perilous entanglements.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

COLLISION WITH A BEAR. As Mr. Benj. Rogers of Addison was going from Jonesboro to the former place on Tuesday afternoon last, he was met on his way by a large bear, who manifested a very evident unwillingness of extending the usual courtesy of giving half the road, setting himself on his haunches, gnashing his teeth and showing other signs of hostility. Mr. R. being armed with a six barreled revolver discharged two or three shots, taking slight effect in the bear's shoulder, raising his anger to 54—40. R., not liking to let go his remaining shots, thought best to take leg bail, and for a long time it was "hip and tuck," between Rogers and Bruin, but the former being swiftest of foot distanced his bearship, and effected a safe retreat.—Machias Union.

The Massachusetts Arms Company at Chicopee Falls are now constructing, for the British government, a complete set of machinery for doing gun-work. The machines are modelled from those at the Arsenal in Springfield, which every one who has visited there has seen to their astonisment and admiration. They perform the work in the most efficient and perfect manner, going through the various manipulations with automaton exactness, and converting the rough and ill-shaped wood into a finished gun-stock. England, up to the present time, has not had, to any extent, this system of the application of machinery to the construction of firearms.

A commission of army officers, appointed by the British government, recently visited this country, and after witnessing the perfection with which the government gun manufacture was carried on at the Arsenal at Springfield, decided to adopt the system, and have contracted with the company at Chicopee for the requisite machinery. The work is now progressing rapidly, and in the course of a few months the Arms Company will have completed the most elaborate, ingenious and highly finished set of machines ever produced in the United States, if not in the world. This is probably the first machinery (with the exception of a few models of looms, &c.) made in this country for England, and certainly the first ever made for the English government.—Boston Chronicle.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.
PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.
If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.
It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.
Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.
It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.
Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.
Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green
Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1854.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FORTNIGHT IN MAINE.—No. V.

Our fourth letter, we think, left us enjoying ourselves in Augusta. This, the last, must tell our story of getting home. Having had considerable experience in riding and walking in the dust and heat of high noon of warm days, we thought a moonlight ride would be preferable. Accordingly, having sung ourselves into capital spirits, with a company of friends, we roused 'Jerome,' an hour before midnight, and he rigged our team in a jiffy. It was 'a perfect night'—the air balmy and soft, with a full moon shedding a bright yet tranquil light o'er the charming landscape. Yet as we had tested the insidiousness of the night air, our gloves, overcoats and buffalo robe were brought into use, at the start, instead of waiting till we were chilled. The practice of out door laborers, in summer showers, is to work in shirt sleeves till these are wet through, then to put on vests, and when these are soaked to don their coats; and to quit work when all are dripping wet. We prefer to "lay down the shovel and the hoe' sooner—and also to keep warm rather than try to get warm at all times, especially when riding.

Leaving behind us visions of pleasant walks, saddle rides, serenades, &c., we followed the line of the now quiet Kennebec toward the sea.

The grounds at the Capitol are prettily laid out, with gravelled walks; having at the lower edge near the river, a neat white marble monument to ex-Gov. Lincoln. The building and grounds, and all that came within our view, appeared mystical 'by the sweet silver light of the moon.'

Our idea at first was to stop all night in Hallowell, a couple of miles below Augusta; but when we arrived there, we removed our goal to Gardiner, four miles further down the river. Despite all the talk in praise of journeying in a private carriage,—and there are certainly many pleasures and comforts in this means of locomotion, over all others, unless too hurried or too long continued—we say, in spite of all the attractiveness of travelling in this way, it not unfrequently induces sleepiness, even in the midst of scenes most beautiful and admired. This is especially the case, when you have a horse that will safely drive himself, and when the hour is midnight or so. We riders were to hold the ribbons by turns, each while the other slept. We took our watch first; but it was rather quiet business, riding over a smooth road in the moon light, with nobody to talk to or sing with—and we soon joined our friend in his nap. 'The first thing we knew,' we awoke just as our carriage was passing a line of lights on a bridge, at the rate of six or seven miles an hour. The reins were dangling over the whiffle tree, and there was a hat lying against the dasher—with a bare head not far off. By the time we were fairly waked up, and had picked up our duds, we were at the Gardiner Hotel; but while we were considering whether to stop or advance, our horse settled the question by starting—and we did'nt stop him till we arrived in Richmond—twelve miles further down stream, and eighteen miles from Augusta. It being then past two o'clock, we thought a bed would be acceptable; and accordingly aroused the people at the Richmond House. But had we known our quarters, we should have journeyed on to Brunswick, eighteen miles further. The house was full, and we had to put up with one single-bed, in a hall where were six or eight more beds doubly occupied. The night was one of the hottest; but as our bed was nearest a window, we thought we could stand it. But we had hardly pulled the lower sash of the window out—as we could not fasten it up—when a full voice, from the darkness and apparently from a man of six feet or more, said calmly, 'Well, I propose you put that winder in again—I feel the air blowing on me—I've slept here a week, and it ain't hot at all.' We finally compromised with the fellow, and nearly shut the window—not a little pitying the stupidity of a man who preferred to breathe the air from his own and his neighbors' lungs, (compared with which the act so loathed in a dog—mentioned in holy writ, is neat and healthy) rather than to breathe the free air of the outer world, even with the thermometer at perhaps 70°. We wished ourselves riding again; and went to sleep, but could not stand it longer than six o'clock that morning.

Hallowell, Gardiner and Richmond, are built directly on the banks of the Kennebec, with the chief street of each running parallel with the river. It looks a little singular, to see large vessels in course of construction, alternately packed along the shore, between blocks of buildings, on one side of the main thoroughfare of a city; with a complete row of stores and houses on the other. Ship building gives activity to all the towns on this route. Below Gardiner, a mile or two, is the magnificent granite residence of Hallowell Gardiner, from whose name the two towns nearest him took theirs—with grounds beautifully laid out.

Next day, Wednesday, was the hottest in which we ever rode. The thermometer in Yarmouth, six or eight miles inland, told of 102° in the shade. Two livery horses died on the road near us, from heat, and every thing living suffered intensely, including ourselves. Early noon found us at Brunswick, where we were glad to keep close housed till the shadows began to lengthen, when, after a terrific shower of wind and rain, we drove to North Yarmouth. We never before witnessed lightning so vivid, connected and lasting, as on that evening; and about ten o'clock, the rain commenced falling as if all "the gates of heaven were opened" wide. Rain enough fell during this half hour, to dispel all our fears of more dust; as well as to cause us to be thankful that we arrived at the "Dr.'s" just before the shower commenced.

A party of young people we saw at Yarmouth Falls, were intending to enjoy this hot day, by a boat sail, supper, dance, &c.; and had engaged a dancing master to go with them. Considerable grumbling was made, that he did not arrive. He lived a dozen miles off; and it afterwards appeared that after coming half way, he took up an old almanac, at a house where he called, and thinking from that that he was a day too soon, he returned home.

Henry Ward Beecher says that a farm is chiefly useful "to lie down upon." We tried this part of the agricultural business, next day, and found it not bad — laying under a sweet orchard, and partaking thereof. That night and the next two or three days, we spent in the beautiful city of Portland—of which we may have something to say anon. F.

FOREIGN OFFICE HOLDERS.

Our readers may remember that we gave a monstrously incorrect (copied) table of foreign office-holders in this country, some time ago, and afterwards corrected it by giving a table from the N. H. Patriot, which footed up thus:

Americans	3,346
Foreigners	420
Not known	340
Whole number employed	4,106

The Washington Union, in noticing the table, thinks not near enough foreigners are holding office. It says:

The fact proves that the ratio of adopted citizens employed in all the various departments of the general government falls so far below the monstrous exaggerations now circulated in the newspaper press, that we may well wonder that so few of this class of Americans have been employed. Their power at the ballot-box—their general intelligence—their uniform decorum—their value as emigrants in opening up the new territories—and their substantial importance as producers—all conspire to make them worthy, at least, of impartial consideration at the hands of the American people. No battle field that has been illuminated by the American flag has failed to disclose the adopted citizen in the foreground of the picture.

This is excellent gas; but it lacks the sober second thought. National prejudice is a mean affair: but we hesitate not to say, that no intelligent American citizen of foreign birth, will think that ten per cent. of foreign office holders is too small a proportion. Senator Douglas thinks the native born citizens don't understand his legislation: how then can foreigners be expected to do so?

Good men from all countries should be welcomed here: but we see no good reason why we should import our Governors, Presidents or Rulers of any sort. Will any body give us a reason?

Further, the Union goes on very indignantly to say:

They [the foreigners] dig our canals, they help to build our railroads, they man our ships, and they fill various other stations in life in which American citizens are rarely to be found. Here, after all, is the great source of the hatred of the know-nothings to our adopted citizens; and with what little justice?—Would these very know-nothings, proscriptionists as they are—would they undertake the heavy labor eagerly and gratefully undertaken by the adopted citizens? It is not pretended that Americans are willing to work upon our railroads and canals, and yet because the adopted citizen does so he is to be hounded and hunted like a wild beast by the know-nothings.

It is very unfortunate that we "know-nothing" about this new party's tenets. The editor of the Washington Union probably does, judging from his last sentence above. We had supposed that their objects were political—that their idea was, opposition to the Catholic influence, which they deem is becoming too powerful in this country. We were not aware before that the Yankees desired to oust the foreigners from their offices as hewers of wood and drawers of water. How cruel!

DISBANDING OF THE BAY STATE ARTILLERY, BOSTON.—This company was disbanded on Saturday afternoon, by order of the Commander-in-Chief. It will be remembered that they, with two other companies, were officially reprimanded for a disturbance at Long Island, during the visit of the New York Montgomery Guards to Boston. They published a rejoinder to the official document, which reflected rather severely upon the conduct of their superiors, and this, it is supposed, led to their disbandment.—Traveller.

This signifies, that drunken rowdies are not fit for citizen soldiers.

The charge of Judge Morrison was an able and lucid exposition of the duties of Grand Jurors. The afternoon session was taken up principally in calling the Docket. A large number of cases were marked for the Jury.—Basset v. Salisbury Manufacturing Co. is the first case in order Wednesday morning.

☞ The United States District Court, held its session in this city, Sept. 19, 1854. Present, Hon. Matthew Harvey, Judge; Albert R. Hatch, Esq. Clerk; John H, George, Esq. District Attorney; Samuel Tilton, Marshal.

The United States v. 2000 Spruce Logs, &c. is the only case pending in this court.

John H. Slater and James R. Seavey filed their final declaration and were admitted to become citizens of the U. S. Adjourned.

PROFESSOR GURNETTE, with the wonderful INFANT DRUMMER, are to give two of their entertainments, on this and to-morrow evenings. The Professsr announces all sorts of marvellous feats in Chemistry, Magnetism, Hydraulics, Electricity, and Mechanism.—That musical prodigy, the Infant Drummer, has excited great curiosity and interest elsewhere, and will no doubt meet with similar success here. "He plays upon the drum with remarkable precision and correctness, as well as skill and taste, and evinces during his performances an enthusiasm delightfully refreshing to those accustomed to witness the spiritless execution of more experienced performers." See advertisements.

GRAVE STONES AND MONUMENTS.—We published on Monday, a sketch of a Monument to be erected to the memory of Levi Woodbury—correcting some inaccuracies in a similar notice made by a cotemporary last week. This monument was constructed at the stone and marble yard of Mr. Allen Treat, in this city—which is a guarantee for its excellent workmanship. He also built the handsome Weare Monument, erected at Hampton Falls; and has several others, smaller, in course of construction at his yard. There is no necessity for our citizens going abroad for any thing of this kind. We have two good yards here—Mr. Treat's, and Messrs. Mason & Foye's—and it is for the direct interest of purchasers here to patronize them, as well as for the general advantage of our city, to keep as much business at home as possible.

THE GOV. LANGDON.—On Tuesday afternoon, by invitation of Mayor Walker, in company with a large party of ladies and gentlemen, we visited the fine ship Gov. Langdon, where the owners gave a grand levee and collation. Every newspaper in the city was represented on the occasion. The presence of ladies and clergymen was a new feature for such an affair, and their company gave life to the whole party. There can be no good reason why ladies should not always join in such festivities. The company were highly gratified with their reception, and expressed their satisfaction at the appearance of the ship. The Gov. Langdon sails to-day for Mobile.

SCALPED.—Miss Mary Malone, an Irish girl about 19 years of age, was completely scalped yesterday by the entanglemant of her hair in the gearing of a speeder, which she was cleaning while in motion. The scalp was carefully replaced and secured by sutures and adhesive plaster, by Dr. Perkins, in the hope but with little expectation that it may be again united to the parts beneath. There is a standing rule that no operative shall clean any machinery while in motion, but it is so often disregarded and accidents thereby occasioned that it may be well to attach the penalty of dismission from the mills, to every one disobeying this salutary law.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.—While writing this paragraph we hear of a young Englishman, who has nearly if not quite lost his right eye, by the unexpected discharge of a fowling piece from which an attempt was being made to remove the ramrod, which had become fastened in the barrel of the gun, by means of powder put into the muzzle, and ignited by a match dropped in after it, which caused explosion before the parties were fairly out of the way.—Newburyport Herald.

Mr. Barnum and another have given a piece of land worth $7000, in East Bridgeport, to a new Clock Company, who with a capital of $100,000 are about to erect a factory in that place.

No celebrated "Mons. Heavtontetoromenas" working lightning by steam powers; and no other Humbuggery!!

BUT FIRST CLASS DAGUERREIAN LIKENESSES are now put up at BOUTELLE'S SALOON, on Hanover street. Price 50 cents.

Now is your time to come and secure from one to a dozen copies of yourself and each of your friends, ere it shall be too late

25 Cent Daguerreotypes

AT

DAGUERRIAN GALLERY,

No. 8 Daniel Street.

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES

BY STEAM,

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.

Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 25 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoromenas.

NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1ws16

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamship Ottawa at Quebec.

Quebec, Sept. 18.

The steamship Ottawa, from Liverpool Sept. 6, arrived here at three o'clock this afternoon.

The markets indicate that all breadstuffs were cheaper, and there is a reported fall in wheat of four to six shillings per quarter for the week ending Sept. 5.

A despatch from Vienna states that the Emperor of Russia refuses absolutely to give the required guarantee that the Principalities should be evacuated, and the Moniteur of Sunday confirms this despatch. It is said in Vienna that the Emperor of Russia added that he would rather sacrifice his last soldier than to accept such conditions.

Another despatch says that Baron Manteuffel has received the official answer of the Czar to the proposals to recommence negotiations upon the basis stipulated by the Western Powers, and that Russia unequivocally declines to accept the proposals. She will still maintain the offensive.

Advices from Bucharest to the 20th ult. state that Derfest Pasha had arrived in the capital, and that he had issued a proclamation in the name of the Sultan stating that the Austrians would occupy the Principalities as the allies of the Ottoman Porte. All the former privileges of the Principalities would be maintained.

Seventy-one cases of cholera had occurred in the Turkish camp.

VARNA, Aug. 21.—The Britannia has sent all her men in transports to Galatz, and the vessel has been thoroughly cleansed and fumigated. (This is the vessel that suffered so badly from cholera.)

The cholera has abated in the camps of both armies. No new movements had taken place, except that the French were embarking fascines, artillery, &c.

The Ostruduchen Post of 29th ult. announces that it has received a despatch stating that part of the black Sea fleet had quitted the port of Varna; and that that part of the combined fleets now at Baltschik is intended to cruise near Odessa.

A letter from Bucharest says that the Turks are advancing on the Busco road, on which the Russians have been repeatedly worsted by the Bashi-Basooks.

Arrival of the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19, 9 A. M.—The Collins steamer Atlantic, Capt. West, from Liverpool Sept. 6, arrived here this morning, bringing one day later dates than the Ottawa at Quebec.

The unconditional refusal of the Czar to accede to the peace proposals of the four powers, is confirmed.

It is reported that Christina, ex-Queen of Spain, is now insane from the effects of the intense excitement consequent upon the recent revolution in Spain, and the dangers through which she had passed in making her escape.

Cotton is easier, but not quotably lower; the sales for three days previous to the sailing of the Atlantic were 20,000 bales.

Breadstuffs closed rather firmer, but M. Henry's circular quotes a decline.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The steamer Cahawba, from New Orleans 9th inst. and Havana 12th, arrived here this foreneon, bringing about eighty passengers and $138,000 in specie. There was no news of importance at Havana. Gen. Concha was hourly expected there, and the present Governor would remain until he arrived. The city was entirely free from yellow fever when the Cahawba left, and had been so for several days.

Turks Island advices of 5th instant state that there was no salt on the island, except as they made it, and the season being over they would quit on the first fall of rain. Five American vessels were waiting for cargoes of salt, and two more had arrived from Curacoa, reporting none to be had there or at the neighboring islands.

The Trotting Match on the National Course, yesterday, for $5000, between Sam Letcher and Madonna, was won by the former after three severe heats.

Upwards of 4500 immigrants arrived at this port on Saturday.

IOWA.—The official returns show that Clarke, whig, is beaten in the 1st Congressional district of Iowa, by Hall, Nebraska democrat, by a majority of 177 votes. The official vote is, Clarke 11,092, Hall 11,219.

THE CENTRAL AMERICAN QUESTION.—Mr. Buchanan has done nothing towards a settlement of the Central American question, which is the puzzle and reproach of the diplomacy both of Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Squier and Mr. Chatfield went to loggerheads upon it, and were discarded by their respective governments. The Clayton and Bulwer treaty looked "pretty in the book," but worked badly. The Webster-Crampton treaty was still born. Mr. Borland, with full powers, tried his hand upon the subject, and retired in disgust, after abusing and insulting every man in the country with whom he had had intercourse, and revenging himself by the Greytown bonfire—amid the smoke of which Mr. Buchanan will quietly withdraw from the London mission. He himself limited his term of service in the London mission to two years.—Washington Cor. N. Y. Journal Com.

FIGS.—A perfectly developed fig is a rare product for this latitude, yet it is sometimes seen. Mrs. Otis Childs of this city has a tree in luxuriant growth, from which several specimens have recently been taken, one of which we have seen, large, ripe and luscious, and fully equal to any produced in the South. —Springfield Republican.

A heavy butter dealer in Albany, assures the editors of the Express, they may expect plenty of butter from the New York State farmers during the ensuing year.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.
DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for
HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.
The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.
For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.
Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach, and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.
FOR DYSPEPSIA
A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.
FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,
It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is flow quite well.
FOR COSTIVENESS.
One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.
FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,
It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him. and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was reduced to a state of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Tetter, Salt Rheum, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.
FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00.
HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.
This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.
HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinnest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, Bartemus' Patent, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

WISDOM.

Solomon says, "the sluggard is wiser in his own conceit, than seven men who can render a reason,"—and we begin to believe that Solomon herein was not far from right.

The Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D. of Boston, a well known and distinguished conservative clergymen, has lately written a letter of enquiry about slavery, to the Hon. Henry A. Wise, of Virginia; to which Mr. Wise has responded in a letter of some columns of his wisdom, which is published in the papers.—We make a brief extract:—

Your third question shows that your standpoint, sir, don't enable you to judge correctly at all of the inquiries even to be made respecting slavery. Thus:—

"If a slave asserts his liberty, and runs away, do you feel that he ought to be recovered, or has he a natural right to escape if he chooses?"

This question proceeds from a general and radical error among political and moral theorists, who derive their systems from the worst school of English tories. This system is absolute, and not relative, and whilst it pretends to some fictitious natural state of man, it contradicts all nature, and the actual state of his being from the cradle to the grave.

* * * * * * *

Here and in every slave state, the slave may, at any time, and as often as the right is undetermined, sue "in forma pauperis" to obtain his freedom. But he may not run away to obtain it. It is against the law of his social state for him to do so. If he flies from my service to another state, the constitution of the United States guaranties to me his reclamation and extradition. I not only lawfully may, but ought morally to recover his services, if I can. The confederacy binds every man, woman and child in the United States, when lawfully called on to do so, to aid me in his recapture; and, whether called on or not, not to oppose the exercise of my right to capture in a lawful way. If this be not true in respect to our slave laws, the anti-renters in New York, or the "isms," whose name is legion, anywhere, may substitute a lower as well as a higher law for the invasion of any and every description of property. He, the slave, has no natural right to escape; for his social are his natural rights, and the law of his social being forbids his choice to escape. This requires much more elaboration then I can bestow upon it. But Boston needs a lesson on obedience to the laws. A mob has blotted her fair escutcheon. Please leave this question of conscience where the responsibility lies—with the slaveholders—and preach to the people of Boston the absolute necessity of discharging their duty, for which they are responsible to the laws which govern this great community of states, on whose union and harmony the hopes of suffering humanity throughout the world rest. I have an abstract right to acquire any amount of property in my power.—I may of right become, if I can, owner of your land, and independent of the social law, may have as much right to it as you; but that don't authorize me to take your land if I choose. No more has the slave any authority to take his services from his master if he chooses. The social law fixes the conventional right, and that is the right which governs the case in either instance. No Babel-builders of them all so insultingly tower towards Heaven as those who set up a higher law.

Probably we have not one reader who can swallow the above precious piece of balderdash, as being either wise or true. Its insolence is a little beyond almost any thing we have seen. Mr. Adams forsooth, don't know how to ask a question—nevertheless, Mr. Wise, who is also we presume Mr. Gracious, will condescend to instruct him. So now listen!

The Constitution guarantees slavery, and nothing else; therefore every body in Boston must catch negroes when Mr. Wise say stuboy! Boston needs a lesson, and Mr. Wise gives it, thus: We, the slaveholders, will take care of your conscience, while you do your duty as whippers in, at our bidding. There is no right except constitutional right:—from which it follows that slavery is right in Brazil, Polygamy in Utah, Idolatry in Guinea, and Murder among the Thugs.

Let no man presume to dissent from these statements, to rebel at this logic, or to set up any higher law than the conventional law of Henry A. Wise.

But, softly! There was one Thomas Jefferson, of whom perhaps Mr. Wise may have heard, who used to live in Virginia. He was not exactly an English tory; but he got the notion that men had some absolute rights, and that our Creator had made a few laws which were somewhat higher and stronger than any revised statutes or paper constitutions.

Mr. Wise, however, would probably say of Jefferson, as a certain fanatical preacher said of St. Paul. The fanatic had maintained the propriety of women's speaking in church: a hearer said St. Paul did not suffer it. "That's where Paul and I differ," was the answer.—And that's where Wise and Jefferson differ, viz. all the way. Jefferson talks like a man: Wise almost like a fool.

THE POSTSCRIPT.—Mr. Wise appends a postscript to his written letter to Rev. Dr. Adams, which is not published by Mr. Wise in the printed letter. The postcript says,

And I trust that you will understand the whole tenor of what I have written, as not upbraiding you, personally, in the least, but as meaning in this mode to express the exact ideas of our feelings as well as of our opinions in regard to any interference with our slave property.

The italics are Mr. Wise's,—and the idea is plain enough. No man on this earth must speak of slavery, unless he speaks in its favor. We, Mr. Wise & Co. will not permit it.—Therefore Dr. A. padlock your lips when you look toward the South; preach duty to the Bostonians; and above all things ask no questions.

ROASTING NEGROES.—Several cases have recently occurred in the south of burning negroes alive, for murder or other crimes. A negro was recently burned in Montgomery county, Alabama, who it seems had previously murdered his master in another place.—The Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist details the matter as follows:

The negro who committed this murder at Mount Meigs, for which he was burnt, confessed that he had on a previous occasion murdered his then owner in Kentucky, and "that he was run from that State, and afterwards sold in Alabama." These words we have quoted contain the key to many of the arsons, rapes and murders perpetrated by our slaves. The sordid love of money, rising superior to indignation for outrageous villainy and foul murder, has been the means of the escape of many a guilty negro from the gallows. The owner preferred to assist his escape, in order to save his value in dollars and cents, to the discharge of his duty to the community, by delivering him up to condign punishment.

EMANCIPATION.—According to the following paragraph, one of Cassius M. Clay's emancipated slaves was not essentially benefitted by his master's generosity:—Dr. Daniel Parker, colored, formerly a slave of Cassius M. Clay, has been arrested at Hamilton, Ohio, while en route for Canada, charged with the murder of George L. Burton, also colored.—Subsequently Parker's house at Cheriot, Ohio, alleged to have been a resort for bad men and worse women, was attacked by a mob and his family dispersed.

Served him right: but why don't somebody go into fits because a mob did it? Why was not the militia called out? And why don't somebody infer that all men ought to be slaves, because some freemen commit murder? And (once more,) why do we not also infer, vice versa, that all men ought to be free, because some slaves are murderers?

A CANDID POLITICIAN.—James W. T. McAllister, of Philadelphia, declines being a candidate for the Legislature on the ground that the per diem is too small, and adds:

As my notions of honor and honesty would deprive me of the principal revenue of legislators, to wit, bribery, I should receive but $3 per day for the hundred days, and the very questionable honor of being a Pennsylvania legislator—a title which (if the press of this city is to be believed) is synonymous with villain.

ALMANACS FOR '55.—We have just received, from Fowlers & Wells, publishers, New York, copies of the illustrated Phrenological and Water Cure Almanacs; each of which contains a variety of matter interesting to every enquirer after knowledge; the Phrenological Almanac has about twenty portraits of distinguished characters and strange races; and the Water Cure has illustrative cuts, describing respiration in plants and animals.

"THE WHISTLE."—A New York correspondent of the Newburyport Herald says:—"The efforts to raise a furore about Grisi and Mario are a failure. The American people have pretty much survived their rage for foreign artistes, and money is too tight to pay such extravagant prices for Italian music, as but few can understand or appreciate it."—Better spend the money to disseminate musical knowledge among the people generally.

CLOSING STORES.—During the coming winter, the proprietors of all the clothing establishments in the city of Charlestown, Mass., have agreed to close their stores at 7 o'clock, every evening except Saturdays—to commence October 1st. We hope this is the first step in a movement that will in time embrace all traders.

"THREE CHEERS FOR THE PROTESTANT LADIES."—On Sunday, recently, during the high mass at twelve, in the village of Glentariff, Ireland, three ladies of the Protestant faith were obliged to take shelter from a heavy shower. The officiating priest, knowing who they were, and wishing to appear respectful to them, stooped down to his attendant who was on his knees, and whispered to him, "Three chairs for the Protestant ladies." The clerk, who was rather an ignorant man, stood up and shouted out to the congregation, "Three cheers for the Protestant ladies!" which the congregation immediately took up, and gave three hearty cheers, while the clergyman stood dumb founded.

This is an old story: we are glad somebody has picked it up and sent it out as good as new.

COAL.—The Miners' Journal predicts that the price of coal will not fall the present season, unless all reliable calculations as to the increase required for this year should prove to be unfounded, and unless the price of coal freights should fall. It says the article respecting "combinations" which appeared Sept. 2d was written by a person connected with the trade, and was inserted during the absence of the editor. The more the subject of the coal supply is examined, the more desirable it appears, that the duties should be removed from English coal.

LIBEL SUIT NON-SUITED.—The Boston Bee states that the libel suit brought against the publishers of that paper some time since, by a Catholic priest belonging to Saxonville, laying damages at $10,000, came before the Middlesex C. C. P. at East Cambridge last week, when the plaintiff was non-suited.

LIGHTNING.—We had a smart shower on Tuesday night, a little past midnight, accompanied with heavy thunder and sharp lightning. A house was struck, in the suburbs of this city, not far from Breakfast Hill. The house was a one story building, formerly occupied by Andrus Julian, and now by James L. Smith. Mr. Smith and wife were in bed in the Eastern room when the thunder became violent; at which time his mother came from the opposite room and desired him to remove his gun which stood in the entry between the rooms. He did so, putting it in a corner of his own room; when his wife desired him to cover up the gun. He complied with this request also, by throwing over it a quilt which he took from the bed, on which he instantly lay down again, contrary to the wish of the mother, who was much frightened.

From this moment he remembers nothing, till he found his mother and sister by his bedside, endeavoring to restore him to consciousness, which soon returned. The lightning had struck the chimney, which was in the centre of the house; and thence passed down both sides of the roof, tearing off boards and shingles from a piece as wide as a man's hand. Rending the eave on the north side, it took a post, stove down the front door, and passed off. On the south side, it also went down on a post, stripped it of its ceiling, split off the headboard of the bedstead whereon Mr. Smith and his wife were, passed under the bed, destroying various articles there, and thence into a storeroom where it broke crockery, and among other miscellaneous mischief, plastered a pound of tallow candles to the wall, where they adhered till taken off in the morning.

Mrs. Smith was unhurt, and her husband only stunned as above: they were on a feather bed, which was probably the means of their salvation. The gun was untouched, with its cover, though almost every thing else in the room was turned topsy-turvy.

The mother, having stepped into the other room, with the sister, was also unhurt; tho' the spot she had just left was swept as with the besom of destruction.

This must be set down in the catalogue of providential hair-breadth escapes from death.

The Messenger says a new barn in Brentwood, owned by Mr. Simon Gordon, containing twenty tons of hay, a yoke of oxen, a cow, and all his farming tools, was struck by lightning, fired, and consumed with all its contents.—Loss $2000; insured $200.

THE INFANT DRUMMER paid us a little visit yesterday, appearing as a well behaved child of five years should, without undue forwardness or awkward timidity. He wore suspended from his neck an elegant and costly gold medal, given him by the legislature of his native State, Georgia. Afterwards we returned the call, at his rooms, where he gave us a few fine touches of his quality as a drummer.

It is remarkable, not merely that he is a wonderful drummer for such a child, but that he is a drummer of wonderful exactness, spirit and force of expression, without regard to age. Turn your back upon him, and the rattle of his spirit stirring drum will awaken all your slumbering military fire. You turn round to look at the veteran drummer who wakes such musical echoes,—and you see a delicate little boy with light complexion and fair hair, brandishing his sticks in hands apparently inadequate to produce such effects.

He has fine musical talent generally; and this particular development of the drumming faculty was perceived at the age of three months, when an elder brother beat a toy drum such as children commonly use. He was suffered to take the sticks as soon as he could hold them; and at eight months old, he beat to the admiration of all hearers. He now beats, in perfection, as to time, and in all other respects, as far as we can judge, the whole round of tunes used by the best practised bands; imitates the sounds of railway locomotives, to the entire deception of the ear; and pleases an entire audience, no matter whether composed of grave or gay, young or old. He performs in this city, this afternoon and evening.

☞ We mentioned in Tuesday's paper, the death of a lady at Rye (Atlantic) beach, on Monday, as was reported by drowning. We now learn that the person was Mrs. Dana, a widow lady, of Boston, and that she was not drowned. She had been in the habit of lying down on the beach for the surf to pass over her, and did so at the time referred to. Other ladies, her companions, saw her do so; but as she lay longer than they expected, they went to her and found her dead, not drowned, but probably from heart disease, or rush of blood to the head.

DAUGHTERS OF FREEDOM.—A meeting was holden in this city last evening to organize a Division of Daughters of Freedom, similar to those in existence in our sister state of Maine, which have done much to bring about the glorious result exhibited in the returns of the election on the 11th inst. We understand it is proposed to have a state convention of the order in this city some time in October, when Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, the corresponding Secretary of the order in Maine, and many of the Maine Daughters are expected to be present.—Messenger.

☞ The city is constructing a Reservoir in Austin street, near Cabot. It is circular, about twenty feet in diameter, and twenty feet deep, and will contain twenty-five thousand gallons, more or less—similar to that on Market Square.

NEWBURYPORT PUBLIC LIBRARY.—A movement is on foot in Newburyport, to institute a Library for the free use of all the inhabitants of that city, Newburyport and West Newbury. Josiah Little heads the subscription list with $5000, and is followed by Chas. Jackson with $50. The city government has the matter under consideration.

JUMPED OVERBOARD.—One of the crew of the ship Gov. Langdon, a black man, after getting his advance, got sick of his bargain, and attempted to escape by jumping from the ship to the wharf. He was seized and put aboard again. When the ship got into the river, he took an idea that his life was in danger, and jumped overboard to keep clear of harm. He was picked up by a boat near by, and by the time he reached the ship he had nearly shivered his fear out of his mind.

PRICE OF A KISS.—In the Police Court, yesterday afternoon, a gentleman was arraigned and fined $6.90, for kissing a buxom Irish lass without permission.

This is higher than the Courts generally have fixed the price of a stolen kiss.—Newburyport Herald.

COMB MAKING.—A new and improved machine for cutting horn combs, has recently been made by Daniel H. Smith of Newburyport. It is compact in form, highly finished, and is said by those who are familiar with the business, to embrace an important saving in stock, time, and labor. Messrs. L. A. Emery & Co. of West Newbury, will have the machine in operation at their manufactory, in a few days, where those interested can have an opportunity of inspecting it.—Newburyport Herald.

SERIOUS FAMILY QUARREL.—Mrs. Lavina Brown, of Concord, was arraigned before the Police Court on Monday for a murderous assault upon her husband, Benja. F. Brown. In a quarrel on Saturday, she struck him with an axe, cutting a deep gash six inches in length just above the eye on the side of his head. She says he was intoxicated and abused her, and upon his coming towards her to renew the assault with a club, she raised the axe in self defence, without thinking to injure him seriously. She was held to bail in the sum of $200, and has returned home to nurse him. It is doubtful whether he can survive.—N. H. Patriot.

The Yellow Fever is increasing at New Orleans. During the week ending 10th inst. the total number of deaths was 484, of which 284 were from fever.

Amongst the recent victims of the disease at Savannah were Capt. Plenstead, Cashier of the Marine Bank, and Dr. Harris.

Friday next has been appointed as a day of humiliation and prayer at Charleston.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—The New Orleans Courier says that the yellow fever is incresing in malignity, that a greater number of persons were lying at the Charity Hospital, and that the mortality was increasing in private practice. The deaths at the hospital for three days numbered ninety-five.

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—Col. North, special agent of the Post Office Department, arrested this day, N. C. Nelson, Postmaster of Keesville, Essex county, on a charge of robbing the mail. Nelson was brought to Troy and will be examined before U. S. Commissioner Beach. He is editor of the democratic paper at Keesville, and son of Dr. Wolford Nelson, of the Canadian Patriot war memory.

POCKET BOOK LOST.—Lost on Tuesday, a Pocket Book containing papers of no value except to the owner. Any person finding the same and will return it to the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded. THOS. D. BAILEY.

New York, Sept. 19.—The packet ship Yorktown, from London, is detained at quarantine below this port, having lost 21 of her passengers by cholera on the passage.

The steamship Atlantic, which arrived here from Liverpool this morning, had a tremendous hurricane from 10th to 13th, and had starboard paddle-box, cutwater, &c., carried away. In three days she made but 115 miles.

The steamship Benjamin Franklin, which had been in charge of the U. S. Marshal on an allege d connection with an expedition against Venezuela, cleared to-day for St. Thomas.

Ship Isaac Bell, which arrived to-day from Liverpool, had nineteen deaths from cholera among the passengers.

Ship St. Petersburg, from Havre, which arrived this evening, had forty-five deaths by cholera amoung her passengers.

Mr. Holbrook, employed by the New Haven Railroad Company, has traced every fraudulently issued certificate of stock to its present possessor. The services of this gentleman have been, we learn, secured by the Committee of Investigation now sitting in inquiry into the affairs of the Erie Railroad Company.

Samuel Nichols, one of the editors of the Sunday Mercury, died this morning from injuries received by the cars of the Third Avenue Railroad running over him last night.

Faint hopes are now entertained of Bishop Weinwright's recovery. His symptoms have taken an exceedingly unfavorable turn.

Philadelphia, 18th.—Democratic Meeting.—There was a tremendous outpouring of numbers at the Democratic gathering this evening, and the proceedings were enthusiastic in the extreme. The delegates marched in procession with torch-lights, banners, &c. from the various wards to Independence square, which presented a beautiful appearance, the platform being illuminated by gas lights and decorated with flags. John Robbins, jr. presided at the principal stand, and Benj. Rush at the second stand. A series of resolutions were read from both stands and adopted.

Baltimore, 18th.—The Yellow Fever.—There was a great panic at Augusta, Ga. on account of the fever breaking out there.—Three deaths from fever occurred on Saturday. The physicians at Savannah think that the worst is past. There is a great want, however, of provisions and nurses to attend the sick.

The deaths at Charleston for the last two days, were 29. Among the victims is Robert S. Soule, of Freeport, Me. mate of ship Lydia.

Mr. Hilton, editor of the Savannah Georgian, has recovered.

New Orleans papers of Wednesday, contain Galveston dates to the 10th. The yellow fever continued to prevail.

Columbia, S. C. 18th.—The Fellow Fever.—The deaths by yellow fever yesterday at Savannah were 33. Passengers from Augusta report that the yellow fever had broken out there violently, and that the inhabitants are leaving. The weather is quite cool.

On the night of Sunday, the 3d, six negro men were drowned in the Shenandoah, near Barker's Landing, in Clarke co., Va. They had gone over in the morning to a groggery on the mountain, where it is supposed they became more or less intoxicated. Attempting to cross the river, on their return, in a small boat, they were all drowned.

It is thought the shock of the supposed earthquake, which was felt on the evening of the 13th in Wilmington, Del. was occasioned by the explosion of a vessel loaded with gunpowder which had left a wharf in that city, for sea, on the afternoon of that day.

The Adventists have been holding a series of meetings at Syracuse, N. Y. and have now fixed on the 19th of May, 1855, as the day when the world will positively come to an end.

Pittsburg, 18th:—The Cholera.—There were 53 deaths by cholera to-day up to this evening, and for the past five days 253. Interments in cemeteries to Saturday evening 171, of which 129 were of cholera. Great alarm is felt, and many persons are leaving the city.

Portland, Sept. 20.—The returns from the remote towns have been gradually reducing Morrill's majority, and it is now thought he will lack about 1000 votes of an election by the people.

Washington, Sept 16.—I am informed upon adequate authority, that no treaty for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands has been received, and that no material progress has been made in the negotiation, so far as indicated by despatches received since May last, when the conclusion of the treaty was prevented by the opposition of the agents of the French and English governments.—Correspondence of the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.

The late riot at New Orleans.—The New Orleans papers mention that the riot in that city originated in a quarrel between the citizens and some watchmen. The latter being mostly Irishmen, their cause was taken up by their fellow countrymen. An irregular fight, in which muskets and pistols were freely used, was kept up during the whole of Monday night. The American party assembled in front of the City Hall and marched to the foreign quarter of the city, where the battle raged very violently. The accounts in the papers are conflicting.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 17.—At Savannah on Wednesday, there were 35 deaths, and on Thursday 34 from yellow fever. It was Bishop Barron, and not Gartland, who died.

At Charleston, on Friday, there were 18 deaths from fever. Mr. Carroll of the Courier was sick with fever on Saturday, and fears were entertained respecting his recovery.

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—The river has risen several feet above here, and we expect a rise here of two or three feet, which will make it four feet deep to Louisville.

At a meeting of the creditors of Messrs. G. P. Putnam & Co. yesterday, it was agreed to give the house an extension and allow them to go on with their publications. The liabilities were represented at $80,000.—N. Y. Mirror, 16th.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California by Dr. Kelley, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure a Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had tumors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS,
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers Name.

HIGH PRICES OF PROVISIONS.—Housekeepers must feel specially interested to know whether the high prices which they are now compelled to pay for the commodities daily required for the kitchen, are likely to continue and whether these enormous rates are caused by a scarcity of the articles in question, or owe their existence to tricks of speculation. In relation to this inquiry we beg leave to call the attention of the public to the following facts: Butter is now selling in the Boston markets at 30 cents a pound. This is a sort of "famine price," and can be justified only by the existence of an extreme scarcity of the article. Now we have ascertained that during the week ending on Friday last there arrived in Boston from the country by the railroads alone no less than three hundred and fifty-six tons of butter. Can any man believe that with this abundant supply there can be any other means of keeping up the present exorbitant prices than by forestalling and conspiracy, similar to what we see practiced by the coal miners of Pennsylvania? Everybody knows that butter cannot be exported with profit at the prices which it has commanded for months past, and the domestic market is its only vent. It is evident on the very face of the matter that the high rates now prevailing are altogether artificial, and cannot be supported, if the public act upon the knowledge of this fact, and use the means which lie within their reach to remedy this growing evil.—Boston Courier.

An extraordinary abduction took place in the city of Natchez recently. A little boy, two years old, the son of Mr. Pasbach, of that city, was stolen from its mother by a man named Drury, living twelve miles from Natchez. When the human theft was discovered, a party of armed men followed to the rescue, and arrived at Drury's house late in the night. They found all parties in bed, the little abducted fellow sleeping soundly and easily between Drury and his wife! The man was incarcerated in Natchez jail, and the child returned to its mother. Mr. Pasbach, however, on learning that Drury was drunk when he kidnapped the child, and that he was an honest and industrious man of good character, abandoned the prosecution, and the man was set free. The singular reason assigned by him for taking the child while intoxicated was, that himself and wife had been long married, were without offspring, and he had determined upon the possession of a baby "by hook or crook!"—Charleston Courier.

ANOTHER HERO GONE.—Mr. Daniel Ames, aged one hundred years, one month and ten days, died at Montville, Ct., Aug. 29. He was at the battle of Bunker Hill, where he was badly wounded, and was engaged in other patriotic services during the war. He was present when Arnold sacked and burned New London, and many daring and gallant adventures are recorded of him during the day. His health, memory, and other faculties, physical and mental, with the exception of his vision, were good till within a few months of his decease.

THE FAMILY OF THE LATE PRESIDENT TAYLOR.—A paragraph is going the rounds of the newspapers, stating that all of the family of the late President Zachary Taylor are dead—the veteran General, his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Bliss, and Colonel Bliss. The National Intelligencer says that there is at least one error in this statement. Mrs. Bliss is not dead, and a short time since, when on a visit to Washington, was in the enjoyment of excellent health.

It appears from the semi-annual report of the Chief of Police of New York, that over 25,000 persons were arrested in that place for criminal offences, during the six months ending with the month of June, being an increase of 2674 over those of the previous six months, and an increase of 7397 over those of the corresponding period last year.

The Rhode Island State Fair, at Providence, closed on Saturday evening. The cash receipts were a little over $3000. Last year they were $3700.

The American Board, now in session at Hartford, after keeping up the discussion of the Choctaw Slave question nearly two days, decided not to continue its connection with that Mission, unless it abolishes slavery, and permits 'abolitionists' to reside there.—Boston Mail.

Dr. George Buchanan of Hillsdale, Ohio, who had been celebrated for administering morphine largely to his patients, came to his end recently, by taking an over dose of his favorite medicine.

During the late gale at Squam Village, N. J., the meadows were inundated and two hundred head of cattle lost, they having been washed into Barnegat Bay by the sea.

REBUKES.

The New Hampshire Patriot, speaking of the Maine election, says,

It will be seen that the Democratic candidate has more than twice as many votes as the whig candidate. The "rebuke" which our whig papers say the people of Maine have administered, seems therefore to apply with double force to the whigs, and yet their papers are rejoicing over it!

Well said, and true; it does seem so; but that is all. The grand rebuke in Maine, this time, is administered to the present national administration, because it gave its influence, and thus repealed the Missouri compromise line. True democracy is not rebuked there. The Democratic Party in Maine is only rebuked so far as it is supposed to be identified with that act. The northern whigs in congress were not so identified; and therefore the Maine whig papers do not seem to feel rebuked at all, but as the Patriot truly says, they rejoice over it. If they like it, and the Patriot likes it also, it must be one of those lucky hits that suits every body.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The attempt to reorganize the Democratic party on the basis of opposition to the Know Nothings existing here has been made. To-night a mass meeting was held at Camset's saloon, and consisted of between five and six hundred persons.—Postmaster Barrett was appointed President, together with a large number of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries. The Committee on Business presented a preamble and resolutions, of which the following is the spirit:—

Whereas, The Democratic party had ever striven to maintain the guarantees of the Constitution in its purity, and whereas, a certain organization had sprung up, having for its object the curtailment of the rights of adopted citizens, therefore

Resolved, That the Democratic party will wage unceasing war upon the secret organizations known as the Know Nothings, and, for that purpose, will form a National Democratic Association; that we will forget political antecedents and cordially unite with the Whigs; and we invite the Whigs and all others to join us in our efforts. That we have confidence in the integrity and wisdom of President Pierce's administration, and that all Know Nothings will be removed from place under the administration, &c.

Upon taking the vote upon these resolutions, the nays were decidedly in the ascendant, but, notwithstanding, they were declared to be passed.

Mr. Florence of Philadelphia was then introduced and received with groans and cries of "water." He waited some moments, but no disposition to hear him speak being exhibited, he retired.

Some of the speakers on the stand assailed the Know Nothings in the most violent manner. After considerable "sharp shooting" between the crowd and the speakers on the stand, both being indiscreet, the meeting adjourned to Friday afternoon—nothing having been done except the appointment of the officers and the passage of the resolutions.

The meeting is a matter of much importance, as from all the movements connected with it, the appointment of officers, resolutions, &c, it has the favor of the administration; and it is the commencement of the rolling of the Democratic Presidential ball. The disturbance was created by not more than thirty persons, and could not be considered a party movement of those politically opposed to the objects of the meeting.

Attorney General Cushing is preparing to carry the Booth case, on which the Supreme Court of Wisconsin decided against the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Law, up to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Treasury department has commenced a suit against Beverly C. Sanders, late collector at San Francisco, for an alleged balance of $20,000 due to the general government.

New York Whigs.—The whig state convention, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 20, at Syracuse, on the third ballot nominated Hon. Myron H. Clark, of Ontario, as candidate for governor, and Henry J. Raymond, of New York, for lieutenant governor, by acclamation, after an informal ballot.

A committee was appointed to report Resolutions.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—The General Convention of Universalists of the United States assembled this morning at the Lombard Street Church, and organized by the election of the Rev. Gordon F. Mason, of Pennsylvania, as Moderator; A. R. Abbott, of Rhode Island, Stated Clerk; Richard Eddy, of New York, Assistant.

Delegates are present from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Maryland. The Convention adjourned at 10 o'clock to the Musical Fund Hall, where the occasional sermon was preached by the Rev. T. B. Taylor.

Maine Election.—The vote for Governor of Maine, which is the only matter of interest now,—as the result with regard to the Legislature and members of Congress have become 'fixed facts,'—has become so close as to be rather interesting. The Portland Advertiser has returns from eleven additional plantations, principally in the Aroostook region, which give for Reed 354, Parris 372, Morrill 58, and Cary 70. Mr. Morrill's majority in 365 cities, towns and plantations, is 359, which is rather a close fit.

Fire.—On Tuesday night Sept. 19, a fire took place in New York, destroying a large building which extended from 598 Broadway, to Crosby street. Loss by the fire not less than $125,000.

Get as Much Liquor as they Want.—The Providence Tribune, alluding to the triumphant air with which many young men get off the saying, 'I can get as much liquor as I want,' says:

And what a noble start these young men are getting in the world! What noble citizens they will make, by and by! What a glorious thing for them, and for us, and for our children and their children, in the long future, that they can just get as much liquor as they want, now that they are just starting in life! How pleasant to contemplate their progress along the world's pathway! They have begun to earn for themselves names that shall dazzle the world with brightness! And their first step was to convince their associates that they were without honor!

They have learnt to love rum. They will deny this, of course, but the fact is plain enough. They drink rum, or wine, because they love it—or at least, because they love its excitement. They love the excitement and conviviality that it produces in others. They like jovial company. As they proceed, their likes will grow stronger; and they will dislike, nay, hate and loathe the dull monotony of a temperate life—the only happy life for the man who has not corrupted his habits and appetites.

The New Orleans Riot.—New Orleans papers of Thursday last have been received. The riots were not finally repressed on Tuesday as has been reported. Early on Wednesday morning a party of Americans visited a coffee house kept by Timothy Duffy, which they completely demolished. John Cane was dragged out of the house by the mob, and is believed to have been murdered, as he has not yet been found. John Porter, an Irishman, was shot dead in the street by a concealed assassin; and Barney Boylan, another Irishman, was wounded. The military were under arms while this was taking place, but the mob had done its work before they could be called to the scene of action. The papers strongly condemn the Mayor and police for the continuance of the riot. Up to a late hour on Wednesday night all was quiet.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Between two and three o'clock this morning, a building temporarily occupied as a magazine for fireworks was struck by lightning, and a tremendous explosion immediately ensued. It was utterly destroyed with all its contents, and two men who were sleeping on the premises were instantly killed. The loss of property is about $2500.

The Catholic Press on Dr. Brownson.—Thomas Sweeney, Boston, has just published in pamphlet form, the notices that have appeared in the various Catholic papers in regard to Brownson's Review. The pamphlet has the following title: "Brownson's Review Reviewed: being a mild and vigorous vindication of the rights and privileges of adopted citizens against the assaults and aspersions of Dr. Orestes A. Brownson, by the Catholic Press of the United States." It is quite evident that Dr. Brownson is not regarded with much favor among the Catholics out of New England, if the press of that faith, in any way reflects the sentiments of the people in the Middle and Western States.

We are informed that potatoes have fallen from one dollar to about two shillings per bushel. If so, we suppose we are considerably poorer than we thought for. We had ground enough planted over to yield about ten or fifteen bushels, which at $1 per bushel were somewhat valuable; but at two shillings they are not worth bragging about. They may do to eat, however. Taters will be plenty, yet, as the tops are green and the bottoms are growing.—Meredith Bridge, N. H. Democrat.

An English case of attempting to defraud an Insurance Company.—In London, lately, a silversmith named Henry W. Hall, was tried on an indictment charging him with setting fire to a dwelling house with intent to defraud an insurance company. The evidence was circumstantial but conclusive. He was insured for $4000, and it was shown that he had removed his family and most of his property from the house, purchased shavings and made every preparation for the nefarious act. A fire inquest first established the fact of its being an incendiary fire, and when, the accused sent in his claim the insurance companies made further investigations, which led to his arrest and conviction. The Court sentenced him to transportation for life.

A Hard Case.—About a week ago the police arrested Adolph Nahmer, a german, on suspicion that he had stolen a coat which he was bearing away on his arm. They locked him up and kept him in jail until yesterday, when they took him before the Police Court to answer a charge of stealing a coat from some person unknown. The poor fellow did answer it, and with an emphasis which astonished the officers. He placed upon the stand a gentleman who swore that he gave the German the coat, and who went farther and described the defendant as a man of culture, a lawyer in his own country, and an honest man everywhere. Nahmer was discharged.—Boston Courier, 20th.

Another "Combination."—The Salem Gazette says that there is a combination of farmers in that vicinity who will furnish milk the coming winter at five cents a quart. This is two cents a quart less than the milkmen charge.

Court of Common Pleas—Sept. Term.

Thursday, Sept. 21.—Drew vs. Towle—Action on promissory Notes—Verdict ordered; to be carried up to the Superior Court.

The Grand Jury presented bills against Daniel Roberts, George Tripp, John F. Stevens, and Jacob Elliott of Raymond; John Alexander of Londonderry; Charles Carr, H. G. O. Rundlett, and Reuben A. Prescott, of Epping, for selling liquor; and against Henry Danielson and Wm. Downs of Portsmouth, and Geo. W. Varnum of Auburn, for assault and battery.

The trial of the liquor cases come on Friday morning at the opening of court.

Several other bills were presented, which have not yet been announced.

Board of Aldermen.—The quorum having arrived from Boston, a full board of Aldermen was present last evening, the Mayor in the chair. The evening was mainly devoted to the consideration of bills, and other business of immediate importance to individuals, but of no interest in a report for the public.

☞ The Infant Drummer is to give another entertainment this evening at the Temple, where we trust a full house will reward his uncommon musical powers, correct execution and good taste. No competent judge of such performances can fail to be pleased with the beats of this juvenile drummer.

Christian Steadfastness.—The latest number of the Universalist Pulpit, published by J. M. Usher, contains an able Sermon on the Duty of Steadfastness in the Christian Profession; by Rev. Lemuel Willis. The Sermon is prefaced by a Biographical Notice of the author, from the pen of Rev. Otis A. Skinner; and ornamented with an excellent engraved likeness of Mr. Willis, as a frontispiece. It is for sale in this city by J. P. Morse.

☞ A regular meeting of the Mercantile Library Association will be held this evening. All the members are requested to attend.

Apples.—Mr. George Coleman, of Newington, has left us some handsome Nonsuch apples. They average one hundred to a bushels. He said they would be fine for eating, in three or four weeks—but we fear they won't last so long as that here.

☞ The Herald says that during the thunder shower of Tuesday night, the house of Mr. Moses A. Currier, in Newburyport, near the ship yards, was struck, the chimney top thrown down, and the house around the walls and chimney much shattered. Damage estimated from $100 to $200. No person was injured, though a person just rising from the bed with one foot on the floor, received a severe temporary paralizing shock.

A Long Absence.—A man formerly belonging in this city, returned home yesterday, after an absence of forty-two years. He left a wife, and child one year old, behind, and when he returned, he found his daughter the mother of twelve children, some of whom are married. His wife lived a widow, as she supposed, over twenty years, and married again some twenty years since, and now resides here.—Salem Journal, 20th.

DAGUERRIAN GALLERY,

No. 8 Daniel Street.

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES BY STEAM,

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents. Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 25 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoromenas.

NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1w sep8

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his highly-finished, life-like, artistic pictures. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Fedusal and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

NEW YORK.—The Metropolitan Theatre,—erected on the site of Tripler Hall,—on Broadway, N. Y. was opened on Monday night.—"Nearly six thousand tickets were sold," but "the shuffling and rowdyism in the vestibule was so great that hundreds after hundreds went away without an opportunity to get even a glimpse of the brilliant audience or the capacious stage." There was an opening address, the singing of national odes by the company followed, and the Mirror says the "chorus was well enough, but the Star Spangled Banner solo was execrable. The singer had about as much idea of time as of eternity, and of tune as of heaven." The play was the "Lady of Lyons," in which Miss Dean and Mr. Eddy sustained the principal parts. Hon. John M. Botts, of Virginia, had his pocket picked of eight hundred dollars. He was not aware of his loss until nearly an hour afterwards, but police officer Allison had observed the operations of the thief, and arrested him with the money in his pocket, which was restored to its owner. The accused was committed for trial. He gave his name as Williams, and states that he is a joiner by trade, eighteen years of age.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The building No. 598 Broadway was destroyed by fire last night. It was occupied by John L. Weston, dealer in French looking glasses; and Messrs. Orade, Kemp & Co., manufacturers of syrups, &c. Two other buildings adjoining were much damaged by fire and water, and the Metropolitan Hotel, Niblo's Garden, and Freemason's Hall, which are all in the immediate vicinity of the burning building, were at one time in imminent danger. The total loss is about $80,000, on which there is partial insurance.

The four miles race on the National Course, Long Island, yesterday, between Little Flea, One Eyed Joe, and Highlander, resulted in favor of Little Flea, in the extraordinary time of seven minutes and thirty five seconds, or one minute and fifty four seconds each mile!

AWFUL SCENES AT SAVANNAH.—The subjoined private letter from a gentlemen in Savannah to his brother in Philadelphia, will show the terrible condition of things:—

I have but a moment to write, to let you know that ——— and myself are alive, every man in the store having deserted us in consequence of the epidemic. We are determined to stay and take our chances, to see the city out of it. I enclose our report of interments yesterday (51) out of a population of not over 3500 white people. Interments for the week, 210. Everything is in an awful state, and death and destruction stare us in the face every where. The gale was enough to have ruined us at most times, and now all that is required to fill our cup is a fire. We work night and day, and spend our money as if it was public property, for the benefit of the sick and destitute, and you cannot begin to imagine what distress prevails here. We cannot procure coffins enough to bury the dead, and to-day all the house carpenters in town have quit every thing else, and gone to making them. Our own citizens have to take the spade and dig graves. It is really awful. Be satisfied that we are all doing our duty, and hope God will help us to do good.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT AT CLINTON.—Mr. David Haskell, of the firm of D. & W. H. Haskell, grocers, of Clinton, went into his cellar to draw some patent oil for a customer, but through mistake he drew from the wrong barrel and furnished the customer with burning fluid instead. Discovering his mistake immediately Mr. H. proceeded to the cellar, taking a lantern upon his arm, and commenced withdrawing the bung from the fluid barrel for the purpose of pouring back what he had taken. On the instant that the bung was removed the vapor from the fluid barrel came in contact with the flame in the lantern, setting the fluid on fire and exploding the barrel. Mr. Haskell was thrown to the farther end of the cellar by the explosion, and his clothes, saturated with the burning fluid, were set on fire, but he made his escape to the room above and thence into the street, where he threw himself upon the ground in an agony of torture. With much difficulty the flames were extinguished by covering him with dirt, but he was so badly burned that he is not expected to recover. The store of the Messrs. Haskell was set on fire, but by the active exertions of the excellent fire department of Clinton and of the citizens generally, it was speedily got under, but not without considerable damage to their stock.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure NursingSoreMouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.
